ERESTS GUNN

First Families of Chicago BY THE GENEALOGIST

The Hamills descend from a Baron O'Hamill of Ireland and include in their British lines many noted families of the old and warlike nobility. One of the forebears was a soldier in the wars of the crusades, and it is related that the army was at the point of dying of thirst in the desert when he discovered an oasis and revived their strength with the news of help at hand.

Some of the families say he was very tall and could see farther than his fellows, but others declare that he climbed a palm tree and spied out the land from that vantage ground. These last point to the crest of the palm tree which was granted to the family as a memorial of the service. Originally intended only as a crest, it has been used as a coat of arms by many descendants since that day.

Robert Hamill married Martha Beckett and had a son, Joseph, born in 1778, and, marrying Margaret Small, went to Xenia, O., to live. They had a son, Robert C. Hamill, born 1803, died 1886, who became a physician, came to Chicago in 1852 and founded the Presbyterian Hospital.

Dr. Hamill married Eliza Jane Davison, daughter of Andrew Davison and Rebecca Todd, daughter of James Todd and Janice Buchanan of Kentucky. Janice was the daughter of John Buchanan, who died in Tennessee, in 1791, and James Todd was the son of a Scot of Belfast, Ireland.

The children of Dr. Hamill were Charles D., Theophilus Wyllie (he married Mary Stearns and had Ernest A.; Louise, who married Alexander A. Waller, and Ralph C., who married Margaret Hunt and has Margaret, Ralph and Hunt) Julia D., who married Dr. Charles Clark and had Anna, Monroe and had one child, Henry Stanton Clark; Frank and Ernest A. Hamill.

Charles D. Hamill, son of Dr. Robert Hamill, died January 14, 1905, after an interesting life that started with his acting as a messenger boy and ended as a patron of music and the other arts. He married Fannie Walbridge, christened Susan Frances, daughter of Judge Henry Sanford Walbridge, who was born in Norwich, Conn., April 8, 1801, and died January 27, 1869, in Bergen Tunnel, N. Y. He married, July 20, 1836, Fannie Thompson, who was born February 21, 1811, in Stillwater, N. Y., and died July 12, 1862, the daughter of William Thompson and Mary Hawkins.

Judge Walbridge was a Whig member of Congress from 1851 to 1854. He was the son of Gustavus Walbridge, born in Norwich, Conn., October 4, 1755, and died in Syracuse, N. Y., September 23, 1823, who served in the Revolution. His wife, whom he married May 23, 1790, was Anna Sanford.

Gustavus Walbridge was the son of Ebenezer, born May 15, 1705, in Norwich. He married the widow of Ezra Hyde (Elizabeth Leffingwell), a member of one of the proudest New England families. Elizabeth was the daughter of Capt. John Leffingwell, who was born in Norwich, February 2, 1688, and married, December 26, 1710, Sarah Abel, daughter of Joshua Abel and his wife, Bethia Gager, the granddaughter of Dr. William Gager, who came to America in 1630 and was described as "a skilful surgeon and a right godly man."

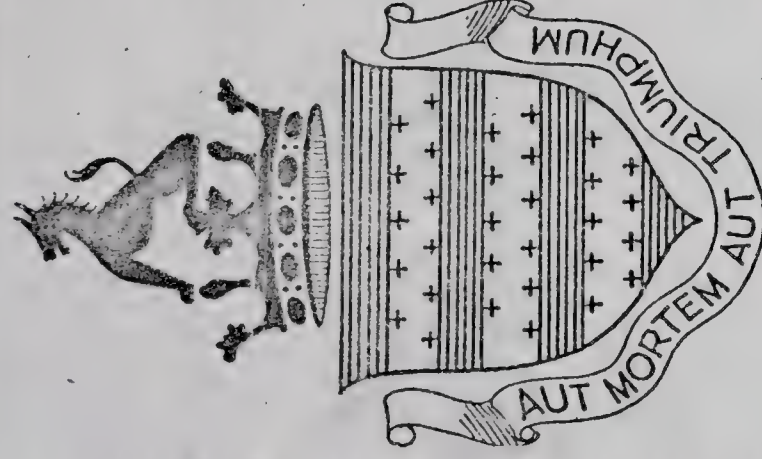

Capt. Leffingwell was the son of Sergt. Thomas, who was born in Connecticut August 27, 1649, and died in Norwich in 1723. His wife was Mary Bushnell, daughter of Richard, who came to the Colonies in 1636 and married Mary Marvin, daughter of Matthew Marvin. Sergt. Leffingwell was the son of Lieut. Thomas Leffingwell, gentleman, who came to Connecticut in 1637 and became a royal commissioner.

Lieut. Leffingwell married Mary White, who, tradition states, was the daughter of an Indian chief.

Ebenezer Walbridge's father was Henry Walbridge, thought to have come from Dorsetshire, England, to America, where he married, at Preston, Conn., Anna Ames.

Charles D. Hamill had eight children, two of whom—Henry W. and Frank T., died young. Robert W. married Katherine B. Lyon and had Katherine; Emily, who married Fifield Workum, and had a son named Robert Hamill; Frances and Robert L., who married Katherine Porter and had Katherine and Dan. Fanny, daughter of Charles D. Hamill, married Edward J. Phelps and had Charlotte (now Mrs. Parker Dodge with seven children—John, Frances, Charles, Austin, Marjorie, David and Elea-mill, son of Dr. Hamill, born in Bloomington, Ind., July 1, 1851, and died in Chicago, January 14, 1927, was a banker of considerable influence. He married, December 29, 1880, Eliza Souland Corwith, and had Corwith, Elmer, Isabelle, Robert, Alfred E., and Eleanor. She was the daughter of Henry Corwith of Galena, Ill., who was born in Long Island, June 13 1813 and died in Chicago September 13 1883. He came to Galena in the early days of its prosperity. At the time of the Chicago fire he came here to look after his properties and remained. His wife was Isabelle Souland, daughter of James G. Souland, who was born July 17, 1798, the man who introduced grape culture into Illinois in the Souland vineyard. He was a sufferer in Fort Snelling, 1821-2, a surveyor in St. Louis, and in 1827 in Galena a merchant and a smelter. He married Eliza M. Hunt, born December 1804, daughter of the famous Col. Thomas Hunt, who was born September 17, 1754, and died near St. Louis, August 18, 1808.

Col. Hunt married Eunice Wellington, daughter of Samuel Wellington, born, 1688, and Abigail Sanderson, whose forbears included Deacon Jonathan Sanderson, who settled in "Piety Corner," Watertown, Mass., and the immigrant, Edward Sanderson, who married, in 1645, Mary Eggleston. The first of the Wellingtons, Roger, married Mary Paltons, whose father was a Dr. Richard Palgrave of Charlestown.

Col. Thomas Hunt was the son of John Hunt of Watertown, born November 19, 1716, and died January 19, 1777. He was the son of Samuel Hunt.

James G. Souland was the son of Antoine Souland, who died in 1825. He was the second Surveyor-General under Spain in Louisiana and later under America, and he was a lieutenant in the Royal French army. He married Julie Cerre, daughter of Gabriel Cerre.

The first of the long line of Corwiths was David Corwith or Carwithy, as it was often written, of Southold, L. I., who became a constable at Marblehead in 1643, and removed to Salem in 1649, ending his days in Southold in 1665. His son, David, was born in Boston in 1661, and had a son, David, born about 1700, who was the great-grandfather of Gordon Corwith who married Susan White and became himself the grandfather of Eliza Corwith, who married Ernest Hamill.

Eleanor C. Hamill, daughter of Ernest, married Kent S. Clow, but she died in 1920, leaving a daughter, Elise Hamill Clow.

Alfred Ernest Hamill, brother of Eleanor, married Clarice Walther of Buffalo, N. Y., the daughter of Charles F. Walther and had Ernest Alfred, Corwith, and Clarice. He wrote "Sonneteer of Petrarchino" and "Serenade" and was deputy commissioner for France in the Red Cross during the World war.

HAMILL GENEALOGY:

(Introductory Section).

HOW TO TRACE DESCENT WITH THIS HAMILL GENEALOGY:

The decimal numbering system in this book makes it very easy to trace the descent of anyone. Each person down the line is given a progressive number. Each number means a generation. For instance, Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., is H-1. His second child is John Hamill, Sr. (H-12), etc. Turning to John, Sr. (H-12) page, you will see that he had 10 children, numbered 1 to 10. The 4th child is James Hamill (H-124). This "124" means that James is the 4th child of H-12, who is John, Sr., and that John, Sr., in turn, is the 2nd child of Nathaniel, Sr. (H-1). Now to go on again, the first child of James (H-124) is Mary, (H-124-1). And Mary's 2nd child, in turn, is Sylvia L. Crawford (H-124-12).

The Prefix "H" stands for Hamill Genealogy of Family A (our own family). If regarding another Hamill family, or another migration (see Other Hamills Section) - then the Prefix is some other letter, such as "I" or "G", etc, etc - indicating which family.

SOME EXAMPLES OF HOW TO LOCATE A DESCENT LINE:

SYLVIA LUEANA CRAWFORD, H-124-12. --
H-1 - Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., of Co. Antrim, Ireland-Big Cove, Penna.
H-12 - John Hamill, Sr., of Big Cove, and Enon Valley, Penna.
H-124 - James Hamill, of Enon Valley, Penna.
H-124-1 - Mary Hamill, of Enon Valley Penna and Sterling, Colorado.
H-124-12 - Sylvia Luenna Crawford, of Enon Valley, Pa, and Omaha, Neb.

ALLAN WENDELL HAMILL, H-269-B2. --
H-2 - Robert Hamill, Sr., of Co. Antrim, Ireland-Big Cove, Penna.
H-26 - Joseph Hamill, Sr., of Big Cove Penna-Kenia, Ohio.
H-269B - Dr. John G. Hamill, of Kenia, O.
H-269-B2 - Allan Wendell Hamill, of Kenia-Lancaster-Chillicothe, O.

DR. CLARENCE A. HAMILL, H-361-11. --
H-3 - John Hamill, of Co. Antrim, Ireland-Ligonier, Penna.
H-36 - Hugh Hamill, of Co. Antrim, Ireland-Ligonier, Penna.
H-361 - James Hamill, of Ligonier, Pa.
H-361-1 - Hugh Charles Hamill, of Ligonier, Penna.
H-361-11 - Dr. Clarence A. Hamill, of Ligonier, Penna.

PAUL HAMILL McCALLA, H-125-65. --
H-1 - Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., of Co. Antrim, Ireland-Big Cove, Penna.
H-12 - John Hamill, Sr., of Big Cove and Enon Valley, Penna.
H-125 - Smith Hamill, of Enon Valley, Penna and Keokuk, Iowa.
H-125-6 - Nancy Eleanor Hamill, of Keokuk, Iowa-Chicago, Ill.
H-125-65 - Paul Hamill McCalla, of Chicago, Illinois.

HOW TO TRACE BACK TO FIND PARENTS, GRANDPARENTS, ETC.

Just take off the last, or right-hand figure each time, and trace right back. For example, take Mrs Albert J. Caven (Sylvia Ellen Walker), who is H-124-113.

Take off the last figure "3" and we find that her Mother is H-124-11 (Mary Jane Crawford). Again take off the last figure, and we find that her Grandmother is H-124-1 (Mary Hamill). Take off the last figure and we find that her Great-Grandfather is H-124 (James Hamill). Take off two last figure and we find that her Great-Great-Grandfather is H-12 (John Hamill, Sr). Take off the last figure and we find that her Great-Great-Great-Grandfather was H-1, (Nathaniel Hamill, Sr).

It's all so simple - and you can't go wrong. This numerical system saves so much long-winded descriptions of "great-this" and "Great-Great-that". Instead, just give the Hamill number, and there is no risk of mis- to exactly whom you mean. Then turn to the page bearing that number and you have all the facts. And regardless of similar names - there is no mistake. Also - the number instantly indicates from whom the person is descended.

TheACCOMPLISHMENTSPages.

The Compiler has not as yet had time to recopy these pages for the Hamill Genealogy. So the Reader is referred to The McCalla Genealogy (a copy of which is also in the Newberry Library-Chicago) for these records of members of Our Kinfolk who are in Christian Work.

The following sheets may therefore be found in The McCalla Genealogy - listing in the left hand column the Hamilla in Christian Work - and in the right hand column a similar list of McCallas:

Ministers-Missionaries-Christian Work. (5 Pages).

Nor has The Compiler as yet had time to make up the sheets which belong here, covering:

Accomplishments of Some HAMILLS - and their Kinfolk.

Accomplishments of Some YOUNGS - and their Kinfolk.

These pages cover more in detail the things Our People have done in their lifetimes - for the public good. As soon as possible, these missing pages will be completed and inserted in this Hamill Genealogy.

The Compiler - PAUL HAMILL McCALLA, (n-125-65 & Young Y-A-2132365), (11/11/1947).

In Norristown, Pennsylvania, five generations of Hamill Family F lie buried.

At the end of the line of graves of the older generation - on the last stone - these simple words are inscribed:

It is a source of solemn pride to a Family that their members have been able to erect to the Love of Jesus Christ, and to the Glory of God, and to the extension of their Kingdom on earth, the following Christian Altars of Love and Worship:

McCALLA: The McCALLA Family, of "Hazelwood," Chester, South Carolina, since 1762, attended the famous old "Catholic Presbyterian Church," near Chester. The first structure burned, and the present structure of brick was erected in 1840, aided by the McCallen, their kinfolk, and other members of the Congregation. This famous old Church is now supported by an Association, and every descendant should be a member. Dues are $1.00 per year. (See Hazelwood Section - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

WAYNE: The WAYNE Family, and others, built the famous old "St David's Episcopal Church," at Radnor, Pennsylvania (near Paoli-Phila suburb), and near the family Estate of "Waynesboro." Four pews are endowed in perpetuity for all Wayne descendants to use when visiting, and all are invited. Also, in St Peter's Episcopal Church nearby, pews are also endowed in perpetuity for all descendants when visiting. (See Wayne Section - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

HAMILL The NATHANIEL HAMILL (H-1) descendants, with some Davidsons, DAVIDSON: Youngs, and other kinfolk, about 1800, built the historic Reithel Church (United Presbyterian), located 4 miles North of Enon Valley, Pennsylvania, in the beautiful Enon Valley. (See Hamill GENEALOGY).

McCALLA: The MARY ELIA McCALLA PRESBYTERIAN MISSION CHURCH, at Vera Cruz, Mexico, was built by the Presbyterian Mission Board at the time of Miss McCalla's (M-361-4) death, and in her memory, because of her lifetime services in Christian work to the Women's Presbyterian Missionary Board ("Room 48") of the Northwest, of Chicago, Illinois. (See Page M-361-4 - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

LIND: The LIND Family and the HEMPHILL Family, built the Associate HEMPHILL: Reformed Presbyterian (ARP) Church, at Long Cong, near Abbeville, South Carolina. This is the Mother Church of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian (ARP) Church in the South. This Church was founded by Rev. Matthew Lind, who was Lind "A". (See Lind and Hemphill Sections - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

McCALLA: THOMAS ("Honest Tom") McCALLA (M-361) retained his membership in the United Presbyterian Church in Chicago, although his wife and Mother-in-law (Rebecca Todd Davisson (Davisson 11)) were Presbyterians. He did this because he felt that he could help that poor Congregation. So he built a United Presbyterian Church in Chicago, entirely at his own expense, and gave it to the Congregation, and brought a minister from Edinburgh, and paid his salary. (See Page M-361 - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

McCALLA: WILLIAM HEMPHILL ARMOUR, (Isabella McCalla) (M-24), was one of the founders of, and was a ruling elder of, Mount Bethany Presbyterian Church, of Donerville, Tennessee. (See Page M-24 - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

HEMPHILL: Bethesda Presbyterian Church, of York County, South Carolina, had as one of its founders, AN JAMES HEMPHILL, (Hemp. A-1), of Bullock's Creek, York Co, SC. He later moved to Tennessee. (Mentioned in Dr. Howe's History of the Presbyterian Church in York Co, SC.) (See Page Hemp. A-1-Family A-Hemphill Section - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

THOSE WHO HAVE BUILT CHURCHES:

It is a source of solemn pride to a family that their members have been able to erect to the Love of Jesus Christ, and to the Glory of God, and to the extension of their Kingdom on Earth, the following Christian Altars of Love and Worship:

ARCHER In the "ROBERT ARCHER I Cabin," on a hilltop, 1 mile North of McCALLA: Princeton, Indiana, in 1802, was founded the Reformed Presbyterian Church, now the United Presbyterian Church. With ROBERT ARCHER I, were the following Ainsmen as Co-Founders: Mrs Robert Archer I (Mary Steele), Mrs Mary Boyd (Sister of Robert Archer I), Thomas Archer, (A-31-son of Robert Archer I), Mrs Thomas Archer, (A-31-Mary McCalla), Mr Robert Starnent, (husband of Mary Boyd's daughter, Nancy Boyd), Mrs James McMillan, (A-33 Elizabeth McCalla). One of the first two Elders was Thomas Archer, (A-31). The Church later (1820) moved into the town of Princeton, and occupied a small frame Church, South of the Southeast corner of Broadway and Prince Sts. For the permanent use of said Church, ROBERT ARCHER I and family gave 20 acres of land for a Cemetery, which later became known as Archer Cemetery, and which still belongs to the Church. Mary Elizabeth Archer, (A-317-2), in 1928, donated an ornamental Gateway for the Main Entrance.
(See Page A-31 - McCALLA GENEALOGY).

HAMILL: JOHN HAMILL, (Elizabeth Gibson) (A-3) settled in 1761 at Ligonier, Penna. where he had a Land Grant from William Penn. He was the 10th Settler and helped found the City. John Hamill, (A-3) gave the land to found a Church, Cemetery and School House - and helped found and build the Ligonier Presbyterian Church, (1780), at Ligonier, Pennsylvania.
(See Page A-3 - HAMILL GENEALOGY).

PEDEN Major WILLIAM DRAYTON PEDEN, (Sarah Montgomery Frierson) (A-344-1), McCALLA: may be considered as the principal founder of the 1st Presbyterian Church of Cameron, Texas. He and family came to Texas in 1876, and in 1882 he sent for the Evangelist, and on 2/17/1882, the Church was organized with 13 founding members. Among them were E. P. Peden, and wife, Sallie E. Peden (A-344-1), Miss Elizabeth Peden, (later Mrs. E. P. Cross - A-344-11), and Mr Randolph Irion McCalla (A-222-34). Mr Peden and Mr McCalla were among the first ruling Elders, and Mr Peden was first representative to the Presbytery in 1882. The first Church building was dedicated in April, 1887.
(See "Early History of Cameron, Tex" on Data Page A-222-13 - McCALLA GENEALOGY)

McCALLA REV. ALBERT McCALLA, DD, MA, PhD, FRS, (Eleanor Nancy Hamill) (A-125-6)

Libertyville, Ill, a Chicago suburb, is 9 miles west of Lake Forest, Ill.

Over 144 of them have been in Christian Work.

(See both McALLA and HAMILL GENEALOGIES).

One was Head of the Covenanter (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland. This was Archibald, 9th Duke of Argyll - "The MacCallum More" - Martyr to his Faith, and Head of the Clan Campbell, of "Inverary Castle," Inverary, Argyllshire, Scotland.
(See "Introduction to McALLA GENEALOGY").

Two have been Lord Primate (Archbishop of Canterbury) of the Episcopal Church - Archbishop Thomas a Becket, who was a Martyr to his Faith, of the Becketts, who remained in England. Also, the Right-Reverend Donald Thomas Davidson, the latter of those Davidsons who remained in England. The English Becketts have intermarried with the Hamills before coming to America, and again, the American Becketts have intermarried many times with the Hamills and Davidsons.
(See Historical Section - "The Becketts" - and see Davidson Section - HAMILL GENEALOGY).

One was an Episcopal Bishop. This was Stephen Gardiner, Bishop of Winchester, prior to that Chancellor to Queen Mary, prior to that Secretary to Cardinal Wolsey. Buried in Winchester Cathedral, Winchester, England. He was of those Cardinals who remained in England, and so many McAllas are descended from John Gardiner, of Gardiner's Island, N.Y., who first emigrated to America in 1639.
(See Gardiner Section - McALLA GENEALOGY).

One was best-known Missionary to Alaska - this was Rev. Samuel Hall Young.
(See Family J-Young Section - HAMILL GENEALOGY).

Two were best-known Missionaries to Hawaii - who were Rev. MacCandless, and Rev. Alexander Young, of Penna. (See Family J-Young Section - and MacCandless Section - HAMILL GENEALOGY).

The STAR SPANGLED BANNER That Flew Over Fort Mifflin - and... - Our National Anthem, "THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER."

Mrs Mary YOUNG Pickersgill, daughter of William Young of Baltimore and Penna - made the famous flag which flew over Fort Mifflin in the War of 1812. Then Francis SCOTT Key wrote our beloved National Anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner" about that flag. It is not yet proven that she was of our Youngs, but hers were of Baltimore and Penna - as were ours. And for hundreds of years - clear back into Ayr-Kaisley-Elderslie, Scotland - the YOUNG-Elderslie-SCOTT-Stewart have been intermarrying, and associated, and doing teamwork together, and buried side-by-side and row-on-row in old graveyards. To anyone familiar with Young family history, this looks like merely another example of the usual connection, affinity and teamwork of these 4 associated families - a SCOTT writing a famous and beloved Anthem about a Flag made by a YOUNG. Thus we feel that some day these particular Young-Scotts will be proven to be of our blood. It is not unusual that Francis SCOTT Key should have poetic ability, for in our Scott family was Sir Walter Scott, of Ayr, later of Bacchleuch, Scotland. This offers a splendid opportunity for members of the Kinfolk to do research work at the "Baltimore Flag House" in Baltimore, and in Penna. (See Introduction to Young Section - HAMILL GENEALOGY).

PRESIDENT BANK of COMMERCE-CHICAGO. EARLY DAY COMMERCIAL and CIVIC LEADER:

THOMAS ("Honest Tom") McCALLA, (Marianna Davison) (H-361), of Bloomington, Ind & Chicago, Ill - was a noted early-day Banker, and Real Estate owner. He Founded and was President of the Bank of Commerce, which helped greatly the early growth of Chicago. He was the Chicago Fiscal Agent for the Drexels-Ogdens-McClurgs, etc, and attracted much Eastern and Southern money to Chicago for investment. His affiliated company was "Davison, McCalla & Co." the latter owning and developing much downtown Chicago real estate. He built the first 4-story, and the first 5-story buildings in Chicago. His silent partner was his brother-in-law, Dr. Alfred Livingston Davison, MD (Dav. 114), who Founded the famous Rush Medical College of Chicago - and both he and Mr McCalla were brothers-in-law of Dr Robt. C. Hamill, MD (H-262), who Founded Presbyterian Hospital.

Mr McCalla was progressive and civic minded, and strongly advocated raising the street grades and "lifting Chicago out of the mud." After he had built so many buildings, the City Council suddenly voted to raise the streets - making it necessary for all his buildings to be raised. George M. Pullman, then a young Engineer, came to Chicago with a letter of introduction to Thomas McCalla, who gave him his first contract - to raise his block-long buildings on the N. side of Lake St (LaSalle to Clark). He also helped him obtain his 2nd contract, to raise the Tremont House, owned by Davison relatives. Mr McCalla set aside $25,000 for a half-interest in backing the Pullman Car Co, but this was prevented by Mr McCalla's sudden accidental death. It took Mr Pullman 10 years to again get financial backing for his sleeping car. After Mr McCalla's death, his valuable real estate was sold, largely to the McCormick family (of Reaper fame), and became the basis of their present enormous real estate holdings.

Mr McCalla built and gave to the Congregation, a United Presbyterian Church in Chicago - and brought the pastor from Edinburgh - and paid his salary.

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS OF OUR KINFOLK:

ONE OF OUR ANCESTRESSES WAS A BRAVE and BEAUTIFUL WOMAN:

A blonde and beautiful woman - utterly without fear - was the Ancestress of half our McAllas. She was SARAH WATTS GARDNER (McALLA), who married our THOMAS McALLA, SR., (M-3), in Chester County, South Carolina, in 1775. McAllas whose Genealogical Number begins with the figure "3" are her descendants. She was a woman of Achievement - a noted Revolutionary Heroine - and many descendants are named in her honor.

SARAH was the "Favorite Cousin" of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne - and she had his fearlessness. After her marriage and the birth of her first baby, she lived in Chester Co, Penna, on the edge of the Brandywine battlefield - in which her husband fought - and she could hear every gun. After her husband served 2 Revolutionary enlistments, they moved to "Hazelwood Plantation" at Chester, SC, to join his brother, David McAlla, Jr., (M-2), who was also a Soldier in SC. Her husband served a 3rd enlistment in SC, and was captured by the British. SARAH was a magnificent horsewoman, and rode many times - all alone - to find where he was imprisoned, finally locating him in Camden, SC. Then she rode many times to bring him, and the other prisoners, food and clothing, and to minister to his wounds. In Camden, THOMAS, SR., was constantly threatened with hanging, was mistreated and underfed. Then SARAH rode alone to Winnsboro, SC, to see Lord Cornwallis to obtain his release - and she arrived there on New Year's Day 1781.

An interesting Family Legend tells that she bravely told Cornwallis that she was the "Favorite Cousin" of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne - and that Cornwallis was much impressed, and not wishing to have that fighting tiger on his neck, treated SARAH with the utmost courtesy. She was his guest at the famous Review of his troops at Winnsboro, SC. SARAH arranged for THOMAS, SR., and 10 other Americans to be exchanged for 2 British officers. It is understood that she made one or two other lonely horseback trips to arrange all this - and the prisoners were released 1/24/1781 at Spartanburg, SC.

SARAH was a strikingly beautiful woman, medium tall, strong and straight, with magnificent gold-blond hair reaching below her waist. She had a most spirited nature - almost imperious - but was very, very kind. After the Revolutionary War, as chatelaine of "Hazelwood", she nursed her semi-invalid husband, his health ravished by wounds, starvation and rough treatment.

Another interesting Family Legend tells that as a Widow and a Grandmother of about 61 years, she bravely rode alone, about 1813, on a long horseback trip to visit her daughter in Indiana. This was about 3 years before her death. The trip was made thru trackless forests and thru the dangerous Indian country of Tennessee and Kentucky - the "Dark and bloody ground" of savage Indian massacres. She went from Chester, SC, to Princeton, Indiana, to visit her daughter, Mary ("Polly") McAlla, (M-31), the wife of Thomas Archer. Such a long trip for a lone woman of her age required remarkable courage.

SARAH was a Notable Heroine of the Revolutionary War. Her story first appeared as a serial in "Godey's Ladies' Book". Later it was published in Mrs Ellet's "Women of the American Revolution" - with also the stories of many Kinswomen, such as Mary Adair Nixon McAlla, (M-2), Sarah Buchanan, (Buchanan 5), etc. SARAH was an Ancestress of whom we justly may be proud.

The Little Pebble thatrippled into the Great - - -

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY MEDICAL CENTER - OF CHICAGO:

SYLVESTER LIND, (Lind A) of Lake Forest, Illinois (Chicago suburb), was a kindly little man; a nephew or Grand-nephew, of Rev. Matthew Lind, DD, (Jonathan Milton) (Lind A-2), of Greencastle, Franklin Co, Penna, the latter a noted Christian Preacher and Colonizer. SYLVESTER LIND, a Chicago merchant, wished to do a kindly Christian act to help his fellow men, following Christ's Great Commandment: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel, Heal the Sick, cast out demons." So he aided in founding (1857) LIND UNIVERSITY in Lake Forest, Ill., with a gift of $100,000. - Its original purpose was to train young men for the Christian Ministry. A prominent department was the Lind School of Medicine, Founded in 1859 - all affiliated with the Presbyterian Church.

This was the original pebble, cast into the waters of time. And as we follow the ripples from that pebble we find LIND UNIVERSITY changing its name to Lake Forest College. Wishing to concentrate on academic subjects, it transferred (1869) its Medical Dept. and its Staff, to Northwestern University, (Methodist), of Evanston and Chicago, Ill. As the ripples widen, Northwestern established (- - -) its Chicago Medical Center, on the Near North Side.

A great Downtown Medical Center has grown there, containing among other large buildings, the Ward Medical School; Abbott Residential Hall; Wesley Hospital and Passavant Hospital. As the ripples widen into great waves, the US is now (1950) building there a large Veteran's Cancer Hospital, and the Roman Catholic Church, wishing to move its large Mercy Hospital, (affiliated with Loyola University), is about to start building their block-long Mercy Hospital there. Evanston Hospital is also affiliated, and the world-famous Children's Memorial Hospital is affiliated as its Pediatric Dept.

- The ill and afflicted, with difficult cases, come there from far over the earth - for the superior medical skill of its Staff, and for its splendid new Hospitals. Trace all these waves and ripples back to the original pebble - and we find kindly, gentle SYLVESTER LIND, (Lind A), with his $100,000, doing a good deed for his fellow men, mindful that: "...your labor is not in vain in the Lord." (See Page Lind A-Lind Section-McALLA GENEALOGY).

THESE OF OUR PEOPLE HAVE FOUNDED TOWNS:

" Men must be governed by God, or they will be ruled by Tyrants. "
- - - William Penn.

Our Kinfolk have contributed their bit to the building of this mighty, Christian Republic by Founding, or aiding in Founding, these Towns:

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO:

Judge John Young (of the "J" Young Family of Worcester, Mass, and Peterboro, New Hampshire), visited with our Bron Valley, Penna., Youngs (from Baltimore), and with their aid, and that of various Elder-Stuart (Stewart)-Scott Kinfolk about 1797, Founded Youngstown, Ohio.

(See Family "J"-Young Section-HAMILL GENEALOGY).

CLARKSBURG, WEST VIRGINIA:

John Davisson (Davisson A-1) (Wife was Elizabeth Williams, of famous Roger Williams (of Rhode Island) descent), Founded Clarksburg, West Virginia, on part of his own farm. The record of the proceedings was signed: John Davisson, Gentleman. The original estate of John Davisson, and his Father, Josiah Davisson, Jr., was at Winchester, Virginia.

(See Page Davisson A-1-Davisson Section-McALLA & HAMILL GENEALOGIES).

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE:

Todd's Blockhouse, (built by our Todd Family on Todd's Knob), and on a neighboring hill, Buchanan's Fort, (built by our Buchanan Family, and noted in history as "Buchanan Station"), with other similar defenses against the Indians, built in 1779, largely by our intermarried Kinfolk, grew to be Nashville, Tennessee. Among these defenses were the Blockhouses of Capt.
John Ridley, (See Buchanan 3), and James Culbertson, (See Buchanan 4).

Nashville grew from "Buchanan Station" into a great, highly-cultured city - but it was baptized with the blood of our own Kinfolk. John Buchanan Sr. (Buchanan A-Father of our Samuel Buchanan Todd), was shot (1791-2) by Indians at the door of his Fort. His wife, Samuel Buchanan, with deep Faith cried: "God preserve me!" The Indian, muttering and growling, lowered his gun and departed - and she lived by Faith to die a peaceful death in 1803 at Todd's Knob. His sons, Alexander Buchanan, (Buchanan 1) and Samuel Buchanan, (Buchanan 2), were killed (1792) by Indians, in the farm fields at nearby Stone River. Todd's Blockhouse, its old logs kept as relics, was said to be still standing in 1927. Our Rebecca Todd Davisson was born at Buchanan Station, Tenn., in 1790. The Buchanans-Todds later moved to Konia, Ohio - but the Culbertsons-Ridleys and other intermarried Kinfolk remained, and were prominent in later Nashville history.

and became Royal Governor of the Carolinas in 1664. His daughter, Lady Margaret, became the wife of James Moore, Sr (16th Governor of the Carolinas in 1700). Their son, in turn, was James Moore, Jr (25th Governor of the Carolinas in 1719). And in turn, their daughter, Mary Moore, married Baron William Adair, of Scotland. And again, their daughter Mary Adair (Wixon) McCalla, was the wife of David McCalla, Jr (M-2). Mary Adair McCalla, was a famous Revolutionary Heroine. (See "Mary Adair" in Mrs Eliot's "Women of)

IRON VALLEY, PENNSYLVANIA:

John Young (Y-A-35), the brother of Capt. William (Y-A-31), seemed to prefer the Southern end of the beautiful Iron Valley, Penna, so with some Hamiltons, Davidsons, and other "infolks", he helped found the Town of Iron Valley, Penna, (20 miles South of Newcastle, and 45 miles N.W. of Pittsburgh, on the Pennsylvania Ry). Many Youngs are buried here, side-by-side with Elders-Hamiltons-Hamiltons, with whom they have been intermarrying for hundreds of years. (See Page Y-A-35 Family A-Young Section-HAMILL GENEALOGY).

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Notley Young, (of the Baltimore-CATHERINE Youngs), owned the land under what is now Washington, DC. He gave it free to the infant Republic for a Capital. The 3 Commissioners in charge of the founding were: Daniel Carroll, (a Kinsman, Great-Uncle of Charles Carroll of Carrollton), Daniel Johnston, and David Stuart, (of Virginia-a Kinsman). PAXTANG FARRISBURG, PENNSYLVANIA:

The Elder Family have intermarried continuously with our Youngs for hundreds of years, clear back into Ayr-Paisley-Elderslie, Scotland. Some of our Elders lived in Paxtang from the earliest French-Indian War days, and helped found it. The brother of David Elder was the Rev. John Elder, the famous "fighting Parson of Paxtang." Also, "Dimple eyed Elder" was captured as a child by Indians, taught to be a famous pole-vaulter, returned to his family as a young man, and organized a noted troop of his Indian Scout friends, who helped the Colonies in the French-Indian Wars. Paxtang is now a suburb of, and has grown to be, Harrisburg, Penna. (See Elder Family "E" Elder Section-HAMILL GENEALOGY). (SEE NEXT PAGE). (3/1/1950).

WILMINGTON-NEWCASTLE, PENNSYLVANIA.

Our Young Family (from Baltimore), moved west and settled at what is now Wilmington, Penna., which they helped found. Capt. Wm. Young, Jr. (Y-A-21) and all his family are buried there, in Weshannock Cemetery. Wilmington is now a suburb of, and has grown to be, Newcastle, Pennsylvania.
(See Page Y-A-21-Family A-Young Section-HAMILL GENEALOGY).

HEAD-OF-ELK (now ELKTON), MARYLAND.

Our Young Family had a Farm and Country Estate at Head-of-Elk, Maryland. This is about 40 miles South of Philadelphia, just across the Maryland-Penna border. In those days of hard travelling, they travelled easily by Sloop from their town house in Delto, sailing up the Elk River direct to their own landing at the Estate. They were very fond of this comfortable place, and years later (after the Revolution), from the Indian infested Wilds of Anon Valley in Western Penna, they wrote letters longing to be back at Head-of-Elk and Baltimore.

Capt. William Young (Y-A-21) was born there in 1743. In the Revolution, our Youngs were said to have cautioned Gen'l George Washington against fighting the British at Head-of-Elk. But Washington went ahead - and lost the battle. Our Youngs were settled at Head-of-Elk from the earliest days - and may be considered as among those who founded it. Head-of-Elk is now called Elkton, Maryland. (See Family A-Young Section-HAMILL GENEALOGY).

GARDINER'S ISLAND, Long Island, NEW YORK.

Lion Gardiner, Patriarch of the Clan, who was an English Military Engineer, was granted what is now Gardiner's Island, in 1652 by the Earl of Stirling. After 300 years, it is still owned and occupied by the Gardinars, who are considered as one of the first families of America still possessing ancestral lands, handed down from generation to generation. The colonial mansion, built in 1774, is still occupied by Gardinars, who hold a large family reunion there each Summer. Gardiner's Island is on Long Island Sound, about 20 miles due South of New London, Conn, and in Gardiner's Bay, between Montauk Point and Orient Point, Long Island, New York.

SOME OF THE THINGS THE HAMILL FAMILY
(And some of their connected lines)
HAVE ACCOMPLISHED.

HAMILL CHRONOLOGY

SMITH HAMILL (H-125) founded the S. Hamill Grocery Co., at Keokuk, Iowa, in 1852, and the Iowa State Insurance Co., at Keokuk, Iowa --- both of which institutions are still flourishing.

The ORIGINAL HAMILL was Baron O'Hamill, who owned all County Antrim.

An early day HAMILL was the Grander Hamill who won the family Palm Tree Crest by sighting an Oasis and rescuing many survivors.

DR. ROBERT C. HAMILL (H-262) founded, with Dr. Ross, the famous Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago, Ill. He was an Incorporator of the Academy of Medical Sciences, Chicago, also one of the founders of the Home for Incurables, one of the Founders, and President, of the Soldier's Rest, after the Civil War.

ELIZA J. DAVISSON HAMILL (H-262-Mrs Robert C. Hamill) had a long record of charitable and religious work in connection with the 1st Presbyterian Church, the Soldier's Rest, the Home for Incurables, and other such institutions. Her son, Ernest A. Hamill, named a large Trust Fund of several million dollars for Charitable Purposes in her honor, the Eliza Davisson Hamill Trust.

THE McCANDLESS FAMILY (Mrs Smith Hamill-H-125) was the daughter of John McCandless) founded the McCandless Lamp Works, which afterward became a part of the General Electric Company. They also greatly aided Carnegie in his younger years, and he visited Mrs Smith Hamill, with his mother, to thank them, when he began to climb the ladder of success. He also built a bridge at Keokuk, Iowa to help their town.

CHARLES D. HAMILL (who was given his start in the banking field by Thomas McCalla in the latter's Bank of Commerce) had the largest brokerage business of its day on the Board of Trade. Was President of the Board of Trade in 1895 (H) and a Charter Member of the Chicago Art Institute, and the Thomas Orchestra (262).

THE YOUNG FAMILY (of whom Mrs Smith Hamill-H-225 is descended, her mother being Mary Young of Baltimore), are a family without hate. They were Baronets and intermarried many times with the Royal House of Stuart and its descendants. Were among the earliest millionaires in America, and large ship owners. Furnished the boats that brought the Lord Baltimore Catholic Colonies to America at Baltimore, and they settled there. Had an estate at Head-of-Elk, Maryland, and in Revolutionary War days they knew Washington. In the earlier days, being wealthy ship owners, they brought the McCormick family to Virginia and settled them, without charge, refusing to indent them or have their ears punched as a sign of indenture, because they were such "good, Christian people."

JULIET HAMILL (Mrs Fred H. Marsh-H-2695-Harrisburg, Penna) is Vice-Regent of the Harrisburg Chapter, D.A.R.

ERNEST A. HAMILL (H-2625) was President of the Corn Exchange National Bank of Chicago and later Chairman of the Board of the Illinois-Continental National Bank and of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank. Member Board of the Chicago Orphan Asylum and Olivet Institute.

(ED, the noted Librarian of the Pennsylvania State Library, Harrisburg,

(very beautiful.)

HAMILL BEGINNINGS:

The Hamills are said to have been descended from the Irish Milesian Chiefs, who came from Portugal, and who invaded Ireland after the Christian Era - about the time of St Patrick.

History speaks of one of our Hamills as having been Chief of Ulster, and one of another period, as having been Chief of all Ireland. These references were found, but were not preserved, so Research will have to be made again, and the exact quotation placed here.

The name Hamill was originally O'h Aghmaill, later shortened to O'Hamill, and still later to Hamill. They lived principally in the Protestant, North Ireland Counties of Londonderry, Tyrone and Antrim. There is a map of ancient Ireland, which shows the habitat of each of the families of Ireland. The Hamills of ancient history are located in the North Central portion, near Londonderry, and North-West of Belfast. The Hamills of the 1700's were found in County Antrim, County Londonderry(Derry), and County Tyrone. Many were also located in Belfast, Bushmills and Coleraine. (See "Hamills in History Books" - later in this Article - and see "Old Hamill Legends" - immediately following this Article).

"The PALM" - The HAMILL of the CRUSADERS.

The Hamills have been very definitely Christians for a Thousand Years - Since the Crusades.

In that great quest for the Holy Grail - The Crusades - there was at least one of our Hamills from North Ireland. On a retreat across the desert from the Saracens, from one of the first great battles, he was the first to sight an Oasis, and he rescued many survivors, carrying them across the desert to an Oasis. He was very tall and straight, so they called him "The Palm." Later, upon his return home, he was thereafter called "The-Palm," and was given the right to use "The Palm" as his Crest, or as a Quartering. This was verified to Smith Hamill(H-125) by some of the Baltimore Hamills. It is also verified by "O'Hart's Irish Pedigrees" who say: "Hamill Crest - a Palm Tree fructed proper. The name originally O'h Aghmaill." (See the photograph of "The Palm" Crest which follows - in) (this Section). This Legend is one of our old Hamill Family Legends - and it is also substantiated by the old Crusader Hamill Church of Belfast.

The CRUSADER HAMILL CHURCH.

Miss Carrie Hamill(H-125-8) of Leokuk, Iowa, in 1899, visited Belfast, County Antrim, North Ireland. There she found a large and beautiful Church - probably Presbyterian - which was often called "The Crusader Church." Therein was a very handsome stained-glass window to the Crusader (SEE NEXT PAGE). (12/10/1943).

Hamill - "The Palm" - with a pew dedicated to his descendants. Under the window was a large-bronze plate dedicated to this Crusader Hamill, and the plate had a reproduction of this Palm Tree. All this was written down by Miss Carrie Hamill (H-125-8) - but the notation has been lost. Meanwhile - shortly after she returned, and before her own death in 1904, this fine old Church was burned - and presumably all the old records were destroyed. There were said to have been other windows dedicated to the Crusader Hamill and to other Hamill ancestors, in various Churches in North Ireland. Miss Carrie S. Hamill (H-125-8) was told by the Sacristan of that Church that there had been a number of Hamills migrate to America, and that several had left in 1760, and that they went to join others who had gone there earlier.

OUR HAMILLS in NORTH IRELAND.

It is very possible that our Hamills are descended from the same general Hamill Family as the Norristown Hamills. (See Other Hamills Section-Family F). This "F" Family came from Bushmills, County Antrim, Ireland, and settled first at Norristown, Montgomery County, Penna, in 1798 - some 37 years after our 4 brothers arrived here in 1761. All this Bushmills Family of Hamills were dead when Carrie S. Hamill (H-125-8) visited there in 1899. (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item #44).

Smith Hamill, (H-125) often visited this Family F, and often spoke of Wilhelmina Porter Hamill, (F-321) of that Family as his "Favorite Aunt." However, there was no close, definite relationship. They are a splendid, Christian family of the highest type, and have given a great many men to the Ministry, to Missions, or to Christian Education in Schools and Colleges. One descendant, Rev. Saml. McClintock Hamill, DD, (F-377) Founded Lawrenceville Academy, the Preparatory School for Princeton University.

It is said that one of our early-day Hamills of North Ireland was in the famous Siege of Londonderry, and the bars of that period. He was captured and held prisoner for a long period in Carrick Fergus Castle, near Bushmills. Sarah ("Aunt Sally") Hamill (H-15) verified this Legend, and had an old picture of this Castle, which picture later descended to Smith Hamill (H-125) of Keokuk, Iowa.

This same family, or other Hamills of another day, were in the Irish Wars, including the battle of the Boyne, with King William in 1680-90. These Hamills, it was said, were very brave, but lost their property because of their loyalty to the King for 30 years, and somewhat later they emigrated to America. A friend of Carrie S. Hamill's, (H-125-8) located - probably - this same family who had owned property in Chester County, Penna as early as 1724. This is the earliest appearance of Hamills in America of which we have record - except the probability of a Hamill in a very early Colony of Virginia. It would prove interesting for some modern-day Hamill to undertake the tracing of the Chester Co. and the Virginia Hamills. (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Items # 44 & 45) (See also "Old Hamill Legends" - Legend #10 - which follows).

The Becketts, who married Nathaniel Hamill, Sr (H-1), and Robert Hamill, Sr (H-2), and also other Hamills, are supposed to be, according to Hamill Family Legends, descended from the family of Thomas a' Becket, the famous Martyr Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal Primate of England - who was a Martyr to his Faith. These Becketts and Hamills were intermarrying for a long time back in North Ireland before coming to America - and also after they came here. (See "Old Hamill Legends" - Legend #9 - which follows in (this section) (See also Historical Section-"The Becket-Beckett-Lickett-Bigger Family).

ican Hamill in 1917, the Legend of the Milesian Chiefs. He said that the O'Hamills were Chieftains who had come from Iberia (Portugal) with Queen Clotus. She brought a picked lot of Chieftains - tall, physically well-built men, who were civilized and well educated - and that their duty was to rule Ireland. This Legend was also confirmed by a Mrs A.S.O'Neill of Chicago, whose O'Neills - at one period of Irish History - were Irish Milesian Kings, and who said that the O'Hamills lived near the O'Neills. (See (Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item #47)).

The above Louis R. Hamill (H-121-51) also states that he has 3 letters written by William Hamill in the years 1702, 1717 and 1732, stating in the last letter that he is 75 years of age, therefore born in 1647, asking for back pay for services for himself, officers and men at the Siege of Derry, (Londonderry). Louis R. Hamill (H-121-51) goes on to say: "If he was our ancestor, he would be about our Great(6) Grandfather."

MIGRATION of OUR HAMILLS to AMERICA.

Hamill Legends say that our Hamilla emigrated from North Ireland in 1760, (another Legend says 1761), and landed in Pennsylvania in 1761. Another Legend says they went first to Ft Palmer, 2 miles from Ligonier, Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. Legends say that there were 4 Original Hamill Brothers, who were: Nathaniel, Sr (H-1), Robert, Sr (H-2), and John Hamill (H-3) - and that the 4th became the "Missing 4th Original Brother." However, an equally persistent Legend names the 4 Original Brothers as Joseph, John, Robert and Hugh. Also, a very persistent Legend speaks of a "Missing 4th Original Brother, who went South, and became lost to the Family records." Then too, there is persistent mention of a Joseph Hamill and a Hugh Hamill in connection with the Original Brothers. Then there is a much less persistent story of a 5th Brother, who came over in 1761, or later as some versions have it, but who returned to North Ireland to live, and was not a permanent resident here - and Hugh Hamill is associated with this Legend. Then there is an occasional Legend that Joseph Hamill is the "Missing" one who went South and was never heard from again. (See - in this Section-"Old" (Hamill Legends)).

The Brothers we have been able to prove are Nathaniel, Sr (H-1), Robert, Sr (H-2), and John Hamill (H-3) - with the 4th Brother supposed to be Joseph (H-4) still in the Legendary or partially proven state. So let us henceforth speak of Nathaniel, Sr, Robert, Sr, John as the known and proven Brothers - and consider Joseph and the nebulous Hugh as still subject to Research.

Hugh Hamill, (H-36) was definitely known to have been born in 1758 in County Antrim, North Ireland. His brother Robert Hamill (H-37) was born in 1759 in the same place - shortly before the family left for America. They were sons of John Hamill (H-3). So it is probable that the Father (H-3) and also the other Original Brothers were born in the same place. They were probably landed Gentry and Farmers. So let us assume that they lived on Farms and were landed Gentry, near Belfast, County Antrim, North Ireland. It is more than possible that they might have been members of the "Crusader Hamill Church" of Belfast - for the Sacristan of that Church said that several had left in 1760 (probably ours) to join others who had been there earlier. So for the present, let us assume that they were landed Gentry and Farmers, near Belfast, County Antrim, North Ireland.

The NEED for ADDITIONAL RESEARCH.

Some Hamill should make Research as to Ship Manifests at Philadelphia from (SEE NEXT PAGE). (12/10/1946).

1760 to 1761, to show the names of all Hamills arriving in the party. The Manifest should also give their ages and point of embarkation. Most of the Scotch-Irish emigrants actually landed at Wilmington, Delaware, because of the shallow river, and then went on to Phila by Sloop. So search should also be made at Wilmington, Delaware.

Legend says that they sailed from Belfast, so Research should also be made there. The list of those sailing should show names, ages, date and may also show the actual Town or locality in North Ireland from which they came. It may also possibly state the Father's and Mother's names. However, so many of the boats bringing these Scotch-Irish actually sailed from Larne instead of Belfast. Larne is North, up the coast from Belfast, and many emigrants credited as from Belfast actually sailed from Larne, in Co. Antrim. While they eventually arrived at Phila, in many cases their ship actually sailed from Larne, and docked at Wilmington, Del. So Research should be made at Belfast, Larne, Wilmington and Philadelphia. It is also possible that they might have landed at Baltimore, Md - and have proceeded to Philadelphia, Penna, by Sloop.

LEGEND - FANCY - and FACT.

In 1946, at the time these pages are Revised, we have only a limited collection of proven facts to trace, suggest or prove the earliest beginnings of the Hamill Family. These old Legends, quoted previously, have been handed down from Generation to Generation. In the main, they have been, in so many instances, proven substantially correct. But there are many parts which may be mere Fancy. So The Compiler will have to list Legend, Fancy and Fact together to start the warp and weft of our Family History. Giving a proven fact here, a definite historical reference there, and the rest only Legend - until the woven cloth of known, proven facts finally emerges.

In this connection, it is well for the Reader to note "Old Hamill Legends" which follows later in this Section. Also to note, in the Historical Section in the back of this Hamill Genealogy, the article marked: "Misc. Hamill Data." Also note the historical matter on Page H-4, concerned with Joseph Hamill(H-4), the supposed Missing 4th Brother.

The PERIOD at LIGONIER, PENNSYLVANIA.

Now as to the Original 4 Brothers, we have definite facts and proof as to John Hamill(H-3), who first appears at Ft Palmer, near Ligonier, Penna, in 1761. All legends agree that he was one of the Original 4 Brothers.

Now we also have definite family records and proof as to Nathaniel, Sr, (H-1), and Robert, Sr(H-2) - but these records only really start at Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford(now Fulton) County, Penna. There is no definite proof that the latter two were at Ligonier from 1761 to 1770-3 - the latter date being the time they were supposed to move to Big Cove from Ligonier. Except that the "History of Fulton County, Penna" named Robert Hamill, Sr, (H-2) as being in Ayr Twp, (Big Cove) as early as 1766. And we have no definite proof that these 3 were brothers, except the following:

Sarah("Aunt Sally") Hamill(H-15), daughter of Nathaniel, Sr(H-1), so often visited her various relatives, was so welcomed everywhere, and was the Historian of her day. In an old letter, she called John(H-3) her "Uncle" and she lived for a time at Ligonier, Pa, with her "Cousins" Robert(H-36) and Hugh(H-37) Hamill, who were sons of John(H-3). So John(H-3) must have been a brother of Nathaniel, Sr(H-1) and Robert, Sr(H-2) - just as Family Legends say he was. "Aunt Sally" also wrote of Robert, Sr(H-2) being a brother of her Father, Nathaniel, Sr(H-1). So we know that these three, Nathaniel, Sr(H-1), Robert, Sr(H-2) and John(H-3) were brothers.

The 2nd proof is this: Hugh Hamill(H-36) stated in his Application for a Revolutionary Pension, that he had lived for a time in Bedford Co, Penna. Hugh was the son of John(H-3). Robert Hamill(H-37), another son, shows in his records that he also moved to Bedford Co, Penna, in April 1775. Now Bedford County was the location of Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford(now Fulton) County, Penna - where Nathaniel, Sr(H-1) and Robert, Sr(H-2) were living, (supposedly from 1766 or 1770-3 to 1799-1800). So it is probable, though not definitely proven, that Hugh(H-36) and his brother Robert(H-37), with the Parents, moved to Big Cove to live near their Cousins. We know that all left Big Cove in 1799-1800. Nathaniel, Sr(H-1) descendants moved on to Enon Valley, Penna, after Nathaniel's death in 1799, with the Davidsons and some few Smiths, etc. Robert, Sr's(H-2) descendants moved on West to Xenia, Ohio, in 1800, with the Smiths and Becketts, after his death, also in Big Cove in 1799.

So these facts look like good proof that Nathaniel, Sr(H-1), Robert, Sr, (H-2), and John(H-3) were 3 of the Original 4 Brothers.

John(H-3) and family, we believe, moved on back to Ligonier, Penna, in 1783 - having been at Big Cove for 8 years, 1775-1783.-

JOHN(H-3) PROVEN at LIGONIER, PENNA.

Now all Legends say that the 4 Original Brothers came together, and the time is given as 1760 as the probable time they left N. Ireland. And 1761 is given as the time they arrived in Penna. In the case of John(H-3), history states flatly that he was the 10th Settler to come to Palmer's Fort, 2 miles South of Ligonier, Westmoreland County, Penna - in 1761. So we have that date and locality proven, (See Data Page H-3), as to John(H-3).

But at the present time(1946) we do not have proof of the other Brothers from 1761 to 1770-3, the latter time being their supposed time of arrival at Big Cove. So let us assume that they also came to Ligonier, and went to Big Cove later, in 1770-3. Possibly they went to Big Cove shortly after 1761 - and were there much earlier than we now know. In fact, Robert Hamill, Sr(H-2) is dated at Big Cove in 1766. The "History of Fulton Co, Penna" names Robert Hamill, Sr, of Ayr Twp, between 1766-9, who owned property there, also at Licking Creek Twp. (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data" Item # 15).

The 4th Missing Brother, whom we now believe to be Joseph Hamill(H-4), supposedly left the others in 1770-3, or 1799-1800, and went to Newberry, South Carolina - although his descendent speaks of it only as "After the Revolutionary War." But for the present, let us leave Joseph Hamill(H-4) in the Legendary state.

PROOF of the HAMILLS at BIG COVE, PENNSYLVANIA.

Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford(now Fulton) County, Penna, is just South of McConnellsburg, and near the Kittoctinny Mountains. Helen Wayne McCall(H-125-61) stated 12/10/1946, that the various older Hamills had said that Big Cove, Penna, and the region thereabout, was exceedingly wild and infested with murderous Indians. The hunting there was very good - but it was surrounded by rugged country, and in the Pioneer days was a very wild place to live. The Hamills of later days had wondered how the Forefather Hamills could have stood it to live in such a place as Big Cove. (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 48).

Old Legends state that Nathaniel, Sr(H-1) and Robert, Sr(H-2) had 2000 acres of land at Big Cove, Penna. We have plenty of proof of these two Original Brothers at Big Cove - and even then on. We have pictures of the old Graveyard and Gravestones at Big Cove. We have definite record of the death of Nathaniel, Sr(H-1) on 1/6/1799, (killed by wolves) at Big Cove. And of the death of Robert, Sr(H-2), also in 1799 at Big Cove.

(SEE NEXT PAGE).

HAMILL GENEALOGY:

(Introductory Section - Hamill Background).

We also have proof - definite proof - of Nathaniel, Sr (H-1) and Robert, Sr, (H-2), and some of their sons, at Big Cove, as follows:

The Penna Archives, () mentions the following Hamilla as having been at Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford (now Milton) County, Penna, with the years also given, as follows:

Charles Hamble, Private at Ft. Bedford, 1760. (He was probably a Hamill) (but is Unknown).

Nathaniel Hamill, (1773-1783). (Probably our Original Nathaniel, Sr (H-1)).

Robert Hamill, (1773-1794) (Probably Sr - Probably H-2, brother of (Nathaniel, Sr (H-1)).

Robert Hamill, Jr. (1794) (Probably H-25, son of Robert, Sr).

John Hamill, (1773-1801) (Unknown - might possibly be Original Brother (John (H-3), but he died supposedly in 1794-5. He might possibly be (the Father of the 4 Original Brothers - but this is very unlikely.

(Note that John (H-12) was not born until 1777, and John (H-23A) was (only born in 1771).

James Hamill, (1794) (He is Unknown).

William Hamill, (1794) (He is Unknown).

Samuel Hamill, (1780) (Probably H-21, son of Robert, Sr).

George Hamill, (1794) (He is Unknown).

So these are known and proven to have been at Big Cove, Penna - and the dates are given.

In connection with these Unknown names, note that Robert, Sr (H-2) may have had 2 more children - so 2 of these may belong to that family. Also note that the Legendary Joseph Hamill (H-4), who supposedly went to Newberry SC, had among his children, a John, Charles and James - only the James was not born until 1800, and then in Newberry, SC. So at present, many of these are simply Unknown. (See Historical Section - "Misc. Hamill Data" - Item (# 34).

Robert Hamill, Sr (H-2), alone among the Brothers, is dated as early as 1766 at Big Cove. The "History of Milton County, Penna" names "Robert Hamill, of Ayr Twp, between 1766-9, who owned property there, also at Licking Creek Twp." (See Historical Section - "Misc. Hamill Data" - Item # 15).

JOHN'S (H-3) FAMILY at LIGONIER & INDIANA, PENNA.

The records show that Robert Hamill (H-37) moved "with his Parents" from Ft. Ligonier to Bedford Co, Penna, in April 1775. They probably went to Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford Co - to join the families of Nathaniel, Sr (H-1), and Robert, Sr (H-2). But this is not proven. When this Robert (H-37) enlisted December 1776, he did so back near Ligonier, at Fairfield, Westmoreland Co Penna - and much later also gave the latter place as his residence on 5/27/1783 in applying for a Pension.

His brother Hugh (H-37) also enlisted near Ligonier, Westmoreland Co, at Fairfield, Westmoreland Co, Penna, in August 1776. Later, on 2/26/1783, he also claimed Westmoreland Co as his residence in his Pension Application. However, in his Pension Certification of 10/18/1853, he said he "resided in Westmoreland County for 50 years (that means since 1783), and previously in Bedford County." This means he was in Bedford Co previous to 1783. If he went there with his brother Robert (H-37) and his Parents (John (H-3) in 1775, then he resided there in Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford (now Milton) Co, Penna, for 8 years (except for his time in Revolutionary War service). Thus the family of John (H-3) were probably in Big Cove from 1775 to 1783, (8 years) - then back to Ligonier.

After their return to Ligonier, the various descendants of John (H-3) remained largely at Ligonier, Westmoreland Co, and at Fairfield Twp, Westmoreland Co. Later, many of these settled also at Indiana, Indiana County, Penna. They have remained largely at these points ever since.

JOSEPH HAMILL - and the NEBULOUS HUGH HAMILL.

Besides the 3 Original Brothers - who are proven - there was a 4th Brother who is not yet fully proven. Then there is persistent mention of a Joseph Hamill, and a nebulous Hugh Hamill. The main part of this book is given over to the families of the first 3 - but now let us mention the last two.

HUGH: Hugh Hamill (H-27) was "named for an Uncle" (who might be the missing Original Brother Hugh). Also, Mrs Esther E. Hamill Campbell (H-371-352) says she "often heard her father say that a boy by the name of Hugh, of the original settlers, wandered away and was never heard of again. Thought to have been one of the 4 brothers who came here." (Compiler's Note: Nathaniel (Sr, (H-1), we know, was killed by wolves, and this legend is probably confused with his case. There evidently was a Hugh, however).)

The Hamill Legends sometimes associate Hugh with a 5th Brother, who is thought to have come over later than 1761, and who went back to Ireland. Hugh is a very nebulous person, however - and we know nothing about him.

In considering this Hugh, bear in mind that there were two other prominent Hughs of those days - but they were both sons, and not Original Brothers. Hugh (H-56) was the son of John (H-5), and was prominent among the Hamills, and very well known. He was a Revolutionary Soldier and was at Valley Forge, and was a member of the Session of the Associate Presbyterian Church at Ligonier, Penna. Then there was Hugh (H-27), the son of Robert, Sr (H-2) who was prominent at Big Cove, Penna, and at Xenia, Ohio. So the very prominence of these sons may have led them to be confused with a supposed Original Brother, whom we have never been able to trace - and know nothing about.

JOSEPH: There are persistent legends about a Joseph, but no definite facts except the following: Back on 9/23/1856, John G. Hamill of Xenia, Ohio (H-269-B) (who was temporarily visiting in Georgetown, Kentucky) received a letter from Robert G. Hamill, a Dentist, living in Greensboro, Alabama, saying that his people came from Ireland, and that his Grandfather was Joseph Hamill, who emigrated to SC after the Revolution, with a Daughter and 5 Sons, named John, Hugh, Charles, Andrew and James Hamill. He asked if John G. Hamill was the son of HUGH Hamill, and said that they were probably related, and that he wanted to get acquainted. This may be a descendent of the Legendary Joseph, for Family Legends say the 4th Missing Brother did move South (See Page H-4). So what little we know about this supposed Joseph Hamill is written up on Page H-4.

We know nothing about the name of the Father of these Original Brothers. Some few suggestions as to who he might be are given in "Old Hamill Legends" - Legends #50-51-52-53-54, which follow. He probably lived and died in County Antrim, North Ireland.

It is earnestly hoped by The Compiler - and other Hamills - that various Hamill descendants may become interested in Research - and may take up the tracing of old records of Our People. That they may look up and prove many of the unknown parts of the Hamill history. And that they may add such data to these 4 copies of the Hamill Genealogy. These records are in simple Loose-Leaf form. So interested and conscientious Kinsmen may easily add new facts that will make clearer the records of our forefathers - and also of their descendants. The Compiler thus invites other Hamills to "carry on" - and make this Family History more complete and interesting.

The data about the Hamills - that we now know - is included in this Hamill Genealogy in this 1946 Revision. This covers mostly the record of the first three Brothers - with some small amount about Joseph Hamill (H-4). There is also considerable data about Hamills of other migrations to America - listed in the "Other Hamills" Section. Likewise, quite a bit of information (SEE NEXT PAGE). (12/10/1946).

THE CRUSADER'S HYMN: The Crusaders of the First Crusade - in which our Hamill ancestor, "The Palm" was a member - had a "Crusader's Hymn" which they sung as they marched against the Saracens. It was that old, melodious song of simple Faith:

" Fairest Lord Jesus, Ruler of all Nations..... "

It might be well for all Hamill Kinsmen to also learn and sing in their own homes, devotions and Churches, this beautiful, ancient hymn of simple Faith, that strengthened our Forefathers of a thousand years ago.

There is another modern-day hymn of simple Faith, which might also be adopted by all Hamills, to go with it. It is the famous US Navy Hymn:

" Eternal Father, strong to save "

The US Navy long since placed its simple Faith in the Father to whom that Hymn appeals. We all know what that Faith did for the Navy, when danger threatened in World War II. The Navy grew unbelievably fast, to a staggering size, to become the Scourge of God to teach predatory Nations "not to make war any more."

Then for a Hymn of patriotic Christian Faith, the beloved song supposedly written by, and intimately connected with our Young Kinsmen:

" The Star-Spangled Banner. "

The 4th stanza of this well-beloved Hymn is especially appropriate. The song was written by Francis SCOTT Key. And that famous flag was made by Mary YOUNG Pickens, daughter of William Young. It is not yet proven that she was of our Youngs, but they were of Baltimore and Penna - as were ours. And for hundreds of years - clear back into Ayr-Faisley-Ellerslie, Scotland - the YOUNGS-Elfers-SCOTTS-Stuarts (Stewarts) have been intermarried, and associated, and doing team-work together, and buried side-by-side and row-on-row in old graveyards. To anyone familiar with Young history, this looks like merely another example of the usual connection and team-work of these 4 associated families. Thus we feel that someday these particular Youngs-Scotts will be proven to be of our blood. It isn't unusual that Francis SCOTT Key should have poetic ability, for in our Scott Family was Sir Walter Scott, of Ayr, Scotland. So we have a double interest in this famous and well-beloved American Hymn. (See Introduction to Young Section).

Then there is another song of simple Faith - which later became adopted as the Official Hymn of the US Daughters of 1812 - which was a favorite Hymn of my Grandfather, Smith Hamill (H-125), of Keokuk, Iowa. It was so often sung in his home, and my mother, Nancy Eleanor Hamill (Mrs Albert McCalla-H-125-6), also loved it, and we sung it often. It is:

" God of our Fathers, whose Almighty Hand, leads thru the Heavens
" All the starry band of shining worlds "

(These Hymns suggested by my sister, Miss Helen Mayne McCalla, (H-125-61).
(See Historical Section - "Misc. Hamill Data" - Item # 50).

OLD HAMILL LEGENDS:

These old Legends concerning Hamill Beginnings, have been handed down from Generation-to Generation. Often they have become quite garbled in the re-telling. But in the main, they point the way - and suggest the trail back.

While in many cases, inaccuracies have crept in, and some Generation has mixed Fancy with Fact - yet in so many cases, these have been proven substantially correct. The Compiler has attempted to list here the various Family Legends of which he knows. So many were lost because they were not written-down and preserved by the Generation that is gone. It is hoped that other branches of the Family may also add to this record such Legends as they may have - typing them here in this loose-leaf record. Thus this record, The Compiler hopes, will stay ever young and active - until in Generations hence the full Hamill story will be accurately told.

Legends of North Ireland and the Migration:LEGEND # 1.

"The old Milesian Chiefs, who conquered Spain (who were Portuguese and not Moors), and who afterward invaded and settled in Ireland and became Chiefs, had one leading Chief who was known as "The O'Hamill". "The O'Hamill" owned nearly all of what is now known as County Antrim, in which Belfast is situated, the Northernmost County, which has always been Protestant" (Some old Irish History speaks of Hamills and Milesian Chiefs - but the notation has been lost. So it may be correct. Research must be made (again on this point). }

LEGEND # 2.

"One of our Hamills was Chief of all Ulster. Another Hamill was Chief of all Ireland at one time." (This last reference was found in some History) (but the notation was lost - so this is probably true. Research will (have to be made again to locate this proof).

LEGEND # 3.

"One of our Hamills was in the Crusades. He was very tall and straight, with excellent eyesight. He sighted an Oasis during the retreat from the Saracens, after one of the first great battles, and rescued many Crusaders who were dying of thirst. He carried many to the Oasis. He was there-after called "The Palm", and was given that for his Crest, or as a Quartering." (This is verified many ways, particularly by "O'Hart's Irish Pedigrees" who say: "Hamill Crest: A Palm Tree fructed proper. The name (originally "O'Adhmaille.") (See Data Page H-125).

LEGEND # 4.

"There is a large Church in Belfast, Bushmills or Coleraine, with a fine stained-glass window to "The Palm", our Crusador Hamill."

LEGEND # 5.

(Mrs Sylvia Crawford Franklin(H-124-12) says Lloyd Homer Hamill(H-121-52) (wrote 9/29/1924 to her): "The Hamills, Davidsons, Smiths all came from County Tyrone, North Ireland, taking boats at Belfast, in years 1760-5. First Hamills of our branch to come over, as far as we can learn, are 4 Brothers, John, Joseph, Robert and Hugh. My Forefather is Robert (No -it (was Nathaniel(H-1) - but his Father was Robert H.(H-121-5). I have no record of the other 3. These 3 settled in Ligonier Valley(now Fulton Co). They later moved to Bedford County about 1770, and then to Western Penna (see next page). (12/9/1946).

(about 1800) to Westmoreland County, which at that time included what is now Lawrence, Mercer, Little and Big Beaver, Erie and some others lying East of these." (Compiler's Note: The Davidsons came to America in 1736-7, but (they came to join others here earlier - so some may have come with our Hamills in 1760-1).

LEGEND # 6.

There is a Legend that the 5th Brother came over later, and went back to North Ireland. The name of Hugh is associated with this Legend.

LEGEND # 7.

A Legend says that the Hamills were ship owners, and were here in the earliest days, especially at Jamestown Colony. (Compiler's Note: There possibly was a Hamill in some early expedition to the southern part of America. (This will have to be discussed elsewhere) (See Historical section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 24).

LEGEND # 8.

(Adam Bickett Hamill(H-253) claimed 1/4/1899 in a letter): "Robert Hamill, Sr. (H-2) and two brothers came to America some time before the Revolutionary War. The Brothers were John and Hugh. Nathaniel(H-1), another Brother, was left in Ireland. He came during the war, went hunting bears in the mountains, and was lost." (Compiler's Note: Nathaniel(H-1) was definitely proven by the Penna Archives as living in Big Cove, Pa, in 1773. This brother who came later, might refer to the nebulous Hugh, as another Legend says a 5th Brother came over, but went back to Ireland).

LEGEND # 9.

The Bocketts and Hamills were intermarrying for a long time back in North Ireland before coming to America - and also after they came here. These Bocketts are supposed to be descended from the family of Thomas a Becket, the famous Martyr Archbishop of Canterbury. (See Historical section-"The Becket-Bockett-Bickett-Bigger Family.")

LEGEND # 10.

"An early-day Hamill of North Ireland was in the Siege of Londonderry, and probably other Battles and Sieges. He was captured, and held prisoner a long time in Carrickfergus Castle." (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Items # 44 - # 45).

LEGEND # 11.

The Legend of the Milesian Chiefs was confirmed in 1917 to an American Hamill, on a vacation trip in N. Ireland. A Hamill of Coleraine told him that the old Legend was true. He said: "The Hamills, who were originally O'Hamills, were Chieftains, and came from Iberia (Portugal) with Green Cloths. She brought a picked lot of men - tall, physically well-built men, who were civilized and well educated - and it was their duty to rule Ireland." (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 47). (See also Legend # 1).

Legend of the Missing 4th Brother!

LEGEND # 25.

"The 4th Original Missing Brother went South, and was never heard from again." Sometimes the name of Joseph Hamill is associated with this Legend, and very occasionally the name of Hugh Hamill. But the Legend itself is very persistent, and many Hamills of previous generations sought to locate such a Hamill. The date of his leaving is usually given as 1770-1773 - and occasionally as "after the Revolution." (See Page 1-4).

Legends of the Four Brother's FATHER:

LEGEND # 50.

Dr. Thomas Hamill, MD (H-123) claimed: "The Father of Nathaniel (H-1), Robert, Sr (H-2), and John Hamill (H-3) was a James Hamill, who married a Junhans. (See Data Page H-1) (Compiler's Note: remember that the Junhans were as associated with the Hamilla as far as Big Cove, Pa - worth considering).

LEGEND # 51.

Rosanna Hamill (H-124-2) claimed: "The Father of Robert, Sr (H-2) and Nathaniel, Sr (H-1) was Nathaniel Hamill, and he married a Clendenning. (See Hist-Original Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item #40) (Compiler's Note: The Clendenning's or Clendennings have been mentioned many times in connection with the early Hamilla - worth considering. But bear in mind that this may be confused with the Davidsons, where William Davidson (A) did marry a Mary (Clendenning) (See Davidson section)..

LEGEND # 52.

Sylvia Crawford Franklin (H-124-12) claimed: "John Hamill was the Father of Nathaniel Hamill, Sr (H-1), who married Martha Beckett. (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 15).

LEGEND # 53:

The Father of the 4 Original Brothers was said to have been James or John, but this again is unverified. Carrie Sherman Hamill (H-125-8), and also Rev. Thomas Lawrence Sexton, LL (H-125-1) both believed that the Father was John. Smith Hamill (H-125) believed that James was the Father, and said he lived in Penna, also that the Hamilla came in the very beginning, owned ships, and went back and forth. (Compiler's Note: This last may refer to the Youngs, who were ship-owners of Baltimore. (See Young Section-Family A) (Also see Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 42).

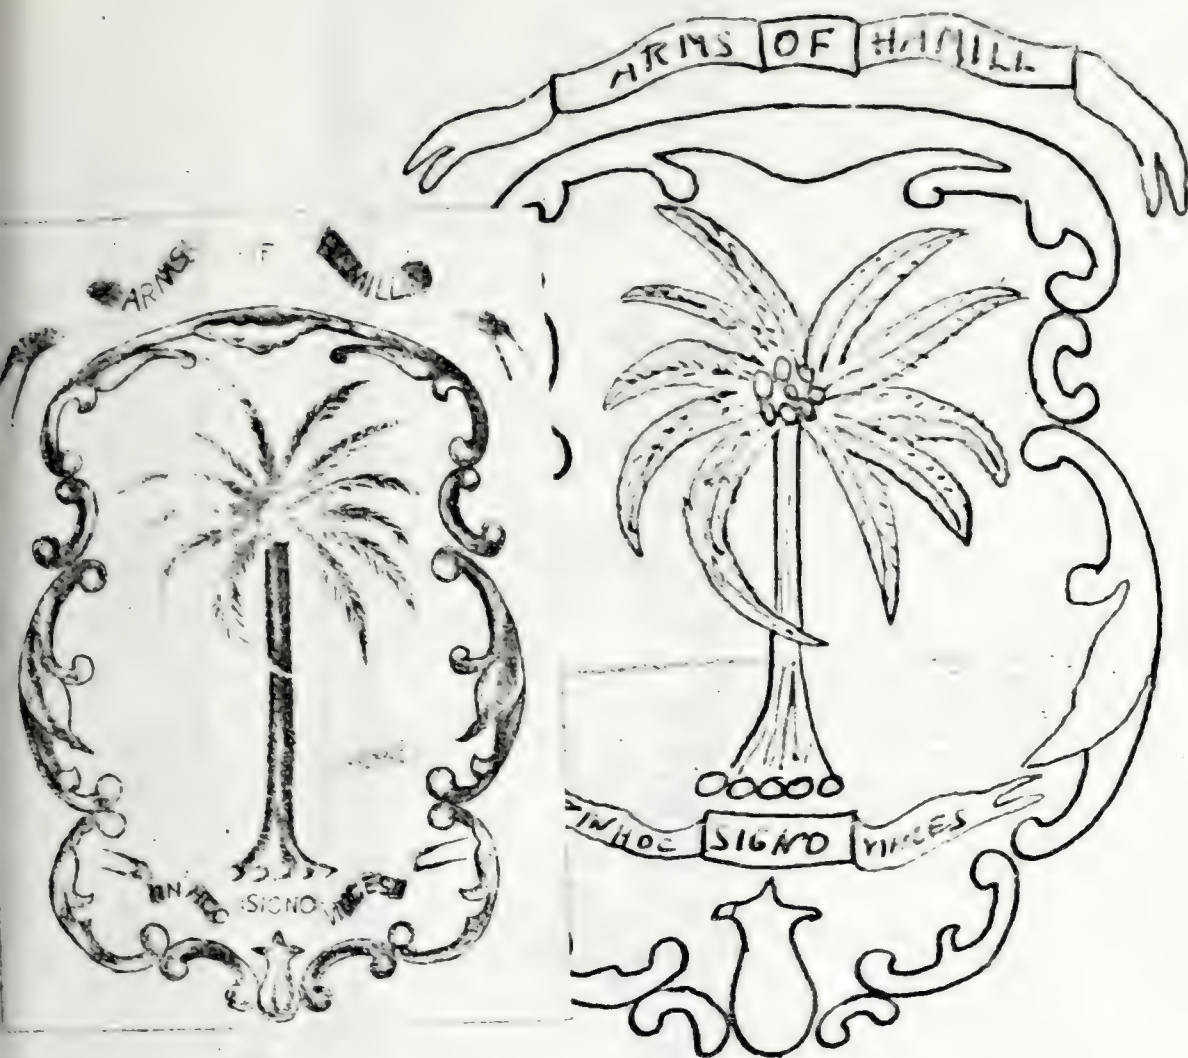

LEGEND # 54.

Joseph Randless Hamill (H-252) of Xenia, Ohio, claimed that Robert Hamill, Sr. (H-2) Father died in Ireland. He also claimed that Robert Hamill, Sr. (H-2) was born in North Ireland, and came to America about 1770. (Compiler's Note: The Brothers came to America in 1761, and Robert, Sr (H-2) was proven in Big Cove, Penna, in 1766) (See Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 33).

(See also Historical Section-"Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 16).

(Compiler's Note: We simply do not know the name of the Father. This will have to await research in North Ireland. Possibly some Kinsman may locate another old letter from Sarah ("Aunt Sally") Hamill (H-15), stating flatly the name of her Grandfather in North Ireland. This would settle the matter.

THE HAMILL COAT OF ARMS.

Other Hamill Crest:
"Festigia Mula Resonant"
 (no steps backward)
 HAMILL (Ireland)
 Arms: Argent. Two Bars Etrusque
 Crest: On a bent arm, a sword.
 (National Arms)

The Smith Hamill (#125) Family, and the descendents of Nathaniel Hamill (#1) have always used as a Coat of Arms, the Palm Tree, with the motto: "In Hoc Signo Vinctes." (By this Sign We Conquer). The right to use this was won by a Hamill of the early days, who was in the Crusades against the Saracens. He was very tall, straight and slender. On a retreat across the desert, because of his height he was able to sight an Oasis in the distance, which saved the lives of the Crusaders, who were dying of thirst. He is said to have rescued many survivors. As a result, he was given the sobriquet of "The Palm", and was given the right to use that tree thereafter as his Crest or as a quartering on the regular Hamill Coat of Arms.

This was always a legend among the Smith Hamill family, but was said to have been verified to Smith Hamill by some of the Baltimore Hamills, whom he visited at one time. Also, there was a window in that Church, near Belfast, Ireland, which Carrie Hamill (#1258) visited, but which was shortly afterward burned. This window was in honor of this Crusader Hamill.

There are also other Hamill Crests used by other branches of the Hamill family. (See Page "F" under the heading "Other Hamills" in back of this book.)

A very kindly and much loved old lady, gentle and friendly, and welcomed everywhere.

HAMILL GENEALOGY:

H-1.

Data Page on NATHANIEL HAMILL, SR - MARTHA BECKETT.

Nathaniel - Hamill, Sr(H-1) was born in _____, (probably near Belfast), County Antrim, North-Ireland, and probably came to America in 1759-1761, and probably settled first at Shaner Valley, (near Salmer's Port), Westmoreland County, Penna. (See Page H-3). The name of his father is unknown. From 1770-3, we know that Nathaniel(H-1) and family, and also Robert, Sr(H-2) and family, lived at Big Cove, Ayr Township, Bedford (now Sulton) County, Penna. This is a place just south of McConnellsburg.

However, Nathaniel, Sr. and Robert, Sr(H-2), may have come to Big Cove in 1761 or shortly thereafter. It had always been supposed that they came to Big Cove in 1770-3, but their exact whereabouts from 1761 to 1770-3 us unknown. But Robert, Sr(H-2) is proven at Big Cove from 1766 and thereafter. (See Historical Section- "Misc. Hamill Data" - Items 7-14-15-34-39-45-48-58-59-61-63 (letter dated 3/1/1915)).

According to family legends, Nathaniel, Sr., said that he heard a pack of Wolves, and took his Gun and Powder Horn, and went out after them in a snowstorm, and was never heard of again. It is said that about 20 years later, his Gun and Powder Horn were found by a "short, dark woman" in a wedding party. The Gun had his name upon it. (See Hist. Section- "Misc. Hamill Data" - Item 10).

It is an exceedingly strange coincidence in this connection, which happened to The Compiler's brother, Colonel Lee A. McCalla(H-125-64), In 1909 Lee was visiting at Wackinac Island, at the head of Lake Michigan and near the Straits of Wackinac. There he saw an old Ledger of the Astor Fur Co., kept as a Souvenir in the Hotel Astor there. The Hotel people have claimed since that this Ledger was later burned in the fire which destroyed the old Nail Smelter, and that they now have only the records from 1816 on. In that old Ledger Lee definitely saw an entry of Supplies, or "Grabstake" issued to Nathaniel Hamill, about 1806-9, (as Lee remembers it), in order that Nathaniel Hamill could go fur hunting and exploying in the "Chicago Country" (now Chicago). The item was marked "Unpaid," and also marked "Killed by Wolves." (See Historical Section- "Misc. Hamill Data" - Items 10-53 (letter dated 3/1/1915)).

(Letter dated 4/1/1939 from Louis R. Hamill(H-121-51) says): "Mrs C. F. Fendrick of Mercersburg, Penna; (she is unknown to The Compiler), found the data re Nathaniel(H-1) marriage to Martine Beckett, among old-papers in her cellar. This confirms knowledge we already had that Nathaniel(H-1) married Martine Beckett on 6/13/1775, and that the marriage was performed by Rev. John King, at the Upper West Conococheague Presby. Church, in Mercersburg, Penna."

(Compiler's Note: There was also an old rumor that Nathaniel had been married in 1773-5 in Chester Valley, Head-of-Blk, which then was in Maryland. This rumor is now discredited, and is carried here for purposes of record).

For Martine Beckett, see "The Becket-Beckett-Bickett-Bigger Family" in the Historical Section, in the back of this Genealogy. This Martine Beckett, who married Nathaniel Hamill, Sr(H-1), was a sister of the Mary Beckett who married Robert Hamill, Sr(H-2). Thus, two of the Original 4 Brothers married two sisters. See also note on these "Becketts" on Page H-25, and Pages H-2, & H-25, for other "Beckett" intermarriages. See also Pages H-263, H-264, H-274, H-275, for "Bigger" intermarriages. See also Data Page H-26.

Martine Beckett was a young widow when she married her sister, Mary Beckett, married Nathaniel's brother, Robert Hamill, Sr(H-2). After Nathaniel's death, Martine and her family (except Sarah(H-15)), moved on West to the Shaner Valley, Penna, neighborhood, (North Beaver Township, Lawrence County, Penna), with the Davidsons, Hopes, some Smiths, etc. This was in 1800. Martine's gravestone in Catholic Church Cemetery (SEE OTHER SIDE). (7/20/1943).

The CHILDREN of NATHANIEL(H-1).

Sarah("Aunt Sally") Hamill(H-15), wrote 9/5/1864 to Cousins (who were Grandchildren of Robert Hamill, Sr(H-2), in Ohio, Ohio: "I am the daughter of Nathaniel Hamill(H-1), a brother of your Grandfather(H-2), and my mother a sister of your Grandmother." (This means that Nathaniel(H-1) and Robert Sr(H-2), were Brothers, and that their wives were Sisters). Sarah(H-15) never married, and remained with Cousins Robert & Hugh(Probably H-36 and H-37), at Idgonier, Penna. In her letter she also mentioned visiting "Cousins Archibald (who is unknown) and Allan"(who is probably H-371-C). She also mentioned visiting a "William Hamill who had a mud fort." (History mentions a Wm. Hamill who had a mud fort at Millingsport, Penna - but he is unknown, and we do not know just where he fits in the Hamill Genealogy. He may belong to some Hamill Family in the "Other Hamills Section"). - "Aunt Sally" (Sarah) Hamill(H-15) afterwards settled on the 2nd Old Hamill Farm near Enon Valley, Penna, where she died. This old farm is at present owned by Colonel Thomas Hamill(H-124-72), which has been continuously owned by Hamills since about 1800 - which is 146 years(in 1946).

See Page II-15 for further data on Sarah("Aunt Sally") Hamill.

"After the rest of the family west west to Enon Valley, Penna, "Aunt Sally" Hamill(H-15), stayed on at Idgonier Valley, Penna, with her Cousins, Robert(H-37), Hugh(H-36), Archibald(who might have been H-371-C1) Hamill, and Sam Allen (?) and Sam Dunham (?). She is buried at Bethel Church, Enon Valley, North Beaver Township, Lawrence County, Penna." (Data by Mrs Sylvia Crawford Franklin(H-124-12)).

In connection with the Archibald Hamill, whom "Aunt Sally" Hamill(H-15) visited, note the following: There was, besides the Archibald(H-371-C1), also another Archibald, listed in the "Other Hamills Section" who was not so closely related - who in fact, was of another separate migration to America. This other Archibald Hamill (See Penna Archives-3-12-400) at East Fallowfield, Chester County, Penna (Londonderry Tax Rate) in 1768. He would therefore be a member of the Fallowfield or Parkersburg Hamills - but he is not listed in such records as we have of that Family G - although he is mentioned in the Penna Archives, as stated. (See "Other Hamills Section," (Family G). It might be this Archibald Hamill whom she visited, or it is much more likely that "Aunt Sally"(H-15) was visiting her own "Cousin" Archibald(H-371-C1), at or near Idgonier Valley, Penna.

John Hamill, Sr(H-12), and Nathaniel Hamill, Jr(H-11), were among the first Elders of St Jackson UP Church, at St Jackson, Penna (MD Newcastle), of which Church, Rev. Robert Hamill, (H-373-17), a descendent of John Hamill, (H-3), was now in 1929, the Pastor. For early records of the Dungan Family see Warner's "History of Beaver County, Penna, (Pages 87-90).

"Nathaniel Hamill, Jr(H-11) had 3 Girls, the last to die being Cynthia Hamill Dungan, who lived nearby." (Source of this Data unknown).

"Grandmother Martha Beckett Hamill(H-1) came across the mountains about 1800 from Idgonier Valley (?) and Big Cove, Penna, to Enon Valley, Penna, which is very close to the Ohio State line, and is called North Beaver Twp. (Letter from Mrs Sylvia Crawford Franklin(H-124-12)).

"Uncle Thomas Hamill, MD(H-129), brother of Smith Hamill(H-125), said that the Father of Nathaniel(H-1), Robert, Sr(H-2), and John Hamill(H-3), was a James Hamill, who married a Dunham." (Statement in 1931 by Miss Helen Mayne McCalle-H-125-51).

This possibility has never been traced, but it might give us a clue as to the Father's name. Note above, that "Aunt Sally"(H-15) visited a "Cousin" (SEE OTHER SIDE). (11/15/1946) who was Sam Dunham.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR RECORD of NATHANIEL HAMILL, SR, (H-1).

(Copy of Letter-dated 9/1/1899-to Mrs. Rev. Thomas L. Sexton, MD (Rosa Davidson)
(Hamill) (H-125-1)-Lincoln, Nebraska - from Dr. William H. Egle, MD, State Hist (orian, State of Penna, Penna State Library, Harrisburg, Penna.)
Mrs Thomas L. Sexton, Harrisburg, Penna, June 14th, 1899,

Dear Madam: In reply permit me to state:

I find Robert Hamill, (Probably H-2), was a resident of Ayr Township, Bedford now Fulton County, comprising the "Great Cove" from 1773 to 1784. He owned 133 acres of land. In 1784 his family consisted of 10 persons.

John Hamill, Inmate, (Possibly may have been H-3) resided in the same loc ality during the years mentioned. In 1784 his family consisted of 7 persons.

Nathaniel Hamill, (Probably H-1), in same township, marked "single" from 1773 to 1776. He had in 1783, 190 acres of land, and in 1784, his family consisted of seven persons. Both Robert (H-2) and Nathaniel Hamill (H-1) served in the militia during the Revolution, on at least tours of duty in 1779 and 1781. I find no service of John. Yours with respect, William H. Egle."

Harrisburg, Penna, June 15th, 1899.

"To Whom It May Concern:

I hereby testify that the services of Robert Hamill and Nathaniel Hamill in the War of the Revolution were as follows:

Nathaniel Hamill, of Ayr Township, Bedford County, Penna, served in the War of the Revolution, neither rank or company being given, and paid for two tours of duty on the Frontiers of Bedford County in 1779 and 1781. For Reference, see Penna Archives, Third Series, Volume 23, Page 235.

Respectfully submitted, William Henry Egle, MD,
Editor History of Penna in the Revolution."

Revolutionary War Record: (From Penna Archives-Giving Series-Volume-Page):

Nathaniel Hamel, Private, Bedford County Militia, List of Depreciation-Pay. (Penna Archives-5-4-240).

Nathaniel Hamel, Private, Bedford Co, (General List Soldiers of the Revolution, without company or regiment being stated). (Penna Archives-5-4-605).

Nathaniel Hamell, Bedford Co, 1778-83, listed as "Rangers of the Frontiers." (Penna Archives-3-23-235).

These were the only mention of Nathaniel Hamill, Sr, in regard to Military Record found in the Penna Archives, in this particular search. (See Historic
- (al Section- "Misc. Hamill Data"-Item 41).

"WAR DEPARTMENT, ASJ. GENL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, DC - August 29, 1924.

Mr. Paul H. McCalla, 2316 Calumet Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Neither the name John A. Hamill, Hamil, Hamble, Hammill or Hamnell, nor the name Nathaniel Hamill, Hamil, Hamnell, Hamble or Hamill has been found on the records on file in this office, of Penna Soldiers in the War of the Revolution. The records show that one John Hamble served in that War as a Private, in Capt. David Wilson's Co, 5th In, Chester Co, Penna Militia, Commanded by Col. Richard Thomas. His name appears on a Company muster roll of that organization taken from December 18th to 24th, inclusive, dated 12/23/1776. No further record of his service has been found. The collection of Revolut. War records in this office is far from complete, and it is suggested as a possibility that additional information may be obtained from the Librarian, Penna State Library, Harrisburg, Penna, or the Commissioner of Pensions, Washington, DC. Robert C. Davis, Maj-Genl."

(CO-PIER'S NOTE: Penna State Library has no record on Nathaniel Hamill) (Bureau Pensions, Washington, DC, say 9/29/1924, have no record on him.)
(SEE OTHER SIDE). (7/21/1948).

(The War Department advised 10/28/1924, that there was a Nathaniel Hamill who served in the Revolutionary War, Private, Capt. Henry Dodge's Co, Fredk. Weissenfel's Regiment, NY Levies, appointed 8/15/1781 for 4 months).

(Compiler's Note: This letter undoubtedly refers to a family of Gansana by that name, from Burlington, NJ. (See NJ. Archives), and also from Esopus, NY, and from Kingston, NY, (See NY Archives). -

(The Sam H. Hamill mentioned in the War Dept. letter is listed in the Penna Archives (2-13-91) as in General List of Soldiers of the Revolution, (No Company or Regiment given). (Compiler's Note: Dr. W. H. Egle wrote later that the "H" was a mistake, and that it should be just "JONES HAMILL."

RECAPITULATION:

Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., served in the Revolutionary War, as proven by the Penna Archives citations in the 1st paragraph. That the War Department has no record of him does not mean anything, as thousands of other soldiers are not recorded there either. Record in the Penna Archives is sufficient to admit descendants to the DAR, or to the Sons of the Revolution. Proof that our Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., lived at Ayr Twp, Bedford County, Penna, all during the period of the Revolution (from 1773 to 1783, at least); is proven by the following citations in the Penna Archives: 5-4-240, 3-22-8, 5-4-59, 5-4-605, 3-22-98, 3-22-152, 3-22-310, 3-22-180, 3-22-235, 3-22-243, 3-23-235.

Paul Hamill McCalla, born 1/10/1884 at Fairfield, Iowa, resident of Chicago, Ill, son of Albert McCalla, born Bloomington, Ind, 12/1/1846, died Chicago, Ill, 6/6/1918, and who married Nancy Eleanor Hamill, who was born at Keokuk, Iowa, on 10/9/1849, and died --- --- --- --- ---, and who were married at Keokuk, Iowa, 5/16/1871. Eleanor H. Hamill was the daughter of Smith Hamill, who was born at Enon Station, Lawrence Co, Penna, on 7/23/1815, and died at Keokuk, Iowa, 11/8/1895, and who married Nancy MacClellan MacCandless, who was born at Enon Station, Penna, 9/15/1816, and who died at Keokuk, Iowa, 11/16/1898, and who was married at Lancaster, Pa, 1/30/1838. Smith Hamill was the son of John Hamill, Sr., who was born at Big Cove, Bedford County, Penna, 4/23/1779, and died at Enon Valley, Lawrence County, Penna, 9/5/1850, and Marganna Davidson, who was born at Londonderry, County Tyrone, Ireland, 8/16/1783, and who died at Keokuk, Iowa, 2/8/1865, and who was married at North Beaver Twp, (Enon Valley), Penna, 3/30/1807. John Hamill, Sr., was the son of Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., who was born supposedly in Ireland on 9/7/1730, and who died at Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Bedford Co, Pa, on 1/6/1799, and who married Martin Beckett, who was born in 1734, and who died in Lawrence Co, Penna, 4/30/1817, and who were married at Head-of-Elk, Md, in 1773-5, (??). Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., was a brother of Robert Hamill, Sr., and John Hamill, who settled at Palmer's Port, in the Edgemonier Valley, Penna, in 1761. (See OTHER DATA) (11/15/1946)

Additional Facts on the Back of the Application:

The Hamills were descended from Crusaders, and our branch of the Family won its Palm Tree Crest in the Crusades, because this Hamill sighted an Oasis and rescued many Christians. Because this Hamill was so tall, he was given the name of "The Palm". The Hamills lived at Ashmills, County Antrim, N. Ireland, (??), and at that place there was a large Church, which burned from 1901 to 1912, and which contained a window to the Crusader Hamill. There was a record there of many Hamills coming to America and in 1759 to 1760, several, with other relatives, left for America. In 1761 they appeared at Palmer's Fort, Agonier Valley, Penna. There were 3 Brothers, Nathaniel Hamill, Sr., Robert Hamill, Sr., and John Hamill. John remained at Indiana, Penna, Nathaniel, Sr. and Robert, Sr., went to Big Cove, Ayr Twp, Penna, about 1770-3, where they were at the time of the Revolution. About 1799, Nathaniel was killed by wolves, his Gun and Powder Horn being found later. His widow and Children, with other relatives, moved on to what is now Lawrence County, between Enon Valley and Mt Jackson, Penna, in 1800.

Nathaniel had children as follows: Nathaniel, Jr., married (1st) Katherine Lackey and (2nd) Anna Johnstone. John, Sr., married Rosanna Davidson (our Ancestor). Martha married Robert Smith (descendants said to have joined their Cousins at Kenia, Ohio). Jane married John Smith (a brother) and had no children. Sarah was a Spinster.

Robert Hamill, Sr., was the 2nd Brother, was in the Revolution, and had 2 wives and 8 children. John Hamill, the 3rd Brother, was drafted in the Revolutionary War, but his son Robert, Jr., served with distinction in his place. He had 7 children. Son Hugh was in the Revolution (Penna Archives place. (2-10-659)). Son Robert, Jr., had 2 wives and 12 children, and served 3 times in the Revolutionary War for his Father, for his Brother Hugh, and for himself. Said to have removed to Bedford County, Penna, in 1776. Was in the Battle of Bunker Hill. Hugh enlisted at Fairfield, Westmoreland Co, Penna, 8/1776, as a Private under Capt. Miller in the 8th Penna. Robert enlisted December 1776 as a Private under Capt. John Kenneroy for 2 months from Fairfield, Westmoreland Co. Both had many re-enlistments. John (The Father) was in the Penna Line, and received Appreciation Pay to 1/1/1781.

Nathaniel Hamill is mentioned in the Penna Archives as follows: 6-4-240, 3-22-8, 5-4-59, 5-4-605; 3-22-93, 3-22-152, 3-22-310, 3-22-180, 3-22-255, 3-22-243. See further records in HAMILL GENEALOGY, in possession of Applicant, or Smith Hamill, 33 Hamill Co, 4th & Johnson Sts, Keokuk, Ia.

"Mrs Albert McCalla (Sylvia Maenan Crawford-H-124-12) stated: "There was a Hamill legend that Nathaniel Hamill, Sr(H-1) was 'killed dead or alive' by John Dunham during the Revolution, in order to go on a Surveying trip-in ahead of the Soldiers. Nathaniel, Sr, however, had been sent on a special mission, and never knew of the tempest at home." (Compiler's Note: There is a great mystery in Nathaniel, Sr's disappearance. He was supposedly killed by wolves, and his Gun and powder Horn were found long after. Also records of a Nathaniel Hamill (of 1800-1809) were found in 1909 at Mackinac Island, Mich. (See final H-1 Data Page herewith). Also it was stated that a Nathaniel Hamill, (See Historical Section- "Misc. (Dr. Thomas Hamill, Md(H-129) wrote in Feby. or March, 1896): "....."Aunt Sally"(H-15) was my Father's(H-12) sister. There were 3 sisters, (H-13-H-14, H-15)-and two brothers(H-11, H-12) of my Father's family. So that Miss McCalla(H-125-61) has got all that I can give. My Father(H-12) was the oldest of the children. I do not think any of my Father's(H-12) family were born in Ireland. I think they were all born in the US.- On my mother's(H-12) side, she was born in Ireland. I think she was 7 years old when she came to this Country. I do not know where to place the births of the family. As near as I can recollect, Father(H-12) was the oldest, then Martha(H-13). The others I can not place. I believe I have given all that I know of the family history....."(See Letters Section- "Misc. Hamill Letters" #1).

(Mr Clinton Franklin(Sylvia Maenan Crawford-H-124-12), Omaha, Neb, wrote on 10/7/1926, wrote Miss Helen Mayna McCalla(H-125-6) of Chicago): ".....From the copies of the Tax Lists enclosed, (See Misc. Section- "Ladford Co, Penna, Records") there may be some truth in the contention of the different members of the family that the original ancestor was named Nathaniel(H-1). You will find that after 1788, the name of Nathaniel Hamill does not appear upon the list of Tax books, and I infer from the talk and tradition of the family that it was about this time he had the bad grace to be eaten up by wolves or some other wild animal....."

(Paul H. McCalla(H-125-65-The Compiler) wrote on 1/21/1924 to Mr Clinton Franklin(Sylvia Maenan Crawford-H-124-12), Omaha, Neb): ".....In regard to the death of Nathaniel Hamill(H-1), husband of Martha Beckett. Was his body ever found, and was he ever buried at Big Cove? The reason why I ask this is because of a record which my brother Lee(H-125-64) saw many years ago at Mackinac Island, which is as follows: Lee A. McCalla(H-125-64), about 1909, was at Mackinac Island (head of Lake Michigan), Michigan, and saw an old Ledger of the Astor Fur Co, kept as a souvenir in the Hotel Astor there (from the days of the old Astor Fur post). The Hotel people since claim that this was burned up in the fire in the old Mail Station, and that the only books which they have left are dated from 1816 on. The entry Lee saw was dated about 1800 to 1806 or 1809, he thinks, and shows (SEE NEXT PAGE). (3/21/1947).

an entry of supplies (or grubstake) to Nathaniel Hamill, so that he could go fur hunting and trapping in the "Chicago Country" (now Chicago), and the entry was charged off and never paid, and marked, "Killed by Wolves."

(Mr Clinton Franklin(H-124-12) wrote 1/28/1896): "...Talking the matter over with Sylvia (his wife-H-124-12) last night, she mentioned a Preacher, I think his name was Brown, whom she first met when she came to the West. This gentleman married a Hamill (Probably H-272, who married a Rev. Thomas Brown), from the neighborhood of Cadiz, Ohio. He stated that there were 4 Brothers, John, Nathaniel, Robert & Hugh. Robert settled near Philadelphia, presumably Chester County, John and Hugh in the Great Cove, Fulton County, Penna, and Nathaniel went to Tennessee...." (See Letters Section- "Misc. Egle, MD, of Harrisburg, Penna. (Librarian of Penna State Library-Editor of Penna Archives-See Note at end of this Letter). I told him all I knew - "Tradition" and the "Bickett Story" - which I sent you - barring all that. He found our Great-Great-Grandfather to be Nathaniel Hamill(Sr-H-1) of Apr Twp, Bedford Co, Penna, now Fulton County - comprising the "Big Cove." He was marked "Single" from 1775 to 1776. "Had in 1783, 190 acres of land." Later his family consisted of 7 persons. Five children and the parents. - just what they had. He gives me the full record of Robert and John of the same locality. Their family and record would not suit our ancestor at all. Robert(H-57) and Nathaniel(H-1) were both in the Revolutionary War. He could find no record of John's service. I accept Nathaniel(H-1) as my Ancestor. Dr Egle is publisher of the Penna Archives, and is the highest authority, they told me.

The "Bear Story," Nellie(H-125-6) says, is told about the Davidsons too. I expect our Great-Great-Grandfather sleeps in a quiet grave, in some Churchyard, obscure now from lapse of time. I have learned to pay no attention to "hearsay" tradition. I have Dr. Egle's Certificate, and will believe in it, until someone contests it, which I think cannot be done..... Robert Hamill's(probably H-2) family consisted of 10 persons....." (See Letters Section- "Misc. Hamill Letters" #2).

(Mrs Robert G. Horne (Martha Sarah Hamill-H-125-5) wrote on 3/1/1915): ".....Hamill (Horne-Horison-living in Phila, Pa) says there are Hamills living in Trenton, New Jersey, who are very nice people, and come into his office occasionally, and claim relationship. They say that one of the original Brothers remained there - when they came from Ireland - while the others went into Penna. Hamill(H-125-51) says that he found one Nathaniel Hamill was a Government Surveyor - probably that was ours - and that was why he went into the woods - and was not eaten by big, bad bears - did they sure find his powder horn and gun?.....I have a copy of an old letter of "Aunt Sally's"(H-15) - but it is lacking in dates, although she mentions that she was in her 81st year. She speaks of her Father being Nathaniel Hamill(H-1). The letter was written to some Xenia Hamills. I will send a copy of them to you if you want them. I copied them from some Carrie(H-125-2) had....." (See Historical Section- "Misc. Hamill Data"-Item # 53).

(From Letters Section- "Misc. Hamill Letters" #1): "...Aunt Sallie(H-15) died in 1872, aged 92 years (??-should be 94). This would place her birth in 1780 (??-should be 1778). - Sylvia(H-124-12) remembers seeing an old (SEE NEXT PAGE). (3/21/1947)

Bible, the property of "Aunt Sally" (H-15), in which she made the following entry: "Sailed from Belfast, Ireland, October (or November) 30, 1790." (It must have been 1790 - 1791) time making her 10 years of age at the time she sailed. James Hamill (H-121) has always asserted that she was 94 at the time of her death. Unfortunately, this Bible has disappeared." (Compiler's Note: Could this have been confused with a similar entry of sailing contained in the Davidson Bible? (See Main Page A-Davidson section). However, this Hamill sailing must have been 1790, and must have referred to her father, Nathaniel, Sr. (H-1) - as "Aunt Sally" (H-15) was born at Big Cove, Penna, as were her brothers and sisters. (See Historical section - Desc. Hamill Data - Items 257-260) (See also following section):

(Clinton Franklin (I-124-12) wrote on 1/24/1946): ".....Sylvia (his wife - I-124-13) remembered seeing an old Bible that was the property of "Aunt Sally" (H-15), in which was the record: "Sailed from Belfast, Ireland, Oct 30th, 1790." At the time of her sailing, she must have been 10 years old..... (Compiler's Note: "Aunt Sally" (H-15) was born in 1778 at Big Cove, Pa, so could not have been on that boat, but her father, Nathaniel, Sr. (H-1) probably was. Remember that Sylvia was quoting this from memory, and we believe that she remembers the date wrong, and that it should be 1790. Two generations have searched frantically for that "old black-covered Bible," without results. It was supposed to have been in the possession of James Glen (H-121-61) of Osceola, Kansas, the adopted son of Coriolis Hamill (H-121-6), daughter of John Hamill, Sr. (H-121). But James Glen said that he knew nothing about the Bible - and so there the matter rests. If we had that Bible, we'd have absolute proof of Nathaniel, Sr.'s family. The Compiler wonders if this missing Bible could have been loaned to the Kansas Library at Haysburg, Pa - who also were loaned so many valuable old Hamill records - and which library burned suddenly just before they were ready to go to press with fine old Hamill and Young records. All that had been loaned them, with all their own records, were destroyed in that disastrous fire. Does anyone know about this? (See Historical section - "Desc. Hamill Data" - Items 257-260).

Compiler's Note: A Genealogical Chart of Hamillia owned (5/5/1947) by Mrs Albert J. Owen (Sylvia Ellen Miller) (I-124-113) of Berling, Pa. - lists Nathaniel Hamill as having married a Glendinning. Actually, we know Nathaniel, Sr. (H-1) married Martha Beckett. Also, we know that it was W. Davidson, Sr. (H-1A) who married Mary Glendinning in Ireland. (See Davidson section). However, in 1947, we know nothing of the father of the 4 Original Hamill Brothers - and it is possible that this father might have married a Glendinning. Only research in Ireland will tell.

Cynthia(H-114) is married to Thomas Dungan, and has 4 little boys, and lives near me. The Thomas Dungan who married Cynthia Hamill, (H-114) had 1 child by his 1st wife, and this son was John Dungan. (Compiler's Note: No, (this is a mistake - He had 11 Children - See list below).

 Compiler's Note: There is a Dungan Genealogy in the Hamill Library, Chicago - (See exact title in article below) - according to (10/10/1948) Mr Robert Wilkison Evans, (Davidson A-131-311-1-Family A-Davidson Section-Hamill Genealogy), of 131 Lakeside Drive, New Concord, Ohio - then a student at the University of Chicago, Illinois.

Also - the Chicago Daily News-10/2/1948- showed a picture of 2 pretty girls and their escorts. The caption under the picture read: "The Dungan Dabs. Sue (at left) and Marilyn Dungan go dancing. Their partners in the 'Lafair Room (at Blackstone Hotel-Chicago) are Jack Gustick and Thomas Wints. The Albert H. Dungs of Winnetka, (Illinois) are the girl's parents." (They are evidently women Catholics, for a picture of Sue in the Chicago Tribune of (4/20/1949, shows her at a Catholic benefit).

There was also a picture in the Chicago Tribune Photogravure Section-11/27/1949- "Helen Dungan, a Sophomore from Franklin, Indiana, one of 6 girls who launched pledge careers at the 'I Phi party at Indiana U." (Bloomington, Ind).

Data Page on CYNTHIA -- HAMILL -- Hon. THOMAS -- DUNGAN:

(From Data Page A-114-2): "....the late Hon. Thomas Dungan was one of Lawrence County's (Penna) prominent men and was a leading factor in public life for a number of years. He was born in Holliday's Cove, West Virginia, and was a son of Robert Dungan. Thomas Dungan came to Western-Pennsylvania a young and ambitious man. He settled on land which is now the site of Mt Air, (Penna), which farm he sold in 1856 and moved on the farm which is now owned by his son, Horace R. His occupation through life was farming, but public affairs claimed a large measure of his attention. He was the first Representative sent from Lawrence County to the General Assembly (of Penna) and served two terms, (1851-1852), and he secured the charter for the Courthouse and the old Cemetery at New Castle. He died on the present farm July 10, 1873, aged seventy-five. He was married (1st) to Jane Witherspoon, and (2nd) to Cynthia Hamill. The latter was a daughter of Nathaniel Hamill, (Jr. A-11), who was a Soldier in the War of 1812.

The 2nd Mrs Dungan died in April 21, 1903, having been the mother of four children, namely: Alonzo H, who died in boyhood; Horace R; Emmet Wilson, residing in Mt Air, and Charles, who died in California. There were 11 children born to Thomas Dungan by his first marriage (to Jane Witherspoon): Mollie, who died in the Spring of 1908, who was the wife of James McLaughlin; Harriet, deceased, was the wife of William Davidson, (See Wm. F. Davidson-Davidson A-121- (Family A-Davidson Section Hamill Genealogy); Thomas S., deceased; Deborah, deceased, was the wife of William Miller; Betsey, deceased; Robert H, residing in Mechanicstown, Ohio; William W, residing in Hastings, Nebraska; George, residing in Hastings, Neb; John H, residing at New Castle, (Penna); Quinton A, residing in Lincoln, Neb; and Thomas Edwin, who died in infancy. (Note: These 11 children by 1st wife are not related to the Hamills).

(From Data Page A-114-3): "....Thomas Dungan was born in Virginia in 1799, and when a young man came to Pennsylvania, located in Lawrence Co. He was there elected to the State Legislature of Pennsylvania; serving in that office at the time Lawrence County was formed. His second marriage was with Miss Cynthia Hamill; whose Grandfather, (A-1-it was her Grandmother) was a pioneer of the community, and located on the site of Bethel Church...."

-Page 455 - Horace R. Dungan, one of North Beaver Township's representative citizens, resides on his excellent farm of fifty acres, which lies on Small's Ferry Road, just South of the Mt Jackson-Petersburg lower road. He was born on this farm in N. Beaver Township, Lawrence Co, Penna, May 6, 1857, and is a son of Hon. Thomas and Cynthia (Hamill) Dungan.

The late Hon. Thomas Dungan was one of Lawrence County's prominent men and was a leading factor in public life for a number of years. He was born in Holliday's Cove, West Virginia, and was a son of Robert Dungan. Thomas Dungan came to Western Pennsylvania a young and ambitious man. He settled on land which is now the site of Mt Air, which farm he sold in 1856 and moved on the farm which is now owned by his son, Horace R. His occupation through life was farming, but public affairs claimed a large measure of his attention. He was the first representative sent from Lawrence County to the General Assembly (of Penna) and served two terms, (1851-1852), and he secured the Charter for the Courthouse and the old Cemetery at New Castle. He died on the present farm July 10, 1873, aged seventy-five. He was married (1st) to Jane Witherspoon and (2nd) to Cynthia Hamill. The latter was a daughter of Nathaniel Hamill, (Jr-H-11), who was a soldier in the War of 1812. The 2nd Mrs Dungan died in April 21, 1903, having been the mother of four children, namely: Alonzo H, who died in boyhood; Horace R; Emmet Wilson, residing in Mt Air, and Charles who died in California. There were 11 children born to Thomas Dungan by his first marriage (to Jane Witherspoon): Mollie, who died in the Spring of 1908, who was the wife of James McLaughlin; Harriet, deceased, was the wife of William Davidson, (See Wm. F. Davidson-Davidson A-121-Family A-Davidson Section-Hamill) (Genealogy); Thomas S, deceased; Deborah, deceased, was the wife of William Miller; Betsey, deceased; Robert H. residing in Mechanicsstown, Ohio; William W, residing in Hastings, Nebraska; George, residing at Hastings, Neb; John H, residing at New Castle, (Penna); Quinton A, residing at Lincoln, Neb; and Thomas Edwin who died in infancy. (Note: These 11 children by 1st wife are not related to Hamills).

The old home farm has always been Mr Dungan's home and he has given his attention to cultivating its acres and improving its natural advantages ever since he reached manhood. He is a member of the Bethel United Presbyterian Church, and it was his Great-Grandfather, John Lackey, (Father of Catherine Lackey-H-11), who donated the land on which this Church stands. Mr Dungan's immediate family and its connections have all been people of standing and usefulness in this section for many years.

"Page 801. Emmet W. (Wilson) Dungan, who has been in charge of the Mt Air Elgin Butter Company (Cooperative) plant, is a native of Lawrence County, Penna, having been born in North Beaver Township, Aug 27, 1859, son of Thomas and Cynthia (Hamill) Dungan. Thomas Dungan was born in Virginia in 1799, and when a young man came to Pennsylvania, located in Lawrence Co. He was there elected to the State Legislature of Pennsylvania, serving in that office at the time Lawrence County was formed. His second marriage was with Miss Cynthia Hamill, whose Grandfather, (H-1-it was her Grandmother) was a pioneer of the community, and located on the site of Bethel Church.

Emmett W. Dungan was reared on the home farm in N. Beaver Twp, and there attended the public schools. Except for three years spent in California, he has lived in Lawrence County all his life, and until 1900 was engaged in agricultural pursuits. He came into possession of a part of his father's farm, but this he disposed of at the date mentioned; when he took charge of the Creamery. He is a stockholder and Director of the company, and under his direction the plant has flourished and been successful beyond expectations. The company's officers are D. L. McGown, E. A. Taylor, and W. P. Kelso. There is a demand for all the butter they can make, and the daily average is some 400 pounds. Mr Dungan is also a stockholder in the Mt Air Telephone Co, which was organized in 1908.

January 16, 1889, Mr Dungan was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Miss Effie Deringer, a daughter of Milo R. Deringer, of Ohio Township, Beaver County, Penna, and they are the parents of four children: Otis B, who is a stockholder in the Mt Air Elgin Butter Co, and assists his father in the creamery; Lenna W.; Roscoe R.; and Lora Rose. In political views, Mr Dungan is an unswerving Republican. Fraternally is a member of Shen Valley Lodge No. 916 of the IOOF.

Data Page on JOHN HAMILL, SR - ROSANNA DAVIDSON.

II - 12.

Rosanna Davidson was 7 years old when she came to this country. (See Davidson Section - Misc. Hamill Data H-11). Rosanna Davidson and John Hamill, Sr. (H-12) were married 6/30/1807 in the Davidson home near Enon Valley, (N. Beaver Twp, Lawrence County), Penna, by Rev. David Imbrie, Pastor of the UP Church. See also the Davidson Section, in the back of this Hamill Genealogy.

John Hamill, Sr. was a Tanner by trade, and lived near Enon Valley, Penna in what our Ancestors described as "North Beaver Township, Lawrence County, Penna," - but for brevity, now spoken of as "the Enon Valley District." John is said to have traded in Pittsburgh (about 45 miles away), doing all his buying there, and using 4 and 6 horse teams. He was quite prosperous. He died on his way from Ottawa, Illinois, to Washington, DC (so it is said), of Pneumonia. He was in Ottawa, Ill., investigating War of 1812 County Land, which had been given to him for War of 1812 services. The land was afterward sold, and is near where Ottawa now stands. (See Historical Section - "Misc. Hamill Data" - Item #3).

All the children of John Hamill, Sr. - Rosanna Davidson (H-12), were born on the 2nd Old Hamill Farm, near Enon Valley, Penna. This 2nd Old Hamill Farm is about 6 miles South and West of Mt Jackson, Lawrence Co, Penna, and is about 2 miles North and West of Bethel Church, and is about 4 miles North and 2 miles West of the Town of Enon Valley, Penna (On Penna Ry). However, the 1st old Original Hamill Farm, was said to have been about 4 miles North and 2 miles East of the Town of Enon Valley - which 1st farm was sold not long after 1800, and is no longer in the possession of Hamills. Some say that Sarah ("Aunt Sally") Hamill (H-15) originally lived on this 1st Hamill Farm (??).

The 2nd Old Hamill Farm, on which John Hamill, Jr (H-12) lived, is still owned by Hamills, and has been owned by Hamills for way over 100 years. This 2nd Old Hamill Farm was owned in turn by Wm. B. Hamill (H-124-7), who was a son of James Hamill (H-124), and a Grandson of John Hamill, Sr (H-12) - and now (1947) is owned by Colonel Thomas Hamill (H-124-72), and is operated by his own son, William Harrison Hamill (H-124-721).

Formerly, this locality - where the Hamills - Davidsons - MacCandlesses - Stewarts (Stuarts) - McGhees - Youngs lived - was referred to as: "North Beaver Township, Lawrence Co, Penna." But now, for brevity, is usually called "The Enon Valley District" - and has sometimes been spoken of as Mt Jackson, Penna. The Town of Enon Valley, Penna, is just 3 miles from the Ohio-Penna State Line - and just across the line are the towns of Petersburg and East Palestine, Ohio - and so sometimes the locality is called by their names.

John Hamill, Sr (H-12) and Nathaniel Hamill, Jr (H-11) were among the first Elders of Mt Jackson UP Church, at Mt Jackson, Penna.

Dr. Thomas Hamill, MD - Elizabeth Short (H-129) afterward moved to Olathe, Kansas.

MILITARY RECORD of JOHN HAMILL, SR(H-12) in WAR of 1812.

(Letter from US War Dept, Adjutant-Gen'l's Office, Washington, D.C. 10/7/1924):
Mr Paul H. McGalla, 2316 Calumet Ave, Chicago, Illinois. There are no records on file in this office of an organization designated 135th Penna Regt, Revolutionary War. The records show that one John Hamill (surname also as Hamell), served in the war of 1812 as a Private in Capt. John Fisher's Co, composed of Volunteers and Drafted Militia, 135th Regt(Christy's) Penna Militia, doing duty at Erie. His name appears on a muster roll of that organization dated Erie, October 27th, 1812, which shows that he was present. His name also appears on a pay roll of that organization dated Erie, 10/27/1812, covering the period from October 14th to November 2nd, 1812, which shows days of service, 20, days going home, 6. The records also show that one John Hamell (surname also borne as Hamil and Hamill), served in that war as a Private in Capt. Mathew Dawson's Co, same regt., in service at Erie. His name appears on a pay roll of that organization for July 26, to 8/12/1813, which shows that his service commenced 7/26/1813 that he was discharged 8/9 and that the term of service charged was 15 days. His name also appears on a pay roll of that company and regiment in service at Erie for 1/2 to 2/12/1814, which shows that his service commenced 1/2/1814, and ended on 2/12/1814. It is probable that the foregoing relates to one and the same man.

The records show that a number of men surnamed Davidson, that a number of men surnamed Gibson, and that one man surnamed McCandless served in the same regiment. The records show that many men named Hamnell or similarly surnamed, served in the Revolutionary war in different organizations from various states. Those from Penna were Hugh Hamble, John Hamble (whose military record has previously been furnished Mr McGalla), Robert Hamnell, Robert J. Hamil, James Hamnel and James Hamill. There was also a Nathaniel Hamnel and a John Hamnell in New York organizations. This office will furnish the military record of any two of the above named men upon request. Attention is also invited to the enclosed copy of War Department Orders of March 26th, 1912, with special reference to the marked paragraphs. Robert C. Davis, Maj-General, The Adj-General, by A.

(Compiler's Note: It is a Hamill Family Legend that this John Hamill, Sr(H-12), was in some way connected with Perry's Battles of the Lakes in 1812, and although in the Army, was used to build ships at Erie. So this is probably our John(H-12). This John Hamill, Sr(H-12) was the son of Nathaniel, Sr(H-1), and was the father of Smith Hamill(H-125).

- The Penna Archives have record of this same John Hamill, Sr(Series-Vol-Page)

Data Page on JOHN HAMILL, JR - ROSANNA SMITH.

"John Hamill, Jr., freighted from Leavenworth, Kansas, to Wyoming, and he died 4/9/1889 at Janey, Kansas, while taking a drove of cattle to Victoria, Texas, to be shipped to England. His sons, Maxil (H-121-4) and Robert (H-121-5) were with him when he died, and they did not mark his grave, and it hasn't been located. In 1870, Rosanna Smith and these 2 sons, moved to Newton, Kansas. She went back to Leavenworth, Kansas, and died there, and is buried beside Martha Hamill (Probably H-121-7).

"Harry Ainsworth, (H-121-15), the youngest son of Rosanna Hamill-Newton Ainsworth (H-121-1), inherited the old Ainsworth farm, and died about 20 years ago.. "(Probably about 1922)." (Data taken from a Genealogical Chart) (loaned to The Compiler on 3/3/1947 by Mrs Albert J. Caven (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113) of Gering, Nebraska).

(Compiler's Note): James Glen (H-121-61), the son of Cordelia Hamill-Benjamin Ross (H-121-6), was an Adopted son, and was supposed to have possession of an old, black-covered Bible, originally belonging to Sarah ("Aunt Sally") Hamill (H-15). This Bible, if located, would undoubtedly supply much missing information about Nathaniel, Sr's (H-1) family, and early Hamills, that would be very helpful. This James Glen was also said to have used the name of James White. Frantic search was made for this old Bible by Hamills of the generation that is gone, and finally this James Glen was reached - but he declined knowing anything about it, or having possession of it. And there the matter rests. This is all more fully mentioned in the Historical Section - "Misc. Hamill Data" - Items # 9 - # 57 - # 60.

Date Page on JOHN HAMILLE, JR. - ROSANNA SMITH.

John HAMILLE, Jr., was a Merchant, and supposedly quite prosperous. After marrying Rosanna Smith (H-131), he went to St. Jackson, Tenn. in the Union Valley district - about half way between Union Valley town and Leavenworth - (Mington, Tenn.), and later moved to Wichita, Kansas (where he supposedly went into the Wholesale Grocery business for a while). He and his family emigrated to Kansas in 1851, by steamship from Penna., down the Ohio, and up the Missouri to Leavenworth, Kansas. It is not definitely clear whether his Whol. Grocery was in Wichita or in Leavenworth - but he may have had business interests in both places. Robert McClellan HAMILLE (H-121-5) was then 2 years of age.

Rosanna Smith (H-131) was a Cousin (a Kinsman), and was the daughter of Sarah HAMILLE (H-13) and Robert Smith, which Sarah, in turn, was the daughter of Nathaniel HAMILLE (H-1 - who was the 1st Original HAMILLE Brother). This Smith Family, who intermarried often with our HAMILLES, and of whom Rosanna Smith (H-131) was a descendant, were apparently with all our HAMILLES in the days of Big Cove, Penna. Then, when Nathaniel's (H-1) descendants moved on to the Union Valley district in Penna., and the Robert HAMILLE, Jr. (H-2) descendants moved on to - Ohio, these HAMILLES apparently went mostly on west to Xenia Ohio, with the descendants of John HAMILLE, Jr. (H-2). Louis H. HAMILLE (H-121-51), of Matanzas, Cuba, wrote the Compiler (H-125-65) on 2/5/1925, that "My Father told me in 1892 that some of these Smiths moved to Green Bay, Wisconsin, (his own Uncle had done so), and that this Uncle Smith of his was Sheriff of the County."

John HAMILLE, Jr. (H-121) and Rosanna Smith! Note from Louis H. HAMILLE (H-121-51) of Matanzas, Cuba, to the Compiler (H-125-65), dated 1/12/1922: "John HAMILLE Jr. (H-121) and his Family, except one daughter Sarah (H-121-7), came to Leavenworth, Kan., in 1851, and she (Sarah) came to Leavenworth some time afterwards. He (John) died in 1869 at Caney, Kan., then Grandmother HAMILLE, with her sons David (H-121-4) and Robert (H-121-5) moved to Newton, Harvey County, Kansas, in 1870. They kept a boarding house at Leavenworth for some time, as my father told me that Army Officers boarded with them. At Caney, Kan., he homesteaded land, as I found an old lady who had a Deed from my father for 1/4 quarter of land, which he had inherited. She had also the original Deed from the Government to Grandfather John HAMILLE, Jr. (H-121). Some years ago there was still living, an old man who was a partner with Grandfather HAMILLE (H-121) at Caney, Kansas, in the cattle business. I tried to find his grave, but it was never marked. He was buried in the old Brick Yard Cemetery that was abandoned in 1882. James Ross HAMILLE (H-121-4), who married first Kate HAMILLE (H-121-2) and second, Mary HAMILLE (H-121-5) - they lived 1 mile East of Euclid, Miami County, Kansas, 1 mile South of the Johnson County line, and about 6 miles from Spring Hill, Kansas, where Aunt Kate (H-121-2) is buried. I saw her grave in 1895. He lived on 60 acres that was given him by his Father."

Cordelia HAMILLE - Benjamin Ross (H-121-6): They had no children of their own, but adopted a son, William HAMILLE (H-121-61), who in 1930 was living in Piper City, Kansas. They lived near Washburn, Kan., and also near Fairmount City, Kansas. Benjamin was a brother of John HAMILLE (H-121-51) (his data (by William A. HAMILLE (H-121-31) and Louis H. HAMILLE (H-121-51)).

John Smith HAMILLE - Henry Jane McClellan (H-121-3): Some members of the family spell the name with a "u" on the end, but the original family name was McClellan - although it is also sometimes spelled "McC". John served 3 years in the Civil War as a member of Battery B, 1st Penna. Artillery. The Pictorial Review of the Civil War (Vol. 1) with photos by Brady, has many pictures of Battery B, Penna. Light Artillery. JOHN SMITH HAMILLE (H-121-3) died in the Soldier's Home, in Dayton, Ohio. He lived in Kansas, also in Omaha, Neb. His wife was a member of the Board of St. Mary's Episcopal Home, in Kansas City, Mo. Two children, Edward (H-121-32) and William (H-121-31) live in Kansas City, Mo. (John Smith HAMILLE). (9/16/1946).

Rosanna Hamill-Horton Ainsworth(H-121-1) lived near Olathe, Kansas. They had 5 sons: Edward Ainsworth, who lived in Stillwell, Kansas, and Ralph, George, Homer and _____ Ainsworth. Of these 5 boys, 2 were living in 1938.

Katherine Hamill-James Ross Hope(H-353-4) had 3 children, Robert, Carrie and Eva. Her record on this family is continued on the James H. Hope page, so see Page H-353-4. They lived in Spring Hill, Kansas. Also it is said that after Katherine's death, James H. Hope also lived in Hoosho, Mo, but this is unverified. Katherine and James were Ainsmen, and he was a son of Ruth Hope(H-353), a Grandson of Reuben Hamill(H-35) and Lucy H. Hope, and descended of John Hamill-Hillman Ainsworth(H-3), of Palmer's Wort, Ag-onier, Penna. This latter John Hamill was the 3rd Original Hamill Brother of Penna. Now, after the death of Katherine Hamill(H-121-3), James Ross Hope(H-353-4) married another Ainsman, who was Marjorie Sophronia Hamill(H-124-5), and with this 2nd wife, he lived at Oilcan Springs, Arkansas, where he and she both died.

OBITUARY of Mrs JENNIE McCLELLAND HAMILL (H-121-3).

(From Church Program 10/12/1924-St Mary's Episcopal Church-Kansas City, Mo.)
(of which her son, Edward Hamill (H-121-32) is a warden.)

"Last wednesday it was again our sad privilege to lay to rest one of our old and dearly loved members of the parish. Mrs Jennie McClelland Hamill. Mrs Hamill was indeed a "mother in Israel" and we always thought of her as such. She was with us in the old days before the present church building was erected, and was one of the faithful workers in All Saints Hospital.

It was rather like "Maz," as we affectionately called her, to tarry with us until the Priest returned from his vacation. He would not have liked that she should go while he was away, and she would wish to receive the Last Sacraments at his hands. And so, as it were, she waited for him. Saturday he came, and Sunday afternoon she received Absolution, the Viaticum and Holy Unction. She was fully conscious and alert and joined in all the prayers and said "Amen" to the last benediction. She inquired for others who were ill and talked about some young men who are studying for Holy Orders. Later, at midnight, when the Priest called, there was little change. But at 5.30 in the morning the Angels came very softly and gently bore her away in peace to the great gates of Paradise. And there may she rest in peace until these others who have loved and lost her for a while shall meet her there and, in that Great Day, together they shall go up to meet their God. In that day shall this dear soul realize indeed the joy expressed in one of her favorite hymns:

Oh, what the joy and the glory must be,
These endless Sabbaths the blessed ones see!

Crown for the valiant, to weary ones rest;

God shall be all, and in all ever blest.

May light perpetual shine upon her!

"DAVID HAMILL, owner and proprietor of the Monarch Mills. This mill is - of brick, five floors high, and was erected and completed in 1880, at a cost up to the present in 1882, of $30,000.00 Starting in 1880 with three runs of burrs, the business has increased so that he now has 5 run of burrs and two sets of rollers, with a capacity of 150 barrels per day.
It is fitted up with all the latest modern improvements in milling machinery, and is a model in all its appointments. Being in the Golden Wheat Belt, the mill is fully supplied to its uttermost capacity with grain obtained direct from the farmers. In addition to the mill, Mr Hamill has erected two buildings, one a frame building, costing $1,500, and a fine brick block at a cost of over $5000. Also an elegant dwelling at a cost of $2,500.00.

He is also associated with his brother, Robert McClellan Hamill (H-121-
-5), in the Dry Goods Business, carrying the heaviest stock in Newton. Mr Hamill was born in Lawrence Co, Penna, May 22, 1844, and came to Kansas with his father, John Hamill (Jr) (H-121), in February 1857, locating in Ft Leavenworth for a number of years.

He was engaged in freighting to the mountains in Colorado and Wyoming, and while the Union Pacific RR was being built, was a contractor engaged in the building of the road, and remained until the road was completed and saw the junction of the East and West rails, and was present when the Gold and Silver spikes were driven at the junction of the rails; after which he came to Kansas, the second time, in 1871. He located in the present city of Newton, then an open prairie, and commenced the general merchandising business, and continued that business until he built the Monarch Mills. He was married Sept. 17, 1877 to Miss Nellie Starr, a native of Morris, Grundy County, Illinois, who with her parents, came to Newton several years ago. They have 2 children, Bertie D, and Ethel M. Mr Hamill is a Mason, being a member of the Blue Lodge, Chapter, Council and Commandery.

Prior to 1872, Newton was without government in any form. In April of that year an election was held, and the following officers were elected:
Mayor: James Gregory. Police Judge: H.J. Hennessy. Council: David Hamill, E. Chamberlin, Isaac Mayor, W. W. Holt, John Simon.

ROBERT H. McCLELLAN, (H-121-5), brother of David Hamill, was also one of the early settlers of Kansas, and came with his father, John Hamill (H-121) to the Territory in the Spring of 1854. They came up the Missouri in the "Star of the West," the first steamer which landed at Ft.
Leavenworth from St. Louis, Mo. John Hamill has been in this region as early as 1841, and he is now settled with his sons on the Old Delaware Indian Reserve, seven miles South of Ft Leavenworth, and lived in that city until 1868. Robert McClellan Hamill then went to Independence, Kansas, and engaged in the General Merchandising business, having also a ~~Stock~~ Stock Ranch near Independence. He remained in Independence until 1873, then moved to Newton, where he has been in the mercantile business with his brother since 1874.

Robert McClellan Hamill was born in Beaver Twp, near Newcastle, Lawrence County, Penna, November 30, 1849. He lived in his native County until he came West to Kansas. His father, John Hamill, died in Independence, Kan, April 8, 1873, aged 63 years, and his Mother is still living near Fairmount, Ft Leavenworth, Kansas. Robert McC. Hamill (H-121-5) was married in Newton, Kan, Jan. 12, 1879, to Ruby E. Johnson, a native of Osceola, Clark County, Iowa. They have two children, Louis Robert Hamill (H-121-51), and Lloyd Homer Hamill (H-121-52). Mr Hamill is a member of the Masons, Blue Lodge, Chapter, Council and Commandery."

(Mr Louis Robert Hamill, (H-121-51), in sending the above Excerpt from an old "History of Kansas" on 12/19/1938, also wrote the following Comment on the above historical Data:)

"The Hopes and Ainsworths always told me that my Grandfather, John Hamill, Jr (H-121), and his family, except daughter Martha (H-121-7), who stayed behind, came by river steamboat from Penna. to Ft Leavenworth, Kan, in 1851, when my Father, Robert McClellan Hamill (H-121-5) was only 2 years old. Aunt Martha came on afterward, never married, died young, and is buried beside Grandmother Hamill in the Mtuncie Cemetery, at Leavenworth, Kansas.

Grandfather (John Hamill, Jr) Hamill may have visited Kansas in 1841, but the Frontier did not arrive at Ft Scott until 1847. I always understood that his home was in Leavenworth, but he hauled freight for, and was a Government contractor. He had a contract for firewood at Ft Laramie, Wyo, and the Indians burned the wood. Uncle Dave (H-121-4) put in a claim for payment for this wood, but with no success. Grandfather John Hamill took up government land between Caney and Independence, Kan, as some four years ago I located an old lady whose husband bought from my Father a quarter section of land that he had inherited from his Father. She has the original deed from the government to John Hamill, and the deed signed by my Father. Grandmother Hamill lived at Newton for a while. I remember a house that she lived in on Broadway, 1 block East of Main. I also remember seeing her. During the Civil War, Grandfather Hamill moved to Quincy, Illinois, returning to Leavenworth after the war. My Father told me that he was made a mason at Newton in 1871; the Lodge Room was in the Carpenter Shop. Louis R. Hamill (H-121-51) - Matanzas, Cuba, 12/19/1938"

(In connection with the fact that David Hamill, (H-121-4), was present at the driving of the Golden Spike and the Silver Spike at Promontory, Utah (on 5/10/1869) - this clipping is of interest:

(From: Chicago Tribune-5/10/1950):

" 'GOLDEN SPIKE' MEMORIES:

"May 10, 1869, is an important date in American history. On that day, at Promontory Point, Utah, the Golden Spike was driven to connect the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific Railroads, thus completing the first coast-to-coast line. The whole country was eager for news of the consummation of this great project. Each stroke of the silver mallet on the Golden Spike was flashed by wire to all the cities. And "Done" was the signal for spontaneous celebrations. In Chicago, an impromptu parade, seven miles long, soon got under way. The Tribune estimated that there were 1,626 Horses in the line of march. That night the new Tribune building was ablaze with lights in honor of the great occasion.

The trip from New York to San Francisco covered 3,313 miles, took nine days, and cost $193.82. At first the passengers had to change trains at Council Bluffs, ferry over the Missouri River, entrain on the Union Pacific at Omaha, change to the Central Pacific at Promontory Point, and take a River steamer at Sacramento, the Western terminus, to San Francisco. Within a few months, however, the Central Pacific completed the line into the latter city, whereupon George Pullman induced the managements to run a fast solid Pullman "Hotel Express Train" thru from Omaha to San Francisco, making only important or operational stops. It was to be a weekly deluxe service. The train left Omaha on Tuesday morning and arrived in San Francisco Thursday evening. It left San Francisco on Monday and arrived in Omaha on Thursday. The fare one way, including berth, was $168. - - - Charles Barker Rhodes."

Data Page on LOUIS ROBERT HAMILL - HENRIETTA ELVIRA BOFILL.

Henrietta Elvira Bofill Hamill was of Catalan-Spanish, French and Portuguese descent. Her full name in Spanish was: "HENRIQUETA ELVIRA BOFILL of VICINDO." Her Grandmother was a cousin of General Boulanger of the French Army. She was the Daughter of Mr ----- Bofill, who lived in (Town-State-Country) ----- who was in the ----- business, and his Wife (Maiden Name) ----- (Bofill). She was the Granddaughter of Mr ----- Bofill, who was in the ----- business, who lived in (Town-State-Country) ----- and his wife (Maiden Name) ----- (Bofill).

Louis Robert Hamill was born and raised at Newton, Kansas, where he was educated in the public schools. "The death of his mother when he was 10 years old, left him a half-orphan, and he wrote feelingly of the fact that his Aunt Minerva Sophrona Hamill (H-124-5), and his Uncle James Ross Hope, had been kind to him as an Orphan Boy." He enlisted 7/18/1897 at Reno, Oklahoma, in Co A, 10th US Infantry, in the Spanish-American War. He was in the battle of San Juan, and the Siege of Santiago de Cuba, serving until 2/5/1904. He was also with the Cuban Army of Pacification, from 10/18/1906 to 3/22/1909. He also served in World War I, from 4/6/1917 to the end of the war, serving in the US and with the Amer. Expeditionary Force in France. He was in all grades, from Private to 1st Lieutenant in the Officer's Reserve Corps. He was also in the Cuban Army, -4th Company, Battalion of Matanzas Infantry.

Louis was a member of the First Baptist Church of Matanzas, Cuba. He was greatly interested in Family History and Genealogy. By mail, and thru the hiring of several Genealogists in Penna and N. Ireland, he did much research among Hamills, Davidsons, etc, and originated much new and interesting data, also at Big Cove, Penna, with photos of old graves, etc. Much of this data is at this time (6/17/1947) in the possession of Mrs Albert J. Caven (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-115) of 1635 1/2 Nevada St, Gering, Nebraska. The Compiler sent this data to her for safekeeping, and thus far has not had an opportunity to add it to The Hamill Genealogy. It is hoped that these valuable records and additions, especially concerning early-day Hamills, Davidsons, etc, can be added to these records in the near future by The Compiler, or by other Hamills.

Louis, for many years, was connected with The Texas Co (Gasolene-Oil-Asphalt), in Matanzas, Cuba. He and his family lived for many years in the old family home at 35 Santa Christina Street, in Matanzas, Cuba. Their mailing address being Apartado (PO Box) 107, Matanzas, Cuba. Since Louis' death, others of the family still (12/26/1946) reside there, including Susan Hamill Penado (H-121-514).

(Letter to The Compiler dated 12/18/1944, from his daughter, Susan Hamill) (Mrs Nicholas Penado) (H-121-514), with her 3 children, now living in the) (old Hamill home at 35 Santa Christina St, Matanzas, Cuba):
"Matanzas, Cuba (Apartado 107), 12/18/1944. Mr Paul H. McCalla, 2320 Cottage Grove Ave (Apt 3) - Chicago (16), Ill. Dear Mr McCalla: Here is your Xmas Card for Dad. He passed away on August 29, 1943. During a year he was very bad sick. He was survived by 7 children and 12 grandchildren. On May 13, 1943, I lost my husband. He was on his boat and went down at sea near Cuban coast, by a U-boat Nazi. I don't know correct English, that is the matter. You understand me? Sincerely yours, SUSAN HAMILL (H-121-514)

Nathaniel Hamill, 3rd-Betsy Stewart were probably married in Beaver Co, Penna as the Stewarts were living there after 1815, or else at Enon Valley, Penna. Nathaniel and his family supposedly lived somewhere in Michigan, moving there about the time of the Civil War. Also supposedly moved to Kansas, where he has Grandchildren. The Kansas supposition may be more likely-try Media, Kansas. Some of the Smith cousins are said to have gone with him. Sylvia C. Franklin (H-124-12) claimed he moved to Michigan in 1850-60.

Joseph Hamill served in the Civil War. Joseph and a sister, and also a James Hamill family, visited Thomas M. Stewart in Enon Valley, Penna, just after the Civil War. There is a possibility(?) that this Joseph might be the same person as "Fragment #101-Other Hamills Section" (?). The War Dept. might be able to give data from Civil War records on this Joseph Hamill.

On the descent sheet of Robert Stewart-Margaret Clendenning Davidson, (which follows this page), who were parents of Betsy Stewart-Nathaniel Hamill (H-122), settled in Michigan. A son, Joseph Hamill, served in the Civil War, a daughter, Minerva, married a James Worthman, who lived in Newcastle, Penna, having no children. This family supposedly moved to Michigan in 1850-60, but trace of them has been lost. (Information given, 1928 to 1931, by Mr Thomas M. Stewart, RFD 1, Box 61, Enon Valley, Penna, who has records of the Stewart family).

Robert Stewart, with his two brothers, Samuel and Hamilton Stewart, and sister, Nancy Stewart, emigrated from Ireland to America in 1789-90. They settled first at Carlisle, Penna, where Robert married. In 1797 all four brothers and sister moved to McKeesport, Allegheny Co, Penna, and here all except Robert remained. Others claim Hamilton remained in Ireland.

(6/25/1948).

Robert was a Weaver, and also a Teacher in Ireland, and when at McKeesport he had Farmed. In 1793, he had married, at Carlisle, Penna, Margaret Clendenning Davidson, the daughter of William and Mary Clendenning Davidson. These Davidsons and the Stewarts were said to have come from Ireland together. (See further on Data Page "B"-Family B-Davidson Section).

In 1815, Robert with his wife and 8 children moved on West from McKeesport, to near Mt Jackson, then in Beaver Co, now Lawrence Co, Penna, where they spent the rest of their lives. At Mt Jackson, Robert did Weaving, Farmed and Taught School. Both Robert and Margaret are buried in UP Cemetery, near Mt Jackson, North Beaver Twp, Lawrence Co, Penna.

Betsy Stewart(B-17)-Nathaniel Hamill, 3rd(H-122) settled in Michigan. A son, Joseph Hamill(H-122-1) served in the Civil War. A daughter, Linnerva, married a James Wortman, and they lived in Newcastle, Penna, having no children. This family supposedly moved to Michigan in 1850-60, but trace of them has been lost. It is also said that they moved on to Kansas (?) later on. (See Page H-122, Hamill Genealogy).

William --- Hamill lived in ---, Pennsylvania. Was supposedly a Stock Kaiser. Sylvia Crawford Franklin (H-124-12) says that in 1886, his family was living in Coffeyville, Kansas, and that William was dead. It is possible that his wife's name was Coffin. Smith Hamill, (H-125) is said to have had his early training in mercantile lines in the store of his "Grand-Uncle Coffin in Pittsburgh," who might have been connected with this William's wife's people. The Compiler has often wondered who this "Grand-Uncle Coffin or Cotton" could be, and would appreciate more data, from any kinsman who knows.

Children: Sylvia Crawford Franklin (H-124-12) claimed that one child was a Methodist Preacher, and that another daughter was married.

Descendants: It might possibly be that these following 2 men, who are both oil drillers, are descended from this William Hamill family: Curtis G. Hamill, and James G. Hamill, both of whom were living (1931) in Fort Worth, Texas.

James --- Hamill lived on the old Hamill Farm(2nd), more recently occupied by his son, Wm. Brown Hamill(H-124-7), and now(1947) owned by his Grandson, Colonel --- Hamill(H-124-73). This old farm has been occupied for over 100 years by Hamills, and is 2 miles West and North of Bethel Church, is on a hill-top, and is 6 miles North (and somewhat West) of the town of Enon Valley, Penna. It is about 2 miles East of the Ohio-Penna State Line, from Petersburg, Ohio. It is also South of St Jackson, Penna., and about 15-20 miles South of Newcastle-Wilmington, Penna. Enon Valley is a small town on the main line of the Penna Ry., about 45 miles N-W of Pittsburgh. So many Youngs-Blders-Stuarts(Stewarts)-Scotts are buried in the Cemetery in the town of Enon Valley. And so many of our own Kinfolk of Hamills-Davidsons, are buried in Bethel Churchyard, 4 miles N. of the town of Enon Valley, Penna.

Martha Jane Hamill(Mrs Porter McKean): Her husband is dead. In 1930, she was living with a son, James McKean, RFD 3, Enon Valley, Penna. She also has a daughter-several children were dead. She was 78 years old in the year 1924.(See H-124-4).

The 1st farm was sold in the early 1800's. Wm. B. Hamill a oldest son, James Edward Hamill, (H-124-71) married a Grandchild of Mrs S. C. The SILLIMAN FAMILY.

(The following is from an old memo - Source Unknown): "Lydia Jane Silliman was a daughter of Thomas Silliman and Mary Davidson, the latter a sister of Rosanna Davidson (H-123). This Thomas Silliman was born 12/17/1791, and died 12/25/1879, and they were married before 1811. Mary Davidson was born 7/17/1792, and died 8/1/1891. Both are buried in Old White Cemetery, near New Galilee, Penna."

(The following was contributed 12/20/1940, by Mrs Albert J. Caven, (Sylvia) (Ellen Walker H-124-113), 1620 Nevada St, Gering, Nebraska.

"I have the Silliman data quite complete, and the parents of Thomas Silliman who married Mary Davidson, were Alexander Silliman (B:4/17/1764 (at -----, D:9/13/1846 at -----), married 9/20/1787 at Easton, Penna, to Mary Brown, (B:1/9/1761 at -----, D:10/11/1833 at -----). This Alexander Silliman was a Revolutionary Soldier.

I have been trying to learn the parentage of my Mary Brown, but so far without success. Alexander and Mary are buried in the old Cemetery between Mon Valley and Newcastle, and the DAR Chapter at Newcastle have placed markers on their graves.

In 1724, Alexander and Mary went to Wyoming, or Wycoming Valley, which was near White Deer Valley, where all his branch of the Silliman family finally settled. Then about 1814, Alexander and Mary, with their children, moved West to Beaver, now Lawrence Co, Penna, where many of their descendants still live.

Alexander, James (who married Mary Hunter), and Captain Thomas, (married Mary Middaugh), three brothers, and their father, Thomas, all gave Revolutionary Service. Father Thomas was born about 1731-1734 in Hunter's Settlement, in Twp. of Mount Bethel, which was divided into Lower and Upper, and made into Northampton Co. in 1752. Later he lived and owned land in Forks Twp. About 1800 he moved to Northampton Co, where his sons had moved early in the 1790's. Was Justice of the Peace - Representative Member of the Committee of Correspondence and Safety and Appraiser. Will was made in 1804. Probated in Northumberland Co. 1810. Married about 1758 in Easton, Penna, to Margot ----- (who was born about 1736 at -----, and died about 1807 at -----).

This Thomas was the son of Thomas, (some say Alexander) Silliman (Died in 1762 at -----), married before 1734 at ----- to Agnes -----, whose Will was Probated in 1778. This Thomas was born in County Antrim, Ulster, Ireland, and came to America in 1728-29, with the Hunter Colony of Scotch-Irish, and settled with them in Bucks County, now Northampton County, Penna. (See "History of Bucks Co" by (Davis).

I have slept in the old Silliman house, near the old Davidson house, near New Galilee. Both of these are made of brick, and from Clay from these farms in the 1790's. I just about froze in the old Silliman home. It is occupied by Joseph Russell, son of Uncle Hunter Russell. The old Davidson home, a short distance away, is in a remarkably good state of repair, and is built along the old Southern Colonial pattern, with pillars in front, central hallway, etc. It is occupied by William and Amanda Davidson, who are now quite elderly. Lydia Jane Silliman's sister, Minerva (Minerva?) Silliman, married Hunter Russell."

and his brother, Thomas, to whom you refer in your letter. They left several children, some of whom are now deceased, and others still living in different parts of the country. My father's (Stewart B-13) first wife was a Silliman, a sister of Charles and Thomas, and I have 3 half-brothers living, sons of Isabella Silliman; one in Iowa, one in Kansas, and another in Pennsylvania. Alexander Silliman, brother of Charles and Thomas, referred to in your letter, lived in Ohio and his children and grandchildren still reside somewhere in that State.....

".....In regard to the "Kate Russell data." I was thinking, when I sent you that copy, that there was a Section of the Hamill Genealogy marked "Silliman Section." I know you have included much Silliman data in the Hamill Genealogy, anyway. Katherine Russell Grimm was a daughter of Thomas Russell, and his wife, Anna White. Thomas Russell was a son of John (called "Hunter") Russell, and his wife, Minerva Silliman, (born 1825 in Little Beaver Twp, (Old) Beaver County, (now Lawrence County), Penna - Died: 11/22/1903 (in Little Beaver Twp). Minerva Silliman was the 6th child of Thomas and Mary (Davidson) Silliman. Minerva Davidson Silliman was a sister of LYDIA JANE SILLIMAN HAMILL, (H-124). "Katie Russell" was at our home when we lived in Lawrence Co, Penna, helping with the work after the birth of many of my Mother's babies, and she named one of her daughters "Vinta" after my sister, who was deceased when Vinta Grimm was born, a very nice tribute, we thought....."

In the old days, the whole district where the Hamills lived was referred to as N. Beaver Township, Lawrence County, Penna. Mail was sent, in those days, via Petersburg, Ohio (just across the Ohio-Penna State line). But with the growth of Rural Free Delivery, mail has been addressed via the Town of Enon Valley, Penna, which is on the main line of the Penna Railroad, and about 45 miles N-W of Pittsburgh. Those living in the Eastern part of this North Beaver District, have their mail addressed via New Galilee, Penna. In recent years, this whole district is usually spoken of as the Enon Valley District of Penna. The Enon Valley runs from the Ohio-Penna line on the West to New Galilee on the East, and from the Town of Enon Valley on the South to Wilmington-Newcastle on the North. It is a most beautiful and charming Valley.

Robert Allen Crawford was killed by Mosby's Raiders in the Civil War. He is buried in the Danville National Cemetery, (Grave #26) at Stone River, Tennessee.

Mary Hamill, his wife, is buried at Sterling, Colorado, where Mary Jane Crawford's 3 children are buried.

Sylvia Levena Crawford (Franklin) lived for years at 124 Park Ave, Omaha, Neb. She was connected with the Valuation Counsel, Land Dept, General Offices, Union Pacific Railway, 1116 Dodge St, Omaha, Nebraska. There were no children, and she was divorced from Mr Franklin. She was a devout Christian Scientist. She was greatly interested in Genealogy, and made many researches on early Hamills, as did her husband. They both added much data and valuable information to this Hamill Genealogy, especially on the Hamills and other kindred of the Enon Valley, Penna neighborhood.

Mary Jane Crawford (Mrs James M. Haller) lived with her daughter, Sylvia (Mrs Albert J. Caven) at 1320 Nevada St, Gering, Nebraska; where Mr Caven, (See Omaha Standard). (8/12/1947).

until 3/1/1940, owned a hardware store. She died there in Gering, Neb., and is buried in Sterling, Colorado.

Data Page on MARY JANE CRAWFORD-JAMES MELVILLE WALKER.

After the death of James Melville Walker, his widow, Mrs. J.M. Walker, (Mary Jane Crawford - called "Jan"), lived with her daughter, Mrs. A.J. Caven (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113), at 1620 Nevada St., Gering, Nebraska. She was a very kindly, loveable woman, with a host of friends.

Mrs. A.J. Caven (H-124-113) wrote The Compiler on 9/16/1946: "Our dear Mother passed away about noon last New Year's Day (1/1/1946). We had taken her to the Hospital on December 13th.....we thought the Hospital stay would be just for a few days.....I gave her a blood transfusion....it was impossible to get a special nurse, so I got permission to stay with her all the time, and we know that she had all the attention we could give.....my husband was very fond of Mother.....and had a bad heart attack....we left Albert in the Hospital, while my two brothers, (Cecil (H-124-116), and Carlisle (H-124-112), and I, made the sad trip to Sterling, Colorado, for internment on Saturday, the Funeral being here Friday.

Possibly you will remember that Grandmother (Mrs. Robt. H. Crawford-Mary Ham-111-H-124-1), Aunt Sylvia (Mrs. Sylvia Franklin-Sylvia Luenna Crawford-H-124-12), two brothers, (Ulpian Gray Walker-H-124-115) and Conan Franklin Walker-H-124-117), my only sister (Mary Vinta Walker-H-124-114), and now Mother, (Mrs. J.M. Walker-Mary Jane Crawford-H-124-11), are all buried at Sterling, Colorado, while my father (J.M. Walker-H-124-11), is buried back at Bethel Church, where his parents, brothers and sisters, are buried, and where he passed away. (Bethel Church is 4 miles North of Enon Valley, Penna, and 2 miles S-E of the Old Hamill Farm).

Lisle, (H-124-112), the Gary brother, bought a farm, "Echo Valley Farm" back near New Galilee, Penna, just one other farm between his and my oldest brother's (H-124-11) farm. So he and his family left Gary, and moved back there last Spring (1946). He seems to be doing quite well. I received a letter from them last week, and the Sunday previous they had attended church at Bethel Church.

I feel so sort of all alone out here. I would prefer going East if we make a change, but my husband was reared in Ohio, but has no desire to go back there again. Since we have practically all our holdings here, and since, when he takes it easy, he seems to get along all right here in his heart condition, we may just continue to live here.....

I treasure and value highly the Hamill Genealogy and all the information you have sent, and will always safeguard it and pass it on to some worthy Hamill when I am no more. I hope, as you do, that among the younger generation, there will be some Genealogical enthusiasts.....

(Letter of 2/12/1951): "Dear Helen and Paul: It was so nice hearing from you, and we appreciate your thoughtfulness in sending us word of the "Broadcasts"(Of the Spindletop Celebration-See Page H-371-C83). We do not listen regularly to these programs, and no doubt would have missed them. We enjoyed both very much, but we thought the "Cavalcade of America" was the most interesting. Lisle's(H-124-112) son, Warren,(H-124-112-2) was inducted into the Army on Wednesday, Feby 7th(1951). At present he is at Camp Meade, but expects to leave there this week sometime. Glenn,(her husband-H-124-111) is feeling good and looks wonderful. He has just put on quite a lot of weight. A letter from Cecil,(H-124-116), the brother who lives in Ozan, Arkansas, tells us that he and his Wife are neither one very well. But one from Sylvia,(H-124-113) says they are in their usual health. We have had a most severe Winter. Snow and ice solid since Thanksgiving. We have 200 little Chickens ordered, so are hoping it warms up before they come. But you folks have had your share of cold weather too. Sincerely hope you are both feeling well. We enjoyed your letters and hope you will write soon again. Data on MELVILLE CARLISLE WALKER-GARNET BOZELLE-MRS ETHEL RICHARDSON(SCHAAF):

Garnet Irene Bozelle was the Daughter of Mr James Wilson Bozelle, a Barber of Indianapolis, Indiana, and his Wife, Alice Wiley(Bozelle). Garnet's Sister was (9/8/1949) Mrs Edward Wallmer, (Mabel Bozelle), 5509 Michigan St, East Indianapolis, Indiana. Garnet, on her Mother's side, was the Granddaughter of Mr Rankin Wiley, who was in the Grocery business in Clifty, Indiana, and his Wife, Elizabeth Ward(Wiley). Garnet, on her Father's side, was the Granddaughter of Mr Bozelle, who was in the business, who lived in (Town-State) and his Wife (Maiden Name) (Bozelle). On 3/15/1953, Garnet's people were living in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mrs Ethel M Richardson(SchAAF) is the Daughter of the late Mr Elwood Richardson, who was in the business, in Stow, Ohio, and his Wife, (Maiden Name) (Richardson). (The latter,) (after Mr Richardson's death, married as her 2nd husband, Mr George Ritter,) (of Stow, Ohio). Mrs Ethel is the Granddaughter of Mr Richardson, who was in the business, who lived in (Town-State) and his Wife (Maiden Name) (Richardson).

Melville Carlisle Walker, (Called "Lisle"), was in the Steel business in Gary, Indiana, and lived at 342 Pierce St, Gary, Indiana. In the Spring of 1946, he retired from the Steel business, and purchased "Echo Valley Farm", near New Galilee, Penna - on the Eastern edge of the beautiful Enon Valley in Penna. There he was just 2 farms distant from the farm then occupied, until his death, by his eldest brother, Robert Glenn Walker, (H-124-111), and within easy driving distance of the other central portion of the Enon Valley, where so many other Hamills live. New Galilee and Beaver Falls are near each other. This farm was 1 1/2 miles from Enon Valley, and 2 miles from New Galilee, Penna. His address was: "Echo Valley Farm," RFD 1, New Galilee, Penna.

"Lisle," on 10/2/1952, left for Volta Redondo, Brazil, under contract to the Brazilian government, to help operate a large Brazilian Steel Mill, and to help show the Natives how to make Steel in this new Mill. He and his 2nd Wife returned again (10/1/1954) to live at "Echo Valley Farm," RFD 1, New Galilee, Penna.

On 10/8/1953 "Lisle" had purchased a home, which they like very much, and where they were living, at 4519 Brooksdale Drive, Sarasota, Florida. Their son, Warren, was then visiting them in Sarasota, but was expecting to return soon to his position in Beaver Falls, Penna, to again live with his Aunt, Mrs Chas. F. Weiss (Louise M. Given (Walker) (Weiss) (H-124-111)).

LETTERS CONCERNING MELVILLE CARLISLE WALKER:

(Letters to The Compiler - from Mrs Albert James Garton (Sylvia Ellen Walker), (H-124-113), 2415 NE 41st Avenue, Portland, (13), Oregon.

(Letter of 9/16/1946): "...Lisle, the Gary brother, bought a farm, "Echo Valley Farm", back near New Galilee, Penna, just one other farm between him and my oldest brother's (Robt. Glenn Walker-H-124-111) farm. So he and his family left Gary and moved back there last Spring (1946). He seems to be doing quite well. I received a letter from them last week, and the Sunday previous, they had attended Church at Bethel... (Bethel Church is the old Hamill Church) (and is 4 miles North of Enon Valley, Penna, and 2 miles S-W of the old Hamill Farm).

(Letter of 9/12/1948): "...Had a recent letter from Garnet, (H-124-112), my sister-in-law, and it contained a few items of Hamill news. The Farm, ("Echo Valley Farm") they (Lisle and Garnet) bought is 1 1/2 miles from Enon, (the town of Enon Valley, Pa), 9 miles from Beaver Falls, Penna, 2 from New Galilee, Pa, 15 from New Castle, Penna, 4 miles from Bethel Church, and 3 miles from East Palestine, Ohio, where they lived at one time. Garnet sees Jim McKean's (H-124-41) Granddaughter, Helen McKean, (possibly H-124-411), but more likely a Granddaughter) in Enon, where she is employed. You will recall that "Curn" (Colonel Hamill, (H-124-72) has 3 children, 2 daughters and a son. Both of the girls are married, and one lives in St Louis, and the other in Chicago's elsewhere. Bill, (H-124-721) runs the farm, so to speak, and is doing much better in the job than his father did. They have quite a chicken farm, and Bill takes complete charge of that end of it, and "Curn" looks after the Beef Cattle. Bill is still single.

Poor Gale Howe, (H-124-31); who has always seemed to be unlucky, lost both legs this Summer - a train ran over him. I believe he is, or I presume I should say was, a railroad employee. Garnet didn't write any details concerning the accident, but said "he is getting better...."

(Letter of 1/2/1950): "...Garnet, (H-124-112) passed away on the morning of Dec-18, (1949); and was buried the following Tuesday in Bethel Cemetery, (at Enon Valley, Penna)...."

(Letter of 1/3/1952): "...Lisle was married Oct. 15th, 1931, in Brimfield, Ohio, to Mrs Ethel M. Schaeff of Brimfield. The article in the paper reads: "Mrs Schaeff is the daughter of Mrs George Ritter of Stow, (Ohio), and the late Elwood Richardson. Mrs Schaeff has resided in Brimfield since 1933.....After the ceremony, Mr and Mrs Walker left via motor for their home; "Echo Valley Farm", to reside."

Ethel had 3 sons, one lives in Kent, Ohio; and one in Gary, Indiana, and the 3rd son was killed in Germany in World War II. The two living sons are married. Her husband died about 2 years ago. They were married 35 years, so she must be about Lisle's age. We all hope it works out.

Lisle's daughter, Judy, (H-124-112-3) eloped Sept. 24th, (1951) to West Virginia and married Arthur L. Bowen, and they live near there. This is all the data I have on this wedding. Judy hasn't written me yet. Lisle didn't approve of the boy, but we hope it, too, works out.

Warren, (H-124-112-2), who has been in Fort Huachuca, Arizona, since August, went home for Christmas. His leave is up Jan'y 6th, and he thinks he will be sent overseas, but doesn't know whether to Korea or Europe.

(Letter of 2/2/1952): "...The big news was that Lisle (H-124-112) was considering signing up for 2 or 3 years with a Brazilian steel company, (at Volta Redonda, Brazil), renting the farm, and if they went thru with their plans, he and Ethel, (his 2nd wife), are either in South America now or enroute there. It was at a very good salary, and they thought in 2 or 3 years they could save considerably, and then come back to the farm. Ethel has proven to be a good home-maker and has cleaned, painted, curtained and upholstered things up in fine condition, and they have a cozy, homey home now, so Louise (H-124-111) (SEE OTHER SIDE).

and my Cousin, Grace Walker-Ferguson report. Ethel likes the Term and wrote that she hated to leave her home, but is willing to go if Lila signed the contract. They (the Company) - had defrayed expenses for him to fly to NY for a conference, from which he had returned when they wrote the letter, - July 10th, (1953), and they had had a telephone call, the night before they Lila and Ethel wrote from New York, agreeing as to salary, etc, so they seemed "all set" to go.

Warren, (H-125-112-2) is in Europe in France - have just had one letter from him since he landed and should be getting another one soon. He had a fine trip across, via Panama Canal, and of course everything in France was so strange to him. His two years will have expired by next February (1955), so he is anxious to be home again. I am afraid he will be disappointed to learn his father has gone, if he has, to South America.....

(Letter of 3/15/1955): Mrs Caven stated in this letter that Warren D. Walker, (H-124-112-2) was working in a Tube Mill in Beaver Falls, Penna, and was living with Glenn and Louise Walker, (H-124-111). Judith Walker, (H-124-112-3) with her husband, Arthur E. Bowen, were in Memphis, Tenn, and had been in Florida. Glenn Walker, (H-124-111) had sold the Dairy Store in Beaver Falls, Penna, and was back selling automobiles. "Lila" Walker, (H-124-112) and wife were in Villa Redonda, Brazil, where he was working in that large new Steel plant. Living conditions were very crude there, but the pay was good.

(Mrs Albert James Caven-Sylvia Ellen Walker)(H-124-115)-wrote The Compiler
on 12/4/1946 as follows:

".....I have written Aisle(H-124-112) and asked for more data concerning his wife, etc, and when I receive his reply, will send you that also. Also about the old "Mt. Air Farm." Mt Air was an inland Postoffice when I was a child, and of course there was an old fashioned general store there, black-smith shop, etc. I will learn more about it, but as I remember we lived about 4 miles from Knott Valley, and about 12 from Newcastle, and 5 or 6 from Petersburg, Ohio. It was near Grandfather Walker's farm, and that farm was later owned by a Hope(Mr James Hope) family. The road now is paved, I am told. The farm is not far from Bethel Church. It was also spoken of as the Canady farm, because it was formerly owned by a family whose name was Canady.

My brothers and their families are all well. I know of no new Hamill news. I hear from quite a number of the Hamill just once a year, and that of course, is at Christmas time, when we usually exchange letters or short notes. So maybe by the first of the year, I will be brought up to date on them. Cousin "Garn"(H-124-7)(Mr. Brown Hamill's son) and his wife Elizabeth and their son Bill, still live on the old Hamill homestead, and Bill(H-124-721), who must be in his early thirties, has taken over and seems to be making quite a success of farming. He specializes in raising chickens and selling eggs, and does this on a very large scale. Bill seems to be quite a businessman.

My husband and I are both quite well this winter. Albert has been re-finishng our tea carts and some other pieces of furniture, and so keeps busy, and with my various organizations, DAR, Legion Auxiliary, Eastern Star, as well as Church work, I manage to keep busy most of the time. Have neglected my correspondence this winter, but once Christmas is over, I hope to get caught up on this, too Cordially, Sylvia Caven."

(Mrs Caven wrote The Compiler on 1/11/1947): ".....You are surely doing a wonderful work for the Hamill family. Aunt Sylvia(H-124-12) gave me sometime before her last illness, a sheaf of correspondence regarding the Hamills along about 1890-1899, or perhaps later. Her husband did most of the writing, and now I'm wondering if you have ever seen the correspondence, and if you have indicated in the Genealogy all the information it contains. I have looked over it, and read it all several times, but not recently, and now I'm wondering if you would like to take the time to go through it. You have all the Hamills so well in mind that you, no doubt, would recognize and catalogue each one as their name is mentioned. I think your system is mighty fine, and it certainly is original.....After receiving Susan Hamill's (Mrs Nicholas Podesta-Susan Hamill-H-121-514-of) (Matanzas, Cuba) card, I wrote her a letter, and told her we were interested in the welfare of herself and children, as well as that of her brothers and sisters and their families. I asked her if any of them were interested in Genealogy, and treasured the Hamill correspondence her father had collected. I wrote her that if they weren't, and were ever tempted to discard or destroy that material, that either you or I would be glad to receive it and preserve it for future Hamills. Perhaps I was being presumptuous, but I then I should have known of so many cases where those valued m's of that sort have been fed to a furnace, that I would get in my say in-time.....This was a lovely "spring-like" day here. Aisle(H-124-112) has not, as yet, sent the data and dates I requested. When he does, I shall send it on to you.

Do you have this data on my oldest brother: Louise H. Caven and Robert
(SEE OTHER SIDE). (1/15/1947).

Glenn Walker (H-124-111) were married at Buquena, Ponna, by Rev. Dr. W. P. Sylvius of the First Presbyterian Church, 7/30/1913. Louise was born 12/3/1890, in Wood Co, West Virginia. They have had no children, but reared an adopted child, Jean Walker. We are recovering from the flu rather slowly, but we can see some progress in regaining strength each day. Hope you both are feeling better. Cordially, Elvira Walker

(Mrs A.J. Caven (Sylvia Allen Walker) (H-124-113) wrote The Compiler on 5/1/ (1947): ".....Have had an unusual amount of Church and Auxiliary work to do this past month. Have been Program Chairman of our Presbyterian Women's Association and had to get the programs lined up for the year book, which is now at the printer's. Attended Presbytery, and then have had to attend the County Auxiliary meetings in this Western end of the State.....

"...In regard to Albert's parentage. His Father was John Charles Caven. He died in South Hadley Falls, Massachusetts, on Feb 8, 1893, aged 40 years 10 months and 15 days, which would make his birth date March 24, 1852, I believe. He was born in London, England. He is buried in South Hadley Falls. His mother's name was Elizabeth Jane Smith. I don't know her dates. The mother and father were married in London, the mother being born there also. At the time of the father's death, the mother was left in a new country, with 4 children and no relations. Shortly after losing her husband she fell and broke one of her limbs, and then she gave the two oldest children for adoption. Albert was reared by Mr and Mrs Robert S. Sloan, of near Belle Center, Ohio. His own mother married again, and is now dead, but for many years Albert knew nothing of his own people. Last year, when we were in Portland (Ore), I met his brother and sister for the first time. The other child who was left for adoption was a boy, and he died in his teens - and was just older than Albert. The Sloans were United Presbyterians and I was very fond of them. Mother Sloan died a year ago in January - Father Sloan having preceeded her in death by a number of years. They had no children of their own, but reared four - one was a niece and they adopted her. The others they didn't adopt legally.

Neither Albert nor his mother or sister know anything of their grandparents - not even their names. I think I can get his mother's birth-death dates tho....."

(Letter of 6/19/1952): "Dear Cousins Paul & Helen -Congratulations, Paul, on having your McCalla Genealogy mentioned in the "Line O'Type or Two" Column of the Chicago Tribune (4/21/1952). The origin of the name "Hamphill" seems very plausible.....Oh, I must tell you about meeting Bob Evans, (Davidson A-121-311-1). The U.P.'s (United Presbyterians) held their General Assembly out here this year in Albany, Oregon, it being 100 years since the first U.P. Church in the US was organized and it was here in Oregon. I had always supposed 1858 was the date of its organization and that it was in Western Penna, but it seems that was not the case - that it was organized 100 years ago in Albany, (Ore). So, Rev and Mrs Henry Evans, (Davidson A-121-311) drove out, and Bob flew out and met them in Frisco, I believe. I saw in the Saturday paper that Rev. Evans of New Concord, Ohio, was to preach in the U.P. Church not far from where we live, altho we are members of, and attend a Presby. Church which is much closer. So I phoned a lady - about a 7th Cousin on my Lyle ancestry - who has been corresponding with Bob's relative to their McConaughy (hers and Bob's) line, and she with her son and daughter came by on Sunday morning and picked up Albert and me in their car and we all went over to the U.P. Church to hear Dr Evans preach. Much to our surprise the regular Pastor, in introducing Rev. Evans, said that "Mrs Evans and their son Bob is also worshipping with us today."

While I suspected Mrs Evans might have accompanied her husband, I didn't think about Bob being with them. So after the service we hunted them up and everyone was surprised. Bob said he had intended calling us at least on the phone that PM before they went back to Albany, Ore - about 80 miles South of Portland. The Pastor's wife had already invited them to dinner, so we invited them for supper. After dinner they drove around Portland some and came on over in the late afternoon - I had the Lyle descendant, Mrs Howard, her son, daughter and mother, so there were nine of us. It was a beautiful day and we surely enjoyed our visit all around. They played "hockey" from the evening at Albany, so didn't start back 'till evening. Had a letter from Bob written next day at Albany. He figured out his mother and I are fourth cousins. They were going home via the Columbia Gorge, so would have to go thru Portland again, but they must have gone on through. They had to be back by a fixed date, wanted to go thru Yellowstone, down to Colo. Springs, and several other places enroute home, so wouldn't have too much time as it was. Bob has a position in the Library of Augustana Lutheran College at Rock Island, (Illinois), and begins July 1st, (1952), and, of course, he wanted to see his relatives in Penna, so had a full schedule until then. I hadn't realized he was so young - from his letters he seems more like a lad entering his thirties.

Yesterday, while I was at my Church Circle picnic, Albert had a caller, Jean Daniels, (H-124-111-1), Glenn's daughter, had written saying a young man they knew from Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Penna, was coming to Portland this Summer to preach in a Reformed Presby. Church during his vacation, and she had given him our name and address, and wondered if it was all right. So I wrote her immediately saying of course it was all right - that we would be very happy to have them call - he was to be married just before starting West. So it was he who called yesterday - James Carson. And now I am wondering if he is of the Hamill-Carson family. (See descendants of H-373-6). His wife has already secured a position in the office of one of our large Dept. stores downtown. Before very long now I will try and contact them by phone and have them over for dinner and the evening. His father is serving a Covenant Church at Belle Center, Ohio, where Albert (her husband) graduated from High School, so they had a good friendly visit.

Warren (Walker) (H-124-112-2), Lyle's boy, was "shipped out" of San Francisco May 31st (1952) bound for Europe via the Panama Canal and NY City - he thought either to France or Germany, so should have arrived this week, I would think. Glenn and Louise (Walker) (H-124-111) have built up a nice business in their Dairy Store there on College Hill in Beaver Falls, but it is too much work for them, and so they want to sell the store. Glenn has had to stop being on his feet so much, and has gone back to selling cars, and Louise, with help, is running the store until a buyer comes along, which we hope will be before long. Glenn had gone "down hill" and may have to go back to Chicago for a check-up. He was going to see their local Doctor there in Beaver Falls this week. Hope that all it amounts to is that he has overdone in the store..... Hope you both are free of your colds, and that your side, Helen, (H-125-31) is much improved. With affection, Sylvia. (Mrs A.J. Caven).

LETTERS from MRS A. J. CAVEN:

(Letter of 4/11/1955): ".....I am leaving Tuesday April 12th, 1955, on North-ern Pacific for Washington, DC, as one of Oregon's Delegates to the Continent-al Congress, (D.A.R.). Will arrive in Chicago at 1.45 PM on the 14th (C.B.&Q. Ry) and leave Chicago for Washington on the B & O (Grand Central Station) at 4 PM. I am "teamed up" with Mrs Lester Davis of Portland, another Oregon Delegate. After the Convention, we are going to NY City and take some sight-seeing time. She will fly from there back to Portland, but I will leave N.Y.C. on the 28th for Pittsburgh for a visit. Then on to Willard, Ohio, to see a friend, then to Oakdale, Illinois, to visit a Walker Cousin (my only living 1st Cousin), then on to Boulder, Colorado, and Sterling (Colo) too, to see friends and on home about June 1st. Am routed from Willard to St Louis via Cincinnati. Will have to take a Bus from St Louis to Oakdale.

While in Washington will stay at Statler Hotel. Mrs Davis wants to "take in" the C.A.R. Convention too, as she is leader of a C.A.R. group. So we won't leave Washington for N.Y. until April 24th....."

(Letter of 6/25/1955): ".....Well, I had a fine trip, and the delegate, Mrs Davis, whom you met, from Portland, was a fine travelling companion, too. It certainly is a great inspiration to attend Continental Congress. Would that every D.A.R. member could attend at least once. It is indeed thrilling. Am glad Helen, (H-125-61) attended a number of sessions in by-gone years, so she can at least visualize what is going on when Congress is in session. Am sorry we didn't get to Wakefield this time but will plan on going there if and when I go again.....On 4/24 we went from Washington to N.Y. City, where we were royally entertained one way and another until the 28th, when Mrs Davis flew back to Portland and I started on my "visiting" trip Westward by RR.

While in NY the President (together with his Wife, Mr-Mrs Frank Ayer) of the Columbia University Club, entertained us at Luncheon at the Club. He has a Sister living here in Portland. And afterwards, Mrs Ayer accompanied us on a tour of the U.N. Building....."

(Letter of 8/4/1955): ".....Last Thursday, I attended a McLaughlin House Tea at Oregon City, Oregon. It is now a National Historic Site, and this Tea is a Silver one, to help maintain the site. Dr John McLaughlin was born of Scotch-Irish ancestry in the Parish of LaRiviere du Loup, below Quebec, Can-ada, in October 1784. He had a brief and informal education in Medicine. He was one of the Commission sent to England to arrange the union of the North-west and Hudson's Bay Companies in 1821. After the organization he was placed in charge of the Columbia. As Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Co, Dr McLaughlin exerted authority second only to that of Gov. George Simpson, the District Representative of the London Governor and Committee of the Hudson's Bay Co, and he literally ruled an Empire stretching from the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific Ocean and from Alaska to California. In 1921, Dr McLaughlin was named one of Oregon's two candidates for the National Hall of Fame. The McLaughlin House was saved from destruction in 1909 by the McLaughlin Memor-ial Association.

I feel quite honored. I received an engraved invitation to greet Herbert Hoover at the Dedication of the restored home of Dr Hy. Jno. Nonthorn, his Foster Father (Note by me: He was really an Uncle), where Mr Hoover lived as a boy. The occasion will be Mr Hoover's 81st birthday, Wed, Aug 10th (1955) at 2 o'clock, Newberg, Oregon. Signed by Herbert Hoover Foundation, Newberg, Oregon. I don't know how I rated an invitation. I presumed all D.A.R. mem-bers received invitations, but they didn't. I am Vice-Rogent of our Chapter, so maybe they limited D.A.R. invitations to Rogents and Vice-Rogents of Chap-ters. Hope the sun will be shining and that it will be a fine day....."

(Letter of 10/9/1955): ".....The afternoon of the Dedication of the res-tored "Hoover House", (at Newberg, Oregon), was a very hot one, and I felt sor-ry for Mr Hoover. So many crowded in to shake hands with him after the Ded-icatory services, and so while I would have enjoyed the privilege of shaking hands with him, I felt it would be better to relieve him of at least one

Date Page on MARTHA JANE HAMILL - DAVID PORTER MCKEAN:

David Porter McKean was the son of Mr George McKean, (died 9/8/1860 at 92 years old), a Tanner, of Westmoreland County, Penna, and of Enon Valley, Penna, and his wife, (married 10/10/1820), Elizabeth Smith (McKean) (died 3/11/1883 at 83 years old).

This George McKean came to Enon Valley, Penna, when he was 21 years old. He and his family resided on a 500 acre tract of land between Enon Valley, Penna, and East Palestine, Ohio. This McKean family was "chased" from Westmoreland Co, Penna, by Indians when George McKean was very young. George McKean was a tanner by trade, and he purchased his land from the "Commonwealth of Pennsylvania" in 1792. George McKean married twice. He married first, (5/29/1793), Mary Johnston, (died 6/3/1823 at 53 years old). He fathered 17 children, 11 to his first wife (Mary Johnston), and 6 to his second wife, (Elizabeth Smith).

David Porter McKean was the grandson of Mr McKean, who was in the business, who lived in Westmoreland County, Penna, and of Enon Valley, Penna(?), and his wife (maiden name) McKean).

There was a Porter family who lived near the McKean farm, near Enon Valley and David was given the middle name of Porter in honor of him.

{ There were said to be NO Children by this marriage to Mr Baldwin

After the death of his First wife, Katherine (Kate) Hamill (H-121-2), at Spring Hill, Kansas, James Ross Hope (H-358-4) is said to have lived for a time at Neosho, Mo - but this is unverified. He had 3 children by his 1st wife. Later, he married as his 2nd wife, the above Minerva Sophrona Hamill (H-124-5). There were NO Children by this 2nd marriage to Minerva, and they lived in Siloam Springs, Arkansas - where James Ross Hope died. Both are buried in Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

Minerva Sophrona Hamill, after the death of James Ross Hope, married as her 2nd husband, a MR ----- Baldwin, of Siloam Springs, Ark. There were said to be NO Children by this marriage - and we have no further record of them.

Louis Robert Hamill (H-121-51) wrote about 1958: "The death of my mother when I was 10 years old left me a half-orphan," and he wrote feelingly of the fact that his Aunt, Minerva Sophrona Hamill, and his Uncle James Ross Hope, had been so kind to him as an orphan boy. (See Data Page H-121-51).

Ellen (H-124-34), and (H-124-35) Eugene Swisher (H-124-65) in Newcastle, Penna.

She has a very good mind, and writes a remarkably good letter - very legible. Eugene (H-124-65) would no doubt supply dates for you, if you wished them. Ellen (H-124-64) is a grand person, but has had very poor health the last few years. If you would like data - I do not have it except names of children - of Aunt Estella Merrill Home, (H-124-3), I know her daughter Rosa would be glad to supply it. Her address a year ago was: Miss Rosa Home, 201 South Arcadia Avenue, Los Angeles, Cal (H-124-68). The last address of Aunt Estella Merrill Home's only living daughter who could supply the data for their family, and who loves to write letters is: Mrs. J. Brownlee, (Vern McKean) (H-124-42) 155 Chalfonte Avenue, West View, Penna, (suburb of Allegheny).

(Letter from Mrs. Caven, dated about December 1940): "...wish you could know Aunt Anna, (Anna Louise Merrill Swisher - H-124-6). She was, and still is for that matter, very sweet dispositioned, and was the beauty of the family. Aunt Anna could write herself, and you would treasure her letter on account of its legibility for one of her age...."

(Letter from Mrs. Caven (H-124-113) dated 1/4/1940): "Aunt Anna Merrill Swisher, (H-124-6) died at Newcastle, Penna, Nov. 13th, 1947, and was buried at Petersburg, Ohio. My two Penna brothers attended her funeral. The Minister spoke of her in the highest regard - he had visited her often and always looked forward to their visits together. It has been quite some time - years - since she was able to attend Church, hence was considered a "shut in," also able to "get around" somewhat. She spent the past summer with her daughter, Mrs. J. Brownlee, (H-124-68), at her summer home at Java Lake, (Arcade), New York...."

Her Mother, Annie Hamill Swisher, (H-124-6), was 94 years old the 18th of last September (1946), so will be 95 this Fall, if she lives. I will ask Una for more data on their family. She is about my age and lives with her children during the Winter months, but she has a Summer home at Java Lake, NY, and for the last few Summers has been taking her Mother with her to Java Lake for the Summer, and I am anxious to learn if she will be able to stand the trip this Summer. MARY HAYES HAMILL, (Not Married - Lives on Old Hamill Farm).
Born: 11/19/1896, Enon Valley, Penna. Died: _____

The Old Hamill Farm, on which these Hamills live, is located about 6 miles North, (and slightly to the West), of Enon Valley Station, Penna, (on the Penna Railroad, 45 miles N-W of Pittsburgh). The Farm is about 2 miles N-W of Bethel Church, and is on a hilltop. Note that this is not the first Hamill Farm, but the second. The first and Original Hamill Farm was located North of the present second Farm, and was sold in the early 1800's. This second Hamill Farm has been owned by Hamills for about 156 years (in 1956).

This whole District is now spoken of as the Enon Valley District of Penna, but in the older records is spoken of as "North Beaver Township, Penna" - either being correct. Roughly speaking, the Enon Valley of Penna, extends from Enon Valley Station on the South, to Newcastle (Wilmington), Penna, on the North - including such towns as Mt Jackson, Penna, etc. And from Beaver Falls and New Galilee, Penna, on the East, to the Penna-Ohio State Line on the West. Sometimes Palestine, Ohio, or even Youngstown, Ohio, are considered as the Western boundary of the very beautiful Enon Valley of Penna.

BIOGRAPHY OF WILLIAM BROWN HAMILL:

(From: Page 340 - "History of Lawrence County, Penna." - 1908 - Pub by Richmond-Arnold Publishing Co-Chicago. At Harper Library-University of Chicago, (Ill.) (Contributed - 2/13/1950 - by Robert Davidson Evans, (Davidson A-131-311-1), of) (131 Lakeside Drive, New Concord, Ohio. - currently a student at Univ. of Chicago)

William Brown Hamill, (H-124-7), one of North Beaver Township's leading citizens, residing on his valuable farm of 150 acres, which he devotes to general farming and stock raising, was born on this same farm, 12/14/1854, son of James and Lydia Jane (William) Hamill, (H-124). James Hamill was born and reared on this farm and was a son of John Hamill, (Jr) (H-12), who came here from the Western(?) part of Penna with the pioneers about 1801. James Hamill cleared up the larger part of this farm, which his father left uncleared, and cultivated and improved the property. He married a daughter of Thomas Siliman, a man of Scotch-Irish birth who came very early to North Beaver Township. They had children as follows: Mrs Mary Crawford, (H-124-1); Rosanna Hamill, (H-124-2); Mrs Martha McKean, (H-124-4); Mrs Minerva Hope, (H-124-5); Mrs Anna Swisher, (H-124-6); William Brown Hamill (H-124-7); Mrs Estella Hope, (H-124-8); and Thomas Baker, (Hamill) (H-124-9). The last named was born in 1862 and died in California in early manhood. He was known in the neighborhood as "Colonel". In 1892 the mother of this family died, and a month later the father was killed by a vicious bull, the former passing away on May 5 and the latter on June 9, 1892.

William Brown Hamill was reared on the home farm and obtained his education in the country schools. In 1884 he was married to Margaret Elizabeth Hayes, who was born and reared in North Beaver Township, and is a daughter of Joseph and Mary (Clark) Hayes. They have 5 children: James Edwin, (H-124-71) who married Jane Hope and had 1 child, Florence Samuel, (H-124-711, and Colonel Thomas, (H-124-72) and Mary Hayes, (H-124-73), who reside at home. Mr Hamill has devoted himself to agricultural pursuits and has met with very satisfactory returns. From 1878 until 1900 he was engaged in a milk and dairy business in Allegheny, (Penna), but has discontinued that industry. He is a man of reading and culture, and with his family he spent 3 years travelling thru California, Utah, Arkansas and Colorado. He is prominent in the order of Odd Fellows, being a member of Park Lodge #916, Allegheny, (Penna), and of Allegheny Encampment #101. He belongs also to Corona Lodge #198, Knights of Pythias; Allegheny Council #223 of the National Union; and to Triumph Lodge #101 of the Protective Home Circle. Mr Hamill and family belong to Westfield Presbyterian Church."

(Letters to The Compiler - from Mrs Albert James Caven, (Sylvia Ellen Walker,) (H-124-113), 2415 N-E 41st Avenue, Portland, (13), Oregon.)

(Letter of 12/2/1943): "....Cousin 'Curn' (Wm. Brown Hamill's (H-124-7) son) and his wife, Elizabeth, and their son, 'Bill' (H-124-721), still live on the old Hamill Homestead, and 'Bill' who must be in his early thirties, has taken over and ~~seems to be~~ seems to be making quite a success of farming. He specializes in raising chickens and selling eggs, and does this on a very large scale. 'Bill' seems to be quite a businessman...."

(9/12/1948): ".....You will recall that 'Curn' (Colonel Thomas Hamill-H-124-72) has 3 children, 2 daughters and a son. Both of the girls are married, and one lives in St Louis, and the other in Chicago somewhere. 'Bill' (H-124-721) runs the farm, so to speak, and is doing a much better job of it than the Father did. They have quite a chicken farm, and 'Bill' takes complete charge of that end of it, and 'Curn' looks after the Beef cattle. 'Bill' is still single."

(6/25/1955): ".....'Bill' is quite witty....."

LETTER FROM JAMES GAIL HOWE:

(Letter to Mrs Albert James Gaven, (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113) (Assistant Editor of the Hamill Genealogy), 2415 - E 41st Avenue, Portland 13, Oregon -)
- from Mr James Gail Howe, (Ottie Little) (H-124-81), 581 West Indianola Avenue, Youngstown (11), Ohio.

(Letter of 2/13/1950): Youngstown, Ohio, Sept 13, 1950. Dear Cousin Sylvia: I was pleased very much to receive your welcome letter. I am writing to sister Fanny, (H-124-83), and enclosing your letter as requested. When I received your letter, for a moment I was at a loss to know just who you were. Then I happened to recall a girl being born to Cousin Ed and Jane Walker, (H-124-11) at East Palestine, Ohio, named Sylvia (H-124-113). Sylvia writes: "I was born on farm near Mon, tho.". I am very sorry to admit that I was not in touch with your family outside of Glenn (H-124-111) and Ayle (H-124-112). As I played with them as youngsters, when they lived on top of the Swisher Hill. And the next time I met them was at Aunt Anna Swisher's (H-124-6) funeral, many years later. Nevertheless, I have thought of your family many times, as I was very fond of your father and mother (H-124-11), also your Aunt Sylvia, (H-124-12). Since your name is Gavin, I worked with a man, John Gavin, who after retiring, moved to the Northwest somewhere. I just wondered if there was any connection. (No connection - Sylvia A. Gaven).

To date the family is getting pretty thin. The McGanns, (H-124-4) are all gone. The Swishers (H-124-6) only Gene (H-124-85) and Una (H-124-66) are left. Uncle William's (H-124-7) two boys, Ed (H-124-71) and Keam (H-124-72) are still here. And as you possibly know, we lost sister Goldie (H-124-84) back about the turn of the century, with typhoid fever. But the other five are intact and going strong. As for myself, (H-124-81), I was injured in June 1943, as the old saying goes, I just worked on the railroad a little too long. Altho I am nearing the three score and ten mark, I am enjoying good health, and expect to be around for many years to come. I cannot understand why your letter to Fanny, (H-124-83) was not delivered, as the Amburgers, (H-124-83) are a pioneer family in Baginaw, Michigan. Also, the address on your letter to me, 345 Patomac Ave. We sold that place about 15 years ago, and your letter was delivered to me at our new address, altho it is clear across town. My youngest brother, Julian (H-124-86), made a trip West last year.

He went to L.A. to see sister Moss, (H-124-82) and Frank (Sylvia Swisher's (H-124-62) husband); then to S.F. to see brother Francis (H-124-85), then up the Coast thru your town, and back the Northern route. He says he would have been glad to have called on you had he known you lived there. I am sure Fanny (H-124-83) will be thrilled to hear from you, and will do anything she can to assist you. Also that goes for me too. So let me know what you want, and I will be glad to assist you in any way I can. Well, I could write pages, but I know I will keep in touch with you. So had better save some for another time. We will be looking forward to hearing more from you. With love, J.G. HOWE, (James Gail Howe H-124-81), 581 West Indianola Ave, Youngstown, (11), Ohio.

LETTER CONCERNING THIS FAMILY:

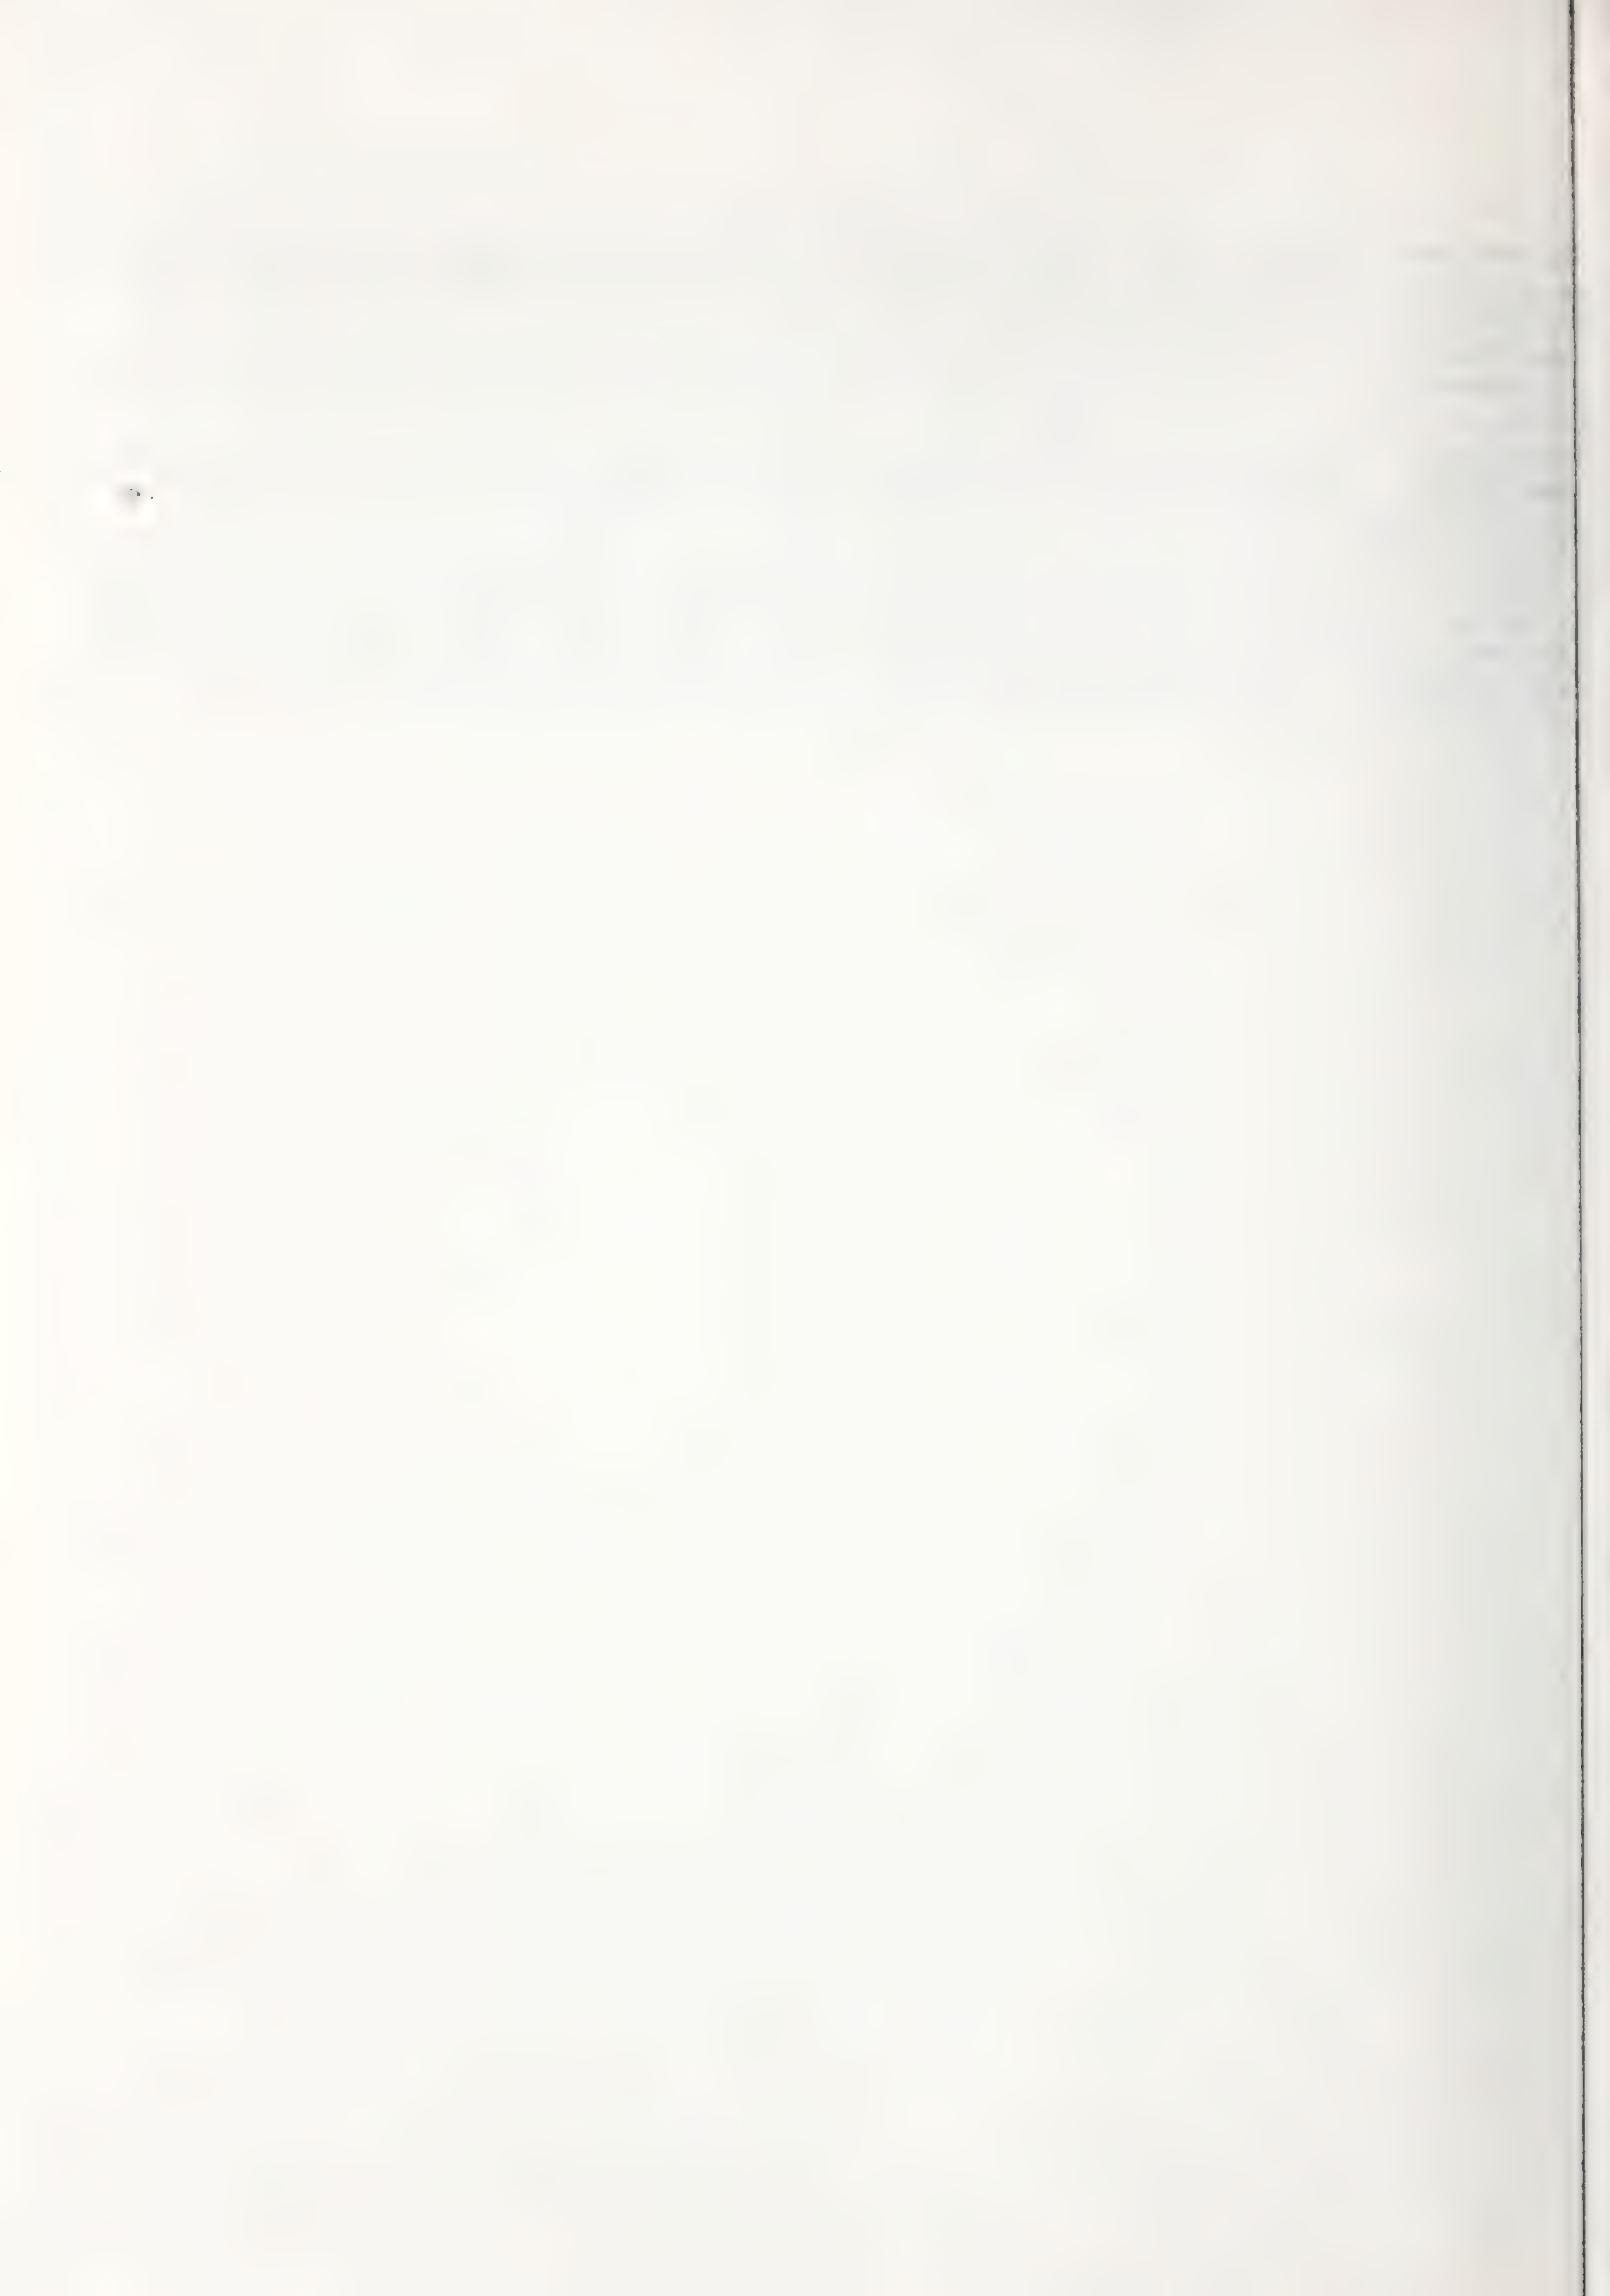

(In forwarding this letter to the Compiler, Mrs A.J. Gaven (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113), of 2415 - E 41st Ave, Portland 13, Oregon, wrote:
(Letter of 10/5/1950): "Not long ago, in looking thru the Hamill Genealogy, I thought the Howe, (H-124-8) line (of James Hamill line), could be added to, so I wrote Fanny, (H-124-83) at Baginaw, Michigan. The letter was returned, as I wrote to Gail, (H-124-81) enclosing the letter I had written to Fanny. I thought Gail's letter was so friendly and cheery that you (H-125-65) and Helen, (the Compiler's sister H-125-61) would enjoy reading it too, so am enclosing it. I have answered it, so just destroy it. Gail wrote immediately to his sister Fanny, (H-124-83), from whom I received an answer pronto.

(10/21/1950)

She writes: "Julian is a real Hamill. He is the youngest of our family and we are all justly proud of him. (Julian is H-124-86). ~~English~~, and his oldest Granddaughter - Julian and family spent two weeks with us up on Lake Huron this summer. You would be surprised how Gail, (H-124-81) can get along in his wheel chair - really amazing - and he considers himself lucky that he is alive - never a word of self-pity. We celebrated his 69th birthday while he was up at our place, and there were 18 sat down at the table - we had a very good time. Lottie, his wife, did not feel well enough to make the trip - she has heart trouble and is 74 years old - was afraid to get so far away from her Doctor."

Fanny, (H-124-83) writes that her sister Moss, (H-124-82) went to California in 1914, and has never been back East. So Fanny and Gail, having never made the trip West, haven't seen her since. Too bad, isn't it? Last I know, Moss was employed - had very good position, and of course vacations.

(Contributed - 8/4/1955 - by Mrs Albert J. Caven, (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113), 2415 N-E. 41st Ave, Portland, Oregon)

- Obituary of Mrs James Gail Howe, (Lottie L. Little): "Mrs Lottie Little Howe, aged 76, of 581 W. Indianola Ave, (Youngstown, Ohio), died of a heart ailment at 11 A.M. Friday - Oct 17, 1952 - at her residence. She had been ill four months. Born in North Lima, (Ohio), August 11, 1876, she was a daughter of Emanuel and Lorinda Klinker Little. She came to Youngstown 55 years ago. She was a member of the Martha group of Epworth Methodist Church and the Women's Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Besides her husband, James Gail Howe, to whom she was married in 1903, she leaves 2 sons, Dr. D. L. Howe of Cleveland, and Kenneth C. Howe of Akron; six Grandchildren, and 2 Sisters, Mrs Harry Crawford and Mrs Robert Sargent, both of Youngstown. Funeral services will be held at 3.30 PM Monday at the Shriver-Allison South Side Funeral Home, where friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening."

(Letter Contributed - 8/4/1955 - by Mrs Albert J. Caven, (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113), 2415 N-E 41st Avenue, Portland, Oregon. This was a letter written to her in 1955 by her first cousin, once removed, James Gail Howe: (It was written at Christmas time, 1953:

"Dear Cousin, (H-124-113): I am ashamed that I have not answered your last letter sooner, but it is a mistake of the head, not of the heart. I miss Lottie more as time goes on. She was a wonderful wife and raised two wonderful boys. She passed away Oct. 17, 1952, and had she lived until 2/26/1953, we would have been married 50 years. And as I have said, she lived a full life. She was past 76, which is beyond-the-three score and ten. - She made numerous trips to the Hospital. When they leave on those trips one is relieved, as you feel they will come back improved. But when they go out and you know they are not coming back - that is food-for-thought. But we who are left will have to live our lives to the best advantage, as that was her wish. I feel I have two of as good sons and daughters-in-law as one could wish for, of which I am very proud. They both insisted that I come and live with them, but as I am able to take care of myself, I thought it would be best to maintain my own home. One of the Nurses that helped to care for Lottie stayed with me 13 months, then got married. I do not like the one I have now nearly so well, but will give her a fair trial.

Julian, (H-124-86) has moved to town. His address is 635 West Boston Ave. He is just 2 streets back of me, and comes in several times a week to see me. His son, Donald, (H-124-861) lives on the Farm. Jude was operated on last Spring for kidney stones, but has fully recovered and is feeling fine now. I received a letter from the Veterans of the American Revolution (He means the S.A.R.). I do not think I will bother at my age and condition, but I passed it along to the boys. Do not know if they are interested or not. But it is a nice thing to know. Our weather has been fine, we have only had several hard frosts so far this Fall. But it is very dry. Our 4 water supply dams are less than half full - about 2 months supply. The steel mills require lots of water.

Moss, (Howe-H-124-82) is retiring at the end of this year. Jude, "an" and me are going to try and have her come East, and at least spend the Summer with us. I think she would enjoy it. I spent the Thanksgiving week end with my son in Cleveland, and enjoyed it very much. They are coming down here for Christmas. Kenneth's, (H-124-813) oldest girl, Judy, (H-124-813-1) was with me about 6 weeks this Summer. She is 18. They lived in Washington, D.C, for about 7 years, and she wanted to visit there and see her old school-mates. The young man she goes with agreed to take her, but, of course her Dad said she could not go. So they asked him if they could go if they took me along, and he said "yes," as he didn't think I would go, and I didn't think so either. But you know how these Grand-daughters are. (However, this young Boy is 19 - (SEE OTHER SIDE). (9/17/1955).

his Father runs the Packard agency in town). So Judy said "Grandpa, there is nothing you could do that would please me as much as going with us." So, as I worship her I said "Yes." So she went to town and bought me a white cap and two sport shirts.

So, on August 2nd, the boy arrived about 10 PM with a big Packard convertible (it was Sunday night), with red leather upholstery, and as I wanted to wait until daylight to go over the Pennsylvania Turn Pike - the Boy wanted to leave at midnight, so I finally backed down and we left at midnight - took the Pike at Petersburg and arrived at Alexandria, Virginia, at 10 AM. The Boy wired ahead for reservations at the Wagon Wheel Motel at Alexandria, Va. It is a wonderful place, with 100 units built in the shape of a horse shoe, with swimming pools, croquet, shuffle board, tennis court, and a wonderful restaurant in the center. We were about 20 miles from Washington, D.C., so we made our headquarters there for the full five days. We would leave each morning for some place of interest, of which there are so many. On Saturday morning we left early - went over the Sky Line Drive as far South as Norfolk, Virginia. We were above the clouds at times - arriving home at 10 PM Saturday night. The maid that took care of our unit was half Indian and half Negro, a very nice person. She said: "You have a very attractive Granddaughter, but you sure have her spoiled." "Well," I said, "why have them if you can't spoil them."

After all, it was the most enjoyable trip that I ever took, as both of the Kids "went over backwards" to make things pleasant for me. Those Southern people are very hospitable. I would kid the girls in the restaurants by telling them "when you get us Yankees down here you get back at us." Of course, they would just laugh it off, and would not mind when you called them Rebels. Judy could not get used to seeing the convicts working on the roads, with guards with Winchester rifles guarding them. She thought that was awful - that is the reason the South has the best roads in the nation.

Glenn, (H-124-111) and Lyle, (H-124-112) were in with Lyle's new wife. I liked her very much. Over a year ago he (Lyle) said he was going to South America and as I don't have Glenn's address, I have not heard from them since. Gene Swisher, (H-124-65) has not been very well. He was pulled out of service (Railroad) a couple of years ago, for high blood pressure. I think he has retired now on disability. Jane and Ed Hamill, (H-124-71) are getting along fine. Ed is still working in the Steel Mills, but is getting close to the retirement age.

There are 2 other men in the apartment that have lost their wives - one lives alone; the other has his Sister living with him, so we are a lot of company to each other. DeWayne's (Howe-H-124-813-Gail's son) oldest boy went to the Army Nov. 17th. He graduated from the Case Institute of Technology as a Mechanical Engineer. I was glad he got through College before the Army got him, and as the Army is short of Engineers, it might be a break for him. At least, I hope so. I can't think of much more to say, so will close, wishing you a very Happy Holiday. With love, Gail.

A FORMER LETTER ABOUT GAIL'S BAD ACCIDENT:

(Mrs Albert J. Caven, (Sylvia Ellen Walker) (H-124-113) wrote The Compiler on 9/12/1948 as follows: (See complete letter on previous Data Page H-124-112:)
"....Poor Gail Howe, (H-124-81), who has always seemed to be unlucky, lost both legs this Summer - a train ran over him. I believe he is, or I presume I should say he was a railroad employee. Garnet, (H-124-112) didn't write any details concerning the accident, but said: "he is getting better"....."

Data Page on SMITH HAMILL - NANCY McCLELLAN MacCANDLESS.

Smith Hamill was born on the historic old Hamill Farm, 6 miles N-W of Enon Valley, Lawrence Co, Penna. He is said to have secured his early mercantile training in the store of his Grand-Uncle Cotton or Corbin(?), in Pittsburgh. In 1852, he founded the S. Hamill Co, Wholesale Grocers, Keokuk, Iowa. In 1948 this Company is still going strong, after 96 honorable years - under the management of his Grandson, Smith Hamill, 2nd. He also aided in founding the Iowa State (Fire) Insurance Co, of Keokuk, Iowa. He was also a member of the first Iowa Legislature, and aided in forming the Constitution and Organic Laws of the State of Iowa.

One version has it that he was married by Rev. James Wright, and another version has it that he was married by Rev. David Imbrie, Pastor of the Associated Presbyterian Church, of Beaver Valley Presbytery, Enon Valley, Pa - and for these records see: "Page 462 - History of Beaver Co, Penna." Another version has it that he was married at Lancaster, Penna - but this is very doubtful.

Sylvia Crawford Franklin, (H-124-12) said: "Smith Hamill taught school for a time at Coal Ridge School House. It is said that he swam the Big Beaver Creek on January 30th, (in mid-winter) to marry Nancy McClellan MacCandless.

Nancy McClellan MacCandless! It is said that Nancy MacCandless people had helped Carnegie in his younger years, back in Penna. He had a great desire to buy his mother a new, heavy silk bombazine dress, and with his first money, he did so. Later, he brought his mother to Keokuk, Iowa, and stayed part of the time with Mrs Augusta Kilbourne, and part of the time with the Smith Hamills. He expressed gratitude, and spoke proudly of the dress, which she wore. She later told Mrs Kilbourne and Mrs Hamill, that the dress was out of style, but that she would not think of depriving Andrew of his satisfaction at having been able to buy it for her. Mrs Carnegie, Mrs Kilbourne and Mrs Smith Hamill - all very jolly - laughed heartily over this incident. Years later, as a wealthy ironmaster, Mr Andrew Carnegie built and owned the steel bridge across the Mississippi River at Keokuk, Iowa. It is possible that part of the impelling motive for this may have been his early-day visit to Keokuk. Also, David McCandless, (See MacCandless Family D), of another migration of the MacCandless Family to America, was a partner with Mr Andrew Carnegie in founding (1872) "Carnegie, MacCandless & Co", which later became the Carnegie Steel Co. (See MacCandless Family "D", (MacCandless Section)). So Mr Carnegie naturally had a warm feeling of regard toward the members of the MacCandless family, of whom Nancy McClellan MacCandless Hamill was a well-known descendent.

(From: Elder Genealogy, Page 6, where Nancy MacCandless is #34, and (Smith Hamill is #130, says): "Smith Hamill was the founder of Smith Hamill Co, Wholesale Grocers, Keokuk, Iowa. He was a member of the Iowa Legislature in the formative period of the state. He was a broad-minded and philanthropic man, and a patriotic citizen."

The Keokuk, Iowa, home of Smith Hamill-Nancy McClellan MacCandless was exceedingly hospitable, and was visited by nearly every Hamill-MacCandless-McClellan-Davidson-Young-Elder-Stuart-Scott, etc, who ever came West. It was headquarters for all the Linfolk in the West, and Mrs Hamill knew all the intricacies of family history - and just who was who. What a pity that she did not write it down like this, for the benefit of our family records.

94th ANNIVERSARY (in 1946) of S. HAMILL CO., KEOKUK, IOWA.

(Founded by Smith Hamill (1852)).

(From: Smith Hamill 94th Anniversary).

"S. Hamill 94th Anniversary". At the age of 94 years, S. Hamill Company is not only the oldest firm in Keokuk, but is believed to have the longest record of continuous existence among wholesale grocery companies in the middle-west, and its brand names were among the first registered in the country. Founded in 1852 by Smith Hamill, pioneer Keokuk resident who came here in the 1840's, the firm has remained in the hands of the family since that time, with the grandson of the founder, Smith Hamill, now serving as its President.

Family History in Firm: The original Smith Hamill took in his son, David B. Hamill, father of the present president, as Vice-President of the Company, and later another son, L. A. Hamill, became Secretary and Treasurer. Upon the death of Lee Hamill, a number of years ago, Smith Hamill was elected to the Presidency, with the late Harry H. Gilkin becoming General Manager as well as Secretary and Treasurer. When Mr. Gilkin died last year, Iner C. Lentz took office as General Manager, with Arthur J. Weinman elected as Secretary and Treasurer of the firm, which also includes Mrs. Lee A. Hamill as Vice-President and Mrs. Smith Hamill as a director. During the 94-year period of its existence, the Company has enriched Keokuk by a tremendous amount in the form of taxes, wages, salaries and contributions to public welfare, and as a result has been of incalculable benefit to the development of the community.

At Risk and Johnson: With its large force of salesmen it has also made a material contribution to the welfare of the surrounding territory in which it has done business for so long. Its trade area embraces southern Iowa, northern Missouri, and Central-western Illinois. S. Hamill Company is located in spacious buildings at 312-314-316-318-320-322-324-326-328 Johnson Street, and has ample railroad trackage at the rear on which to unload the vast amount of merchandise it receives directly from the railroad car. The firm has not only weathered the depressions of 94 years itself, but has greatly assisted the independent retail grocer in making a success of his business over the same period, an evidence of continuous good management on the part of company officials.

Used Brand Names: The company carries one of the largest and most complete lines of pure food products of any wholesale grocer in the middle-west, and has built up a big business on house brands of quality. "Palm Brand" denotes fancy quality. "Olive Branch" choice quality. "No. 1" extra standard. and "Big Value" standard quality. Under these names the company distributes canned, bottled and packaged food products. It also carries a full and complete line of nationally advertised brands as well as unadvertised brands, under the manufacturer's labels, which makes it possible for the independent grocer to secure his entire stock from the one firm."

WE ARE PROUD OF OUR AGE

We are proud of our Age, and of our Youth, for after Ninety-four years of continuous operation, rich in the history of the past, we are still young and progressive in this modern age.

Reminiscing takes us back to the "old days" when goods received came by Packet Steamboat, and goods delivered to your representations were hauled by an oxcart and heavy horse drawn wagons as far as Des Moines, over roads practically impassable a good bit of the time, when this firm handled such items as Rifle Powder, and Buckshot for your ancestor's muzzle loaders, churns for your Grandmothers to churn their own butter, Green Coffee which they had to roast in their own ovens; and when Dry & Wet Bolly came in barrels, and Putty came in bladders, and all merchandise had to be hauled by main strength and awkwardness without the assistance of modern equipment, up on through the years of progress to the present age when most foods marketed by us reach you in a form almost ready for your table: (and when modern equipment enables us to facilitate movement in and out of our warehouses, coming in swiftly from Manufacturers and Carriers to a five-car switch at the rear of our warehouse, then moving on by Rail, Truck or Express to your Grocer).

This old concern of ours has gone through four major wars, the Civil War, Spanish-American War, and World Wars I and II, and numerous periods of inflation and Depression, and through it all it has always managed to keep going and to come out on top. Did you know there was income tax in the 60's? We paid it even way back in those days.

You and your Parents and Grandparents have used the Hamill Brands of Merchandise for decades, but did you know where these brands originated? There is romance in connection with this. "Palm" came from the original Hamill Coat of Arms, and "Olive Branch" from the Coat of Arms of the wife of Smith Hamill the 1st, founder of the business. So these brands date back centuries, way beyond most brands of nationally advertised merchandise.

Throughout almost one-hundred years of marketing foods under PALM and OLIVE BRANCH brands, we have prided ourselves on their quality, this being one of the reasons why today Great-Granddaughters still prefer PALM and OLIVE BRANCH foods for their exceptional goodness and quality.

We want to take this means also of extending our thanks to our loyal retail grocer customers and consumers who throughout the years have made it possible for this concern to serve you and to prosper.

MY GRANDPARENTS - SMITH and NANCY McCANDLESS HAMILL.

By Paul Hamill McCalla - The Compiler. (H-125-65).

It is with affectionate love that I write down these brief notes about my Grandparents - who were among the kindly people of the earth. Grandfather Smith was of the quiet and reserved type, very sensible, very kind, a man of vision and a shrewd and energetic business man - but not much given to levity. Grandmother Nancy was the perfect foil for him, being full of fun, very jolly, shrewd, yet with a friendly twinkle in her eye, fond of playing little jokes upon her 11 children, and greatly given to hospitality and lively and friendly family gatherings. She knew and told almost endless tales of family history, usually with a jolly little twist to them. She helped to make their home the gathering place of every Hamill and other Kinsman who ever came to the West.

Smith was born and grew up on the 2nd Old Hamill Farm, on a hilltop, about 2 miles west of Bethel Church, and about 6 miles N-W of the town of Enon Valley, North Beaver Township, Lawrence Co, Penna. This farm in 1943 is now owned for some 143 years by Hamills - is owned and operated by Colonel Thomas Hamill, (H-124-72), and his son, William Harrison Hamill (H-124-721). Nancy was born and raised on a farm nearby, also in the Enon Valley District. As a young man, Smith was said to have received his early mercantile training in the Pittsburg store of his "Grand-Uncle Cotton (or Coffin)," but we have no further data on this. (See Page 1-123). Smith is also said to have taught school for a while at the nearby Coal Ridge School House, in the Enon Valley District.

MARRIAGE: Smith and Nancy were married on 1/30/1838 at Enon Valley, Pa. One version has it that they were married by Rev. James Wright, and another version has it that they were married by Rev. David Labrie, Pastor of the Assoc. Presby. Church of Beaver Valley Presbytery, at Enon Valley, Pa. Nancy used to tell the story that Smith swam the ice cold Big Beaver Creek in mid-winter (Jan'y 30th), to get to the wedding ceremony on time.

MOVE TO KEOKUK: In 1846, eight years after their marriage, they moved to Keokuk, Iowa, bringing with them their first 5 children, who had been born in the Enon Valley District. With family and such furniture as they could bring with them, they travelled to Pittsburg by wagon, and then down the Ohio and up the Mississippi by boat. One of the family keepsakes that they brought along was the old Young Spinning Wheel, which the Baltimore Youngs brought with them when they came to this country, and which is some 250 or 300 years old. This descended to Nancy thru her Mother, (Mary Young - Y.A-213), and in turn, was given to Nancy's daughter, Eleanor Hamill - McCalla, (H-125-6), and to her daughter, Helen Wayne McCalla, (H-125-61) - and is still (1943) in their Chicago home. A picture of this interesting old Spinning Wheel is shown in the Introduction to the Young Section.

STATE LEGISLATOR - FOUNDLING ORGANIC LAWS: The year 1846 was the year that Iowa became a State, and Smith was promptly chosen by the Keokuk citizens to represent that district in the new Legislature to be formed at Des Moines. There he aided in forming the State Constitution and the Organic Laws of the new State of Iowa.

Nancy told an interesting story of Smith's first trip to the Legislature in 1846. With Mr. - - - - - McCrary of Keokuk, who had also been elected to the Legislature, they set out on horseback. This Mr. McCrary was the Grandfather of Grace McCrary, (Mrs Lee A. Hamill - H-125-9). As they rode thru the forests and over the prairies, a severe blizzard came up, but toward night-fall they saw a light in a lonely farm log cabin ahead. They were bundled up, and covered with snow and icicles - and must have had an unusual appearance. Answering their knock, a forbidding looking female came to the door, (SEE OTHER SIDE) and they asked a night's shelter from the storm. The woman was evidently afraid of their forbidding appearance, and said that they had only one bedroom, but that the storm was very bad, and that they could have that bedroom, and the wife and her farmer husband would sleep in the kitchen.

Smith and his wife were upset by the rough appearance of the farmer and his wife, and prayed fervently for protection from these settlers and during their journey. They heard a noise in the kitchen, and above the howl of the wind, heard the farmer and his wife also praying fervently, quoting Psalms and Scripture, and asking God to save them from these terrible visitors. This was a facer - but the next morning's conversation showed that the settlers were also from Pennsylvania, and the four became good friends. It seems that the wife's face was disfigured, and also the wife told her husband that the white-haired man, (Smith Hamill), had such a terrible frown - probably due to the storm - and that he must be an evil-doer. This was re-told to the Compiler by his sister, Helen Wayne McCalla, (H-125-61), on 8/1/1947.

FOUNDER S. Hamill Co.: Smith, 6 years after coming to Keokuk, in 1852, Founded S. Hamill Co., Wholesale Grocers, at 4th & Johnston Sts., in Keokuk. There is a picture of the old original buildings, as they were in 1924, on the picture pages in the front of this Hamill Genealogy.

Smith Hamill served as President of the S. Hamill Co. from 1852, the year of its founding, until 1895, the year of his death. His eldest son, Major David Brown Hamill, (H-125-4), thereupon became President, and served until his death in 1916. Then the youngest son, Lee Alexander Hamill (H-125-9), was elected to the Presidency, and served until his death in 1922.

After the death of Lee, his nephew, Smith Hamill, 2nd, (H-125-43), the son of David, was elected to the Presidency, and served until the year --- when ill-health caused him to take a leave of absence, and to recuperate for several years in Los Angeles, spending some of his summers back in Keokuk. Harry Culkin was elected to the Presidency of the Company in ---, and served well during the absence and illness of Smith, 2nd. In 1946, Harry Culkin died, and the Presidency was again assumed by Smith Hamill, 2nd, whose health was by then greatly improved, and who in 1948, is President of the Company.

This Harry Culkin was brought up in the S. Hamill Co. He was the son of Lawrence Culkin, the former Comptroller of the Company, who had started with the Company, under Smith Hamill, as Bookkeeper. Lawrence Culkin was a tall, silver-haired, very kindly gentleman, from the North of Ireland, a devout Roman Catholic Christian, as was his son Harry. The loyalty of both of them to S. Hamill Co. was most marked throughout their lives. Unfortunately, Smith, 2nd, as well as the Culkins, have no sons to carry on.

HIGH STANDARDS OF BUSINESS: S. Hamill Company has always been noted for exceptionally high business standards, and for fair dealing. They handle an unusually high quality of foodstuffs. Their "Palm Brand", covering their extra fancy quality, is based on the Hamill Coat of Arms of "The Palm". Their "Olive Branch Brand" ~~was at first~~ denotes the fancy quality merchandise, and is based on ~~the Hamill~~ a Family Coat of Arms. In 1948, the S. Hamill Co., under the Presidency of Smith Hamill, 2nd, (H-125-43), is 96 years old - and still going strong - with the good will of its 3rd-generation customers.

In the years when Major David B. Hamill (H-125-4) was President, about ---, the Company installed its own Coffee roasting department, and began to sell their own Coffees - the best being labelled "Palm Brand." These were unusually aromatic and fine tasting Coffees, and they enjoy a very wide acceptance throughout their territory.

A point that the Compiler always remembers about S. Hamill Co. occurred after World War I - during what was known as the "Sugar Panic." This was during the Presidency of Lee A. Hamill, who was ill much of the time, with Smith Hamill, 2nd, in actual control. Sugar speculators had stored available (SEE NEXT PAGE).

supplies of sugar, and had forced prices to 28¢ a pound. The 3 other Wholesale Grocers in Keokuk, Iowa, had joined the mad dash for profits, and were speculating heavily in sugar, and had large amounts of it stored in their warehouses - all purchased at very high prices. But Smith Hamill, and stated flatly: "Sugar at 28¢ a pound is sheer insanity. We will have no part in such proceedings." In this view, Lee A. Hamill, from his sickbed, concurred heartily. So the Company totalled each day's orders for sugar, and bought only that amount from its competing wholesalers in Keokuk, paying the day's prices, refusing to stock a pound of it, and billing its customers for the exact cost of the sugar. When the panic finally occurred, with sugar at 28¢ a pound, the 3 wholesale competitors in Keokuk, went into bankruptcy. S. Hamill Co., having no high priced sugar in stock, escaped without any loss whatever. This has always seemed to the Compiler, to illustrate the common sense - and common fairness and honesty - back of S. Hamill Co.'s fine, long record.

FOUNDED IOWA STATE INS. CO: Smith Hamill, with several Keokuk associates, Founded in - - -, the Iowa State (Fire) Insurance Co - which is also still going strong in Keokuk, Iowa. Smith was its first President, and later was an Officer and Director in this Company until his death. Smith also helped finance and build a small railroad running to the coal mines Northwest of Keokuk. These mines were located at La Hamill, Iowa - which was named for him - and this was one of the earliest railroads in Iowa. Others with him wished to name it the Hamill Railroad, but Smith refused - so they named the first locomotive the "Smith Hamill."

Smith, in 1852, also aided in financing and building the Keokuk and Des Moines Valley Plank Road. This road ran past a farm which he owned, and the farm tenant was able to send in plentiful supplies of fresh milk, butter, eggs, etc, for the use of Smith's family.

THE OLD HAMILL HOME: The hospitable old home of Smith and Nancy stood at 610 Morgan St; in Keokuk. Diagonally across the street, and at the corner, was the home of his son, Maj. David S. Hamill, (H-125-4). The old home was of brick, with a wide porch across the front - for warm weather gatherings - and the ground sloped away to the back yard, where stood the large brick barn. To the left, in the back yard, there stood an enormous Elm Tree - which the Indians held in loving reverence as their age-old Indian Council Tree. Once or twice a year the Indians of the Keokuk tribes, would ask permission to gather around the old tree, smoke their pipes, and hold a Council. This was a colorful and interesting ceremony, solemnly observed, in the days of Smith and Nancy. At the other end of the block, in the yard of the Jenkins family, stood a secondary and smaller Council Elm, also held in reverence by the Indians. These Indians were of the same tribe as was Chief Keokuk, for whom the City was named.

In these latter days of high prices and living in cramped apartments, The Compiler remembers with awe the storage and culinary arrangements of the old Hamill home. Several servants were always employed, and no matter how many unexpected guests arrived to sit around the large dining table, meals were bountiful and good.

In the basement were large storage rooms, filled with foodstuffs. One room held such items as savory slabs of bacon, whole hams, dried tongue and beef. Then another room was given over to barrels of potatoes, onions and such - as well as barrels of flour and sugar. Still another room had its shelves lined with jellies and jams in glass, and canned goods. So it was easy to prepare a large meal on short notice.

FAMILY HOSPITALITY: The Hamill home in Keokuk was of unusual and open hearted-hospitality. Not only important business men visited it, but Governors and leading Senators and Congressmen knew its hospitality. It was the visiting place of every Hamill who ever came to the West, also of so many other Kinfolk, such as the MacCandlesses-McClellans-Youngs-Elders-Stuarts-Scotts. They all knew Smith and Nancy Hamill - and their home was the information center for exchanging news of the family, as well as family history. Nancy especially, knew all the ins and outs of family history, as well as who was who - and what a pity that it was not all written down. What a help it would be to us of this day, in arranging this family Genealogy. Helen Wayne McCalla, (H-125-61), remembers that in her childhood, Nancy would read Sir Walter Scott's "Tales of a Grandfather," which concerned his "ain people," as well as ours - and Nancy would tell who they were, and how related to the numerous Young-Elder-Scott-Stuart Kinfolk.

So many of the Hamills of other Families, as well as other Youngs-MacCandlesses, etc, also visited there - for they were of our same Kin - but of a different migration to this land. Thus you will find many references in this book to the fact that certain families were known to Grandmother Nancy, and that she had vouched for them, and knew them to be ours. This is accepted fully by The Compiler - who thus proclaims them here to be of our same descent.

THE U. P. CHURCH: Smith and Nancy were lifetime members of the United Presbyterian Church, both of Bethel Church when they were back in Enon Valley, Penna, and of the Keokuk church later. The United Presbyterian Church of that day was exceedingly strict, and music was rigidly banned - especially organ music. They sang Psalms, and the Precentor had a small pitch-pipe to give the voices the proper pitch when they started to sing. Many of Nancy's children branched away into the Presbyterian Church, but Lee, (H-125-9), the youngest, remained with the U.P. He almost caused a split in the Church by presenting a small folding organ, which he learned to play. This, as he explained, was merely to give the needed "pitch" to the singing tone of the Congregation. Gradually the Congregation became used to the small organ, so that they no longer thought it unholy - and later a larger organ was purchased and used, under the same leadership of Lee Hamill.

THE HAMILLS and ANDREW CARNEGIE: It is said that Nancy MacCandless Hamill's people - the MacCandless Family - had aided Andrew Carnegie in his younger years, back in Pennsylvania. Later Andrew had a great desire to buy his Mother a new heavy silk Bombazine dress, and with some of his early earnings, he did so. Later, he brought his Mother for a visit to Keokuk, Iowa, and they stayed part of the time with Mrs Augusta Kilbourne, and part of the time with the Smith Hamills. He expressed gratitude to the MacCandless Family, and spoke proudly of the dress, which his Mother wore. She later told Mrs Kilbourne and Mrs Hamill that the dress was out of style, but that she would not think of depriving Andrew of his satisfaction at having been able to buy it for her. Mrs Carnegie, Mrs Kilbourne, and Mrs Smith Hamill - all very jolly - laughed heartily over this incident. Years later, as a wealthy ironmaster, Mr Andrew Carnegie built and owned the steel bridge across the Mississippi River at Keokuk, Iowa. It is possible that part of the impelling motive for this may have been his early day visit to Keokuk. Also, David McCandless, of another migration of the MacCandless Family to America, was a partner with Mr Carnegie in founding (1872) "Carnegie, McCandless & Co," which later became the Carnegie Steel Co. (See MacCandless Family "2" MacCandless Section). So Andrew Carnegie naturally had a warm feeling of regard towards the members of the MacCandless Family, of whom Nancy MacCandless Hamill was a well known descendant.

Smith and Nancy Hamill are gone, leaving a loving heritage of good works, kindness, love and hospitality. Theirs was a Christian home in which love and helpfulness dwelt, with jolly friendliness to all. Truly, they helped to leave the world a little better and friendlier and kinder.

(From: Chicago Tribune-7/11/1948): Mark Twain Room to be Moved from Keokuk to New York. Keokuk, Iowa, July 10, (1948)-AP- The room in which Mark Twain edited the first Keokuk city directory, and wrote a number of his early works is to be moved to New York. The Home Insurance Company of New York, owner of the Iowa State Insurance Company building here, in which the room is situated, announced the room would be moved to the Harold Smith Museum, New York. The printing case and type stick used by this famous writer and a number of other items will be taken to the museum.

(From: Chicago Tribune-7/17/1948): Hi-jacking Mark Twain. Chicago, 7/11, (1948)-It is painful to note in an Associated Press item today that the New Yorkers have seized another noted middle western historical relic-the room in which Mark Twain, (Samuel Langhorne Clemens) edited the first city directory at Keokuk, Iowa, set type, and wrote some of his most important early stories. The room is to be transported to the Eastern seaboard, under direction of its owner, the Home Insurance Company of New York, which has a sizeable branch in Chicago, and will be placed in the Harold Smith Museum. Who was Harold Smith and what connection has this institution with the Mississippi Valley, with Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" (Cal), and "The Innocents Abroad?" Let's keep some of these precious treasures here in the midlands, where they belong and where they are appreciated by people who know what they mean. Part of the responsibility rests with our business men and Civic Leaders when these Eastern grabs are made of our historical relics. Ray E. Garrison.

He was born in Lawrence Co, Penna, July 23, 1815, his father being John Hamill, a well-to-do Farmer of the Keystone State. It was probably written in 1896, and the Author (is unknown - but it was probably Mr Franklin, or his wife Sylvia. It presumably shows the descent of Rev. Apparently, the names heading each paragraph are the children of the original Esther Davidson and her husband, John Gibson - then the names immediately following are their own children. "Walter L. Badger. In Minneapolis real estate circles there is no firm with a better reputation for conservative and safe handling of the interests intrusted to its care, and for judicious promotion of building and development in the downtown district, than Walter L. Badger Co, whose offices are in the Oneida Building. The business of the company comprises real estate, loans, insurance, management of estates, and renting and supervision of property, especially in the central district of the Minnesota metropolis. The company handles a great amount of property for non-resident owners and for estates of the more important order. The principals in this company have made a specialty of the handling and development of real estate along Seventh and Hennepin Avenue, and Mr Badger has, with no little consistency, been termed the "Father" of modern Seventh Street, in the development of which to its present high standard has been the dominating influence. When he initiated his ambitious and well defined activities in bringing this thoroughfare up to metropolitan standards, its physical condition was represented principally by more or less inferior buildings, utilized principally as boarding houses. He had the prescience and discrimination to realize the possibilities in improving the street, and his convictions have ever been attended by the courage of definite action. When he set himself the work of virtually redeeming Seventh Street from obscurity, lots therein were valued at about $235. a front foot, and the results of his well-ordered enterprise are best shown in the enhanced values of the property at the present time, the average frontage now being appraised at fully $3,500. a foot. While others have in a measure contributed to this wonderful development, Mr Badger is the one to whom the maximum of credit is due, and he merits great praise for the progressive ideas and splendid business acumen which enabled him to achieve such admirable results and add much to the material and civic prosperity of the city. Mr Badger erected the Badger Building at 37-39 So. Seventh St, the structure being of the best modern type and 5 stories in height. The building adjoins the Hotel Radisson, and its upper floors are now utilized as an annex to the popular hostelry. Within recent years many of the largest transactions in the handling of property in the commercial district of Minneapolis, have been effected through the medium of the Walter L. Badger Co. The firm has large Eastern clientele, and in investment and banking circles, the judgement of this company has come to be regarded as the ultimate authority in designing safe and conservative investments in real estate.

About 30 years ago, Walter L. Badger, who is President of the company that bears his name, was an office boy for a Minneapolis real estate firm. He has been identified with the one line of business ever since, and is now at the head of an especially large and prosperous business, his associates being Frederick T. Krafft, Treasurer, and Edson J. Kellogg, Secretary.

Walter Louis Badger was born at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, on the 27th of May, 1868, and soon after his birth his parents returned to Oshkosh, that State, from which city in 1873, they came to Minneapolis. Mr Badger is a son of George A. and Harriet E. Hastings (Badger), both natives of Massachusetts and representatives from old and honored New England stock. George A. Badger devoted his entire active career to mercantile pursuits and for nearly a decade he was one of the leading merchants of Oshkosh, Wis. After coming to Minneapolis, he engaged in the furniture business, with which he here continued to be actively identified until his retirement, about 10 years prior to his death. Both he and his wife died in Minneapolis in the year 1904. Of their 3 sons the oldest is Charles H. of Indianapolis, Ind. Walter L. of this review, was the next in order of birth; and William A., who was successfully engaged in the insurance business in Minneapolis, died in the year 1909.

Walter L. Badger is indebted to the public schools of Oshkosh, Wis., for his preliminary educational discipline, and he was about 10 years of age at the time of the family removal to Minneapolis, where he continued his studies in the public schools. He acquired his initial experience in the real estate and insurance business by holding the dignified position of office boy for John Goldberg, and he had the mental alertness and good judgment to profit greatly from the experience gained with the passing years. In 1883, Mr Badger engaged in the real estate and insurance business in an independent way, and the energy and circumspection which he brought to bear resulted in the steady and substantial expansion of his private enterprise, with the final result of bringing about the organization and incorporation of the present Walter L. Badger Company.

The political allegiance of Mr Badger is given to the Republican party, and though he shows a loyal interest in public affairs and gives his influence in the support of good government, he has never sought or desired public office. He is especially well known for his zealous advocacy of those measures which conserve municipal reforms and improvement. His varied business, civic and social relations include his identification with the Minneapolis Club, the Minikahda Club, the Minneapolis Athletic Club, the Minneapolis Real Estate Board, the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association, the Minneapolis Auto Club, the Interlachen Country Club. He is affiliated with Minneapolis Lodge #19, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, and both he and his wife are active members of Plymouth Congregational Church.

On the 30th of October, 1890, was solemnized the marriage of Mr Badger to Miss Anna Dawson, of Leokuk, Iowa. Of 3 children, only one is living, Lester R. (Badger), who was born in Minneapolis and who acquired his early education in the public schools, after which he pursued higher studies at Williams College, Williamsburg, New York. He is now associated with his father in business. The two deceased children were Norman D. and Margarette.

ALICE MAY SEXTON, (2nd child of Rosanna Davidson Hamill).

H-125-12.

Born: 6/22/1874, at Troy, New York.

Died: 9/19/1957, (4.05 AM), Jones Harrison Home, Minneapolis(16), Minnesota.
(Buried: Lakewood Cemetery, Minneapolis).

(Not Married - There are No Descendents of this Line).

Alice May Sexton was educated at the Seward, Nebraska, High School, and later at Western College, Oxford, Ohio, in the Class of 1895. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church in Lincoln, Nebraska, and was active in Church and Charitable work.

Alice lived in the family home at 245 South 26th St, Lincoln, Nebraska, where both her Father and Mother lived and died. They moved there in March 1903, and Miss Sexton sold this house in 1923. She then moved to 500 South 27th St, where she was living in August 1924. Later she lived in a Duplex Apartment at 2441 Bradfield Drive, in Lincoln, Neb. After the death of Mr Walter L. Badger, (H-125-11), in 1939, she moved to Minneapolis, Minn, to be with her Sister, Anna Belle Badger, at 1900 Girard Ave, South, which home shortly thereafter was sold. The two Sisters thereupon lived in 3 separate Duplex Apartments, until they moved to the Oak Grove Hotel, (No St), in Minneapolis, Minn - where they lived until Anna Belle Badger died in 1949. Miss Sexton continued to live there until in 1951 she moved to the Jones-Harrison Home, (of which her Sister, Anna Belle Dawson Badger, had been on the Board of Directors), at 3700 Cedar Lake Avenue, Minneapolis(16), Minnesota.

Alice May Sexton lived, (1/27/1953-4/3/1956-also in 1957, and at the time of her death), in the Jones-Harrison Home, 3700 Cedar Lake Avenue, Minneapolis, (16), Minnesota.

LETTERS FROM MISS ALICE MAY SEXTON:

(Letter - 1/27/1953 - from James-Harrison Home, 3700 Cedar Lake Avenue,)
(Minneapolis, Minnesota): "Minneapolis, Minn, 1/27/1953. Dear Paul: You should have had an answer before this. My only excuse is that along with most of the residents here, I have had 2 bad colds, that left me somewhat the worse for wear. I am all right now. When I got started to look up the answers to your questions, I spent so much time reading old letters and clippings, that last night my head was filled with "Hamills-Davidsons-Gibsons, etc" - so the effort to keep them straight kept me awake. Of course I realize that you are compiling the Hamill Genealogy, and do not know just how much of the "Collateral" you are using. Most of my knowledge is of that type. When I was in school in Ohio, my Father wanted me to take my last Christmas vacation among his people, (the Sextons), up near Youngstown, Ohio.

At that time there were two of my Great-Aunts living (Winter of 1894-95). These Great-Aunts were Cousins of our Great-Grandmother, Rosanna Davidson, (Davidson A-11), who married John Hamill, (H-12), who were Smith Hamill's (H-125) parents. My Great-Aunt, Esther (Davidson) (Davidson A-7), remembered her Uncle William, (Davidson A-1), and his daughter Rosanna, (Davidson A-11), who married John Hamill, (H-12). She also said that she and her sister Ellen went over to Beaver, Penna (?), one day, and saw seventy cousins, all Davidsons.

Davidsons: Esther Davidson, (Davidson A-7), daughter of James Davidson (???) and sister of William, was married to John Gibson in 1801, by a Rev. - - - Wick. These Gibsons seemed to live and die around Youngstown, Ohio. This Gibson history came from the book - "History of Trumbull & Mahoning Counties". My Cousin copied it out for me in 1893. Then I found the book over in the Minnesota Historical Library, and read it in print, after I came up here.

My sister and I spent a good deal of time looking up various ancestors. She did a very good job on the Badgers and Hastings, Pomeroy's, Lovejoys and others of Walter's, (H-125-11) ancestors, all New England people. I suppose whatever you have from Sylvia Crawford Franklin, (H-124-12) is authentic.

Now as to my Father, (Rev. Thomas L. Sexton, DD). He was not, or never was in, the U.P. (United Presbyterian) Church. He and all his family were Presbyterians. He went to school in Poland, Ohio, where he was born, left school to go to War. Afterward he went back to Academy. Then graduated at Washington & Jefferson College, in - - - - - . Then attended McCormick Seminary in Chicago two years. Then a year in New York, where he graduated from Union Theological Seminary. He had Pastorates in Troy, New York; New London, Iowa; Kossuth, Iowa; Seward, Nebraska. He was the Synodical Superintendent of Home Missions in Nebraska for twenty-two (22) years. He organized many Churches in Western Nebraska.

You asked where Annie (Badger - her sister H-123-11) and I lived after Walter's death. We were in three different Duplex apartments, and then went to an apartment hotel, Oak Grove, where she died. I remained there until I could come out here. Jones-Harrison is not a Nursing home. We have an infirmary where sick people are taken. There are some over there now who will never be back over here in their former rooms. For example, the day before Thanksgiving, I had not quite recovered from my first cold, and I fainted, falling on my foot, spraining it. They took me over in a wheel chair, to a nice room, where I stayed until the next Monday when I could walk again. The same food is brought to us over there, and there are 5 Nurses there all the time, the Head Nurse, and 2 on daytime duty and 2 on duty at night. My sister, (Annie H-123-11), used to be on the Board, and she always wished that a new infirmary could be built. It seems there is a fund, but present prices are too high to build just now. The present building is full so much of the time, as when we get older, things happen. I had a bad fall just after Annie died, and injured my back, and I had to lie flat on my back for six weeks. There has been no permanent injury, but you know what such things cost, when one is at a Hospital, and then with a Practical Nurse for 8 weeks at the hotel - so I am very contented here. Really, it is wonderful for women left alone. - I have met and made friends with women here, who are some of the nicest and finest I have ever known. Probably all this is boring you. I cannot tell you how many interruptions I have had. It is just like one big family - with each woman having her own room. Mine is small, but with two windows, South and West. I hope that your questions have been answered. I tried to fill in where I could. With love to you and Helen, Cordially, Alice M. Sexton."

PS - "Annie Badger's, (H-125-11) children, all born in Minneapolis, Minn:
 Lester Badger, (H-125-111), Born May 1st, 1892.
 Norman Badger, (H-125-112), Born July 26, 1894, Died November 22, 1902.

LETTERS FROM MISS ALICE MAY SEXTON:

- (Letter of 2/21/1953): Dear Paul: I have tried to correct the places as you desired. I could not remember the year of Helen's, (II-125-111) birth, so had to wait until I saw her, or she called up. You see, they are out on the Upper Lake, 23 miles from here, (more from downtown), so I do not call them, as it is "long Distance." She can call me without Toll charge. I expected her in town, but this snow storm prevented it, and she called yesterday. About Lester's, (II-125-111) business, there is nothing to write. They have interests in two small towns in this area, keeping Lester busy, and bringing a good income, but probably not permanent, speaking from a standpoint of years. Lester is happy and is his own manager.

I was glad to get the papers you sent. I never had the Laurie's, (II-125-33) Florida address. Thank you for what came today, ("Achievements" pages, etc), but I have not had time to read them yet. Barbara, (II-125-111-1) has been a Regional Director in the Junior League. That has taken her from one end of the country to another. Her territory is the States near here, (not Nebraska). She has had to go to New York for a week or 10 days, several times a year - I suppose for conferences about the projects, so called.

We have been kept in for a day or two, as the snow is drifted on our driveway. The entrance from the street gets so slippery. People had to walk out to the Taxis today. We have a circular drive in and out, as we are set back from the street. We do not get any noise from traffic, and the front yard is well kept. Thank you again, Sincerely, Alice M. Sexton.

OBITUARY OF JUDGE JOHN BRUCE.

(From Keokuk, Iowa, "Constitution-American"-20/1/1914):

The members of the Keokuk Bar held a meeting in the Superior Court room at 10 o'clock this morning to take appropriate action on the death of Judge John Bruce. The following attorneys were present: R. E. Marshall, A. L. Wilson, Judge F. T. Hughes, J. F. Smith, Richard H. D. Wood, J. I. Hornish, D. Harrington, Theodore A. Craig, Jas. H. Anderson, Major W. B. Collins, W. J. Roberts, H. Scott Howell, George H. Armitage, James C. Davis, and Haren I. Sawyer. The meeting was called to order by Major W. B. Collins and on his motion, H. Scott Howell was chosen Chairman. Richard H. D. Wood was made Secretary.

Remarks of Mr Howell. On taking the Chair Mr Howell said: "Brothers, we are assembled again on one of those sad and memorable occasions when death has removed one who was formerly one of our number, and to take fitting action respecting thereto." He said he knew Judge Bruce from the time he came to Keokuk to study law, until he left Keokuk to enter upon his duties as United States District Judge of the fifth District of Alabama, and he bore testimony of Judge Bruce's character as a faithful and diligent student, as an upright and honorable practitioner at the bar, and as a competent, industrious and able Register in Bankruptcy in Iowa, until he was called to fill the office of United States District Judge in the South. All of these positions has Judge Bruce filled with ability, faithfulness and honor. But a better thing can be said of him than those; good as they are, that he was a true gentleman, and a faithful Christian.

It was remarkable, said the speaker, that in nearly all of the eulogiums pronounced upon our late lamented president, after they had said words of unstinted praise of Mr McKinley - praising for his good qualities as a citizen, a legislator, governor and soldier, and his great ability and success as the chief executive of the nation, they seem to name as the acme of their tribute to his character, that he was a true, faithful and consistent Christian. In these days of rampant anarchy no greater praise could be bestowed on any man, be he President, Judge, lawyer, or private citizen, than to truthfully say of him that he was a Christian. This is the crowning virtue of every life, this is the passport to the "life eternal."

D. F. Miller moved that a committee of three be appointed of the members of the bar who had practiced law in Keokuk when Judge Bruce was a member of the local bar. He said they would be more appropriately placed on the committee as their personal acquaintance and association with him would fit them to draw the resolutions, and named James H. Anderson, H. Scott Howell and Major W. B. Collins as the committee. Referring to Judge Bruce as a soldier he said that he had talked with many of the members of his command, and they had all spoken in high terms of him. His attitude toward all his soldiers was kindly and generous and was more like that of a father toward his children. James H. Anderson arose before the motion was passed upon and stated that he had anticipated the action of the committee, and had prepared a set of resolutions, which he read and offered for adoption.

The Resolutions. The following were the resolutions and on motion, they were adopted: "Whereas the bar of the city of Keokuk, Iowa, has heard with sincere sorrow and regret of the death of Hon. Judge John Bruce of Alabama, who was formerly a member of the bar of this city; and desiring to record our appreciation of our departed brother, state, that in all of his business and practice among us as a lawyer, we found the deceased to be affable, courteous, honest and capable. He left the State to serve in the War of 1861-65, returned to Keokuk, and for several years was the Register in (See Other Side). (20/1/1914).

bankruptcy, which office he filled with ability and faithfulness. After this, he was appointed United States District Judge for the District of Alabama, in the Ninth Circuit, which office he held to the time of his death, and the great work of his life is the record he made in the decisions rendered in that District. Judge Bruce was known amongst us, as he was in Alabama, as a good man, a gentleman, a Christian and as a jurist.

That his action be recorded on the records of the Court meeting in this city, and that an certified copy thereof be presented to Mr. Bruce, his widow, and to the Clerk of the United States District Court of Alabama, and request they be entered in the records of said Court.

R.L. Marshall said he remembered Judge Bruce, although he was but a young man when the Judge was in Keokuk. "He was a man of large heart and was kindly and courteous in his treatment of young men. He remembered him as having been his friend. Older people have a great influence on youth, if they talk with and advise with them, and Judge Bruce appreciated this fact, and was ever ready with good counsel to the young. James H. Anderson said that the fact that there are now but three members of the Keokuk Bar who had practiced at the bar with Judge Bruce, made the remaining ones feel like they are getting old. Judge Bruce was honest in all his relations of life, and whatever work he had to do was done effectually and thoroughly. When he was Register in bankruptcy, and finished any work, Judge Bruce always showed his confidence by approving his decisions on all matters requiring his decisions of law, which is eminent testimony to Judge Bruce's ability.

Major Collins said he endorsed all that had been said by Mr Howell and Mr Anderson. "He had known Judge Bruce in a social way. He was kind and affable and honest. His records of bankruptcy were perfect and in complete form and Judge Bruce, to whom he turned over his official records on being appointed United States Judge, followed the forms which he laid out. His death was not unexpected. When he was here three years ago his health was broken. It is the regret of us that we must lose our friends by death, but it is no doubt for the best, when it comes in the declining years of life.

Judge F.T. Hughes said he had never known Judge Bruce except by reputation. He had attended a number of meetings of members of the Bar called on such occasions since his residence. It is pleasant to remember what good things each one of the departed members of the Bar had said of them at these meetings. They have been called to express respect for members of this Bar, whose reputations for great attainments have been widespread, and will endure long years to come. They have been called for humbler members of the Bar as well as for Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the District, Circuit and Superior Courts, and all have been spoken of in honest laudatory terms. No better things can be said of any one than, as can be said of Judge Bruce, that he was a brave soldier, a patriot of his country, and a Christian.

John S. Craig said as one of the younger members of the Bar, from the time he came here in 1878, he had heard the members of the Bar speak of Judge Bruce. These expressions were of universal esteem and high regard. No better knowledge of a man's character can be acquired than from the impressions of his acquaintances. It is a pleasure to know that he was a member of this Bar and that he was appointed from it to a high position in the affairs of the country.

Three old soldiers, members of Colonel Bruce's command, were present. They were called upon to speak, and responded by endorsing Mr Miller's statement that he was a loveable man and kind and considerate of the men under him. One of the old soldiers who spoke said that it was one of Judge Bruce's last wishes that "taps" would be sounded at his grave and the Bar was asked to assist in seeing that this was done. On motion of D.F. Miller, a committee consisting of Theodore A. Miller, George H. Miller, and George H. Miller was appointed to secure some one to carry out this wish. The following were appointed by the Chair to have the resolutions spread on the records of the different Courts: Judge F.T. Hughes, Federal Court; D.F. Miller, District Court, and Major Collins, Superior Court."

The John Deere Plow business was founded in 1837 by John Deere, who invented and gave to the world in that year the first steel plow - in the little village of Grand Detour, Ill. (near Dixon, Ill.). The white colonial house in which he lived still stands. He started making steel mouldboard plows in Grand Detour, Ill., under the firm name of Andrews & Deere, with Mr Andrews furnishing the capital. In 1847 this partnership was dissolved, Mr Deere moving to Moline, where under the firm name of Deere, Tate and Gould, he continued making plows - his factory being known as the Moline Plow Works. In 1863 this business was taken over and incorporated as Deere & Co, and the present Company is an outgrowth of a reorganization in 1911.

"RALPH BIGELOW LOURIE - AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH:

"I was born in Keokuk, Iowa, July 23, 1876. My parents were Herbert M. and Elizabeth Steele Lourie. My father was of Scotch-English parentage and my mother was of Scotch-Irish descent, so I plead guilty of having quite a little of the Scot in me, of which I am rather proud. My earliest recollections of work go back to the bucksaw and ax. I doubt if Abe Lincoln split more rails than I did cordwood. Another of my boyhood jobs was the care of my father's horses and I can still vividly feel the heat of the old hayloft, where I had to mow away the timothy. I was educated in the Keokuk public schools. The only distinction I gained in the grade schools, except that of being a poor speller and a worse singer, was the captaincy of the First Ward Guards, a military company of school boys who were drilled by the negro janitor, an ex-Union soldier. I was so imbued at that time with the idea of being a military hero that I insisted on having "old army blue" as the color of my first suit with long trousers.

I was graduated from the Keokuk High School in 1894 with honorable mention and was president of the class. After graduation I aspired to the law and for several years studied law under the tutelage of Attorney Hollingsworth, reading Walker's American Law, Cooley on Torts, Bishop on Contracts and Norton on Bills and Notes, but being without sufficient funds for a college education I began work for the Lourie Implement Company, a branch house of Deere & Company and the Deere & Mansur Company; of which my father was manager. This company did a wholesale and retail business, selling Deere goods in a limited territory adjacent to Keokuk. I was shifted from one job to another as occasion required. If the janitor was not there, I swept the office and sample room. I was at times day laborer, shipping clerk, biller, bookkeeper, buyer, expert, salesman or general utility man. The experience thus gained, while at times seemingly irksome, proved valuable and I well remember the pride I had in the first full carload order I booked, which I sold to E.J. Lufe of Sever, Iowa.

I occasionally made sales trips and on one of such trips I received an offer of the position of office sales correspondent and house salesman for the Parlin & Orendorff Company, St. Louis, Missouri. I felt that my opportunities would be broadened by the experience this position afforded and accepted. I was with this firm from the summer of 1897 to the late spring of 1898. Mr J.E. Poole, the travelling auditor for Deere & Company, finding that I had left the service of the Deere Branch House at Keokuk, made overtures for my return and upon the promise of the Deere interests that this house should be given a larger territory, I returned to the Lourie Implement Company in the summer of 1898. In the fall of 1899, upon the recommendation of Mr Poole, I was offered a position in Moline with the Deere & Mansur Company as Assistant to Mr John M. Good, then Vice-President and General Manager. I began work with the Deere & Mansur Company on December 1st of that year, my first duty being to look after the sales of power corn shellers, corn huskers and shredders. Mr Good offered me ample opportunity for initiative and sales promotion work. In 1901 I was made Director, Treasurer and Sales Manager of the Deere & Mansur Company.

I was one of the group of the younger Deere men who bought control of the Marseilles Company and reorganized that firm. I was also Director and Treasurer of that corporation and assisted in bringing the factory to East Moline. As Sales Manager for the Deere & Mansur Company, I pioneered the "sale of Deere goods in the East, opening up the trade on Deere goods in Michigan, New York, New England and what is now the Baltimore territory. At that time it was thought that Deere goods could not be successfully marketed in the so-called chilled-plow Eastern territory. The New Deere Hay Loader and the No 9 Deere Edge-Drop Corn Planter are the two machines that are to be credited with the opening up of this entire Eastern market to John Deere products.

Upon the consolidation of the Deere interests in 1910, I was named as one of the original directors and in 1911 was made Secretary, Treasurer and General Manager of the John Deere Plow Company of Moline, continuing as General Manager of the Moline branch house.

My public activities have been rather varied and sometime have seemed rather arduous. I presume it might be said that I first broke into the limelight of publicity as Chairman of the Campaign Committee which raised over $125,000.00 for the erection of the Moline YMCA building. For about ten years I served as President of that organization and continued as a member of its Board of Directors for several years, and am still Chairman of the Moline YMCA Board of Trustees. I was the first President of the Greater Moline Committee. During my term we raised the money for the Lutheran Hospital site, which located that institution in Moline. Secured subscriptions for over $500,000.00 worth of additional stock in the Moline Building & Loan Association. Put on a campaign which secured the Colma bridge. Got the vote out to motorize the Moline Fire Department. Started the agitation which later resulted in the improvement of Browning Field. I was the fifth President of the Moline After Dinner Club.

I was a charter member of the Moline Chapter of American Red Cross - was one of the original Directors and during the war and until the fall of 1922 served as Vice President of the Chapter, and continued to serve as a Director until 1945. I was one of the organizers of the Moline Community Service Council and served as a Director and member of the Executive Committee. I was a Director of the Moline Welfare Association, which so successfully handled the relief work during the depression of the winter of 1921-1922. During the First World War I was Chairman of the Financial Committee of the Rock Island County branch of the State Council of Defense and in that capacity had an active part in putting on campaigns for Liberty Bonds and other financial drives for the Red Cross, YMCA and other war relief causes. In recognition of my services during the Liberty Loan Campaigns, Mrs Lourie was selected sponsor of the Steamer "Flow City," which was named in honor of Moline because of its splendid record in the 4th Liberty Bond campaign. I was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Moline War Chest and had charge of the campaign which raised the money for this chest.

I am a member of the First Congregational Church of Moline and was for a period Finance Director of the churches in the Rock River Association. For several years served as a Trustee and Superintendent of the Senior Department of the Sunday School. I am a member of the Moline Association of Commerce, the Rock Island Arsenal Golf Club, and the Moline Rotary Club. I am a Republican in politics, serving one term as Precinct Committeeman on the City Central Committee. I was an original Trustee of the Moline Community Chest and served as Chairman of one of its annual subscription campaigns.

In September, 1934, I was made Assistant General Sales Manager of Deere & Co, continuing as Vice-President and General Manager of the John Deere Plow Company of Moline. During my service with Deere & Company, made many speeches at Implement Dealer's Conventions throughout the country. Resigned as Vice President and General Manager of the John Deere Plow "Company" of Moline and as Director and Assistant Sales Manager of Deere & Company as of June 1, 1944, retiring with a pension from Deere & Company. Was succeeded by my son, Bruce.

In July, 1946, resigned as Co-Chairman of the Rock Island County Agriculture and Industry All Business Committee, after serving in that capacity since its formation in 1943. In the spring of 1944, purchased a bungalow facing the bay on Clearwater Beach, Florida, since which time my wife and I have spent our winters there, returning to our Moline home for the late spring, summer and early fall.

LETTERS from RALPH BIGELOW LOURIE, SR:

(Letter-10/3/1947-To The Compiler): "Dear Paul: I will have to wait until some time next week to secure some of the information you wish for the Hamill Genealogy, as all of our children are away at present. Bruce and his wife have been in Calif, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia on a combination business and pleasure trip. Their son, Ralph, (11-125-531-2), being a star boarder with us during their absence. They are due home next Tuesday. Betty and her family are spending the week end with her Northwestern Univ. room-mate, Mrs Edw. Sachs, Prairie Grove, Ill. They should be back Sunday afternoon. Sigelow is at Pntiat, Wash, working for the McArthur Fruit Co, to gain additional information and experience in Apple Culture. Since Feb'y. of this year, he has been touring the Apple sections of the country, calling on Agricult. Colleges and Experimental Stations, and has worked in Orchards near Winchester, Va, & Sodas, N.Y. He plans to buy and operate an Apple Orchard when he makes up his mind where he wishes to locate. Margaret and I are very sorry to learn that Helen, (11-125-61) has to go about on crutches. Certainly hope that her ankle will strengthen up.....I am enclosing a copy of the Lourie Family Record - which I Compiled. This is not as complete as it should be, but I wish you would keep it as it contains a lot of data which you have requested. I will write you again next week when I get some data from Bruce and Betty which is not contained in the Family Record. Margaret joins me in sending our love and best wishes to you and Helen.....

(Letter of 10/22/1947): "Dear Paul: I have done my best to give you correct data for the blank spaces of the Revised sheets you sent me, and am enclosing the carbon copy as requested. I am pleased with your comments about my father (11-125-7). He loved young people and went out of his way to do nice things for them. Deere & Co's Adv. Director, H.M. Railsback, is to be credited with the Advertisement you refer to, which was so signally recognized by the Reader's Digest. Now answering some of your questions: John Deere had no middle name. He originated the John Deere business (but not the John Deere Plow Co). He started making the steel mouldboard plows in Grand Detour, Ill, under the firm name of Andrews & Deere. Mr Andrews furnished the capital. In 1847 this partnership was dissolved, Mr Deere moving to Moline, where under the firm name of Deere, Tate & Gould, he continued making plows, his factory being known as the Moline Plow Works. In 1868 this business was taken over and incorporated as Deere & Co. The present Company is the outgrowth of a reorganization in 1911. I am sending you a copy of Deere & Co's 1946 Annual Report, on pages 18 and 19 of which you will find listed the Deere factories and Sales Companies.

Myth's full maiden name was Alice Ruth Spenslow. Anne's full baptismal name was Alice Anne Dumas. After Myth's marriage to Bruce, Anne was adopted and took the name Anne Lourie. Elizabeth Lourie had no middle name. Elizabeth, or "Betty" as we call her, had no children die in infancy. We are busy making preparations for our departure next Monday (10/

"R.B. Lourie, 2723 Eighth Ave., Moline, Illinois. 3/30/1948. Dear Paul: Thanks for your (newspaper) clipping showing the picture of Ann Lourie, (daughter of Ralph's Cousin, Donald Bradford Lourie - not related to Hamill). I hadn't seen it. She seems to be quite an attractive looking young lady. Yes, Moline had a fine Centennial Celebration. The program depicting historical events just prior to and following the Founding of the city, was interesting and well done, so also were the several parades.

We have little Frankie Weir, (11-125-352-3) with us this week, but all other members of the family are away. Betty, (11-125-332) and Fran Weir have been at Sawbill Lodge, near Tafto, Minn., doing some fishing. Their daughters, Margaret (11-125-332-1) and Nancy (11-125-332-2) are at Ocean City, Md., for a couple of months with their other Grandparents. Bigelow, (11-125-333) is scouting around Northern Illinois and Iowa, endeavoring to locate a suitable apple orchard. Bruce (11-125-331), Ruth and Ralph (11-125-331-2) are touring the East, taking in such points as Washington, DC, Annapolis, Baltimore, Philadelphia, NY City, West Point, Boston, Maine, Quebec, Burlington, Vt, Syracuse, NY, Buffalo and Detroit, Mich.

Margaret and I are well and I hope this finds Helen and you the same. Sincerely yours, RALPH LOURIE. (11-125-33).

(Letter of 10/20/1948): Moline, Illinois. 10/20/1948. Dear Paul: We had seen the clippings you enclosed with your letter of the 15th, but thanks anyway. We had not however noticed the picture of Nancy Lourie, (She is his Cousin's daughter - on his Lourie side), which I received from you yesterday. She is a very pretty young lady. Glad to have the news about Louise Dycart, (11-125-41) and her family. We hadn't heard about Smith Hamill's (11-125-43) illness. When we were in Beckuk, (Iowa) this Spring, we saw him and his wife at the hotel, and they both looked extremely well.

We are leaving by Auto next Tuesday (10/26/48) for our Clearwater, Florida, Winter home. Our younger son, Bigelow, (11-125-333), is going with us and will spell me in the driving. He will return by train to continue his search for an Apple Orchard to his liking, and will continue his horticultural studies at the Iowa State University, at Ames, during the Winter term. Our daughter Betty, (11-125-332) and her husband, are leaving for San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 27th (1948) where he is to install a new accounting system for the John Deere Plow Co. They plan to be back shortly before Christmas. During their absence Fran's (11-125-332) Father and Mother will be here to look after the family. Bruce, (11-125-331) and his wife, are recently returned from French Lick Springs, Indiana, where he made an address at the annual convention of the National Farm Equipment Institute. With best wishes to Helen, (11-125-31), and yourself, Cordially yours, RALPH LOURIE. (11-125-33).

(Letter of 2/12/1950): Dear Paul: Thanks for yours of the 7th, with clippings of Donald Lourie's wedding. (His Cousin's son - on Lourie side - not related to Hamill). Sorry to hear of Helen's, (11-125-31) illness. "Shingles", I understand, are very painful. I hope that she is fully recovered. We here are all pretty well. Ralph (11-125-331-2) is ending his vacation and returns to St. John's Military Academy this Thursday. Betty's (11-125-332) girls, who attended a Summer camp near Cass Lake, Minn., and had a fine time, are now back in school. My sister Grace (Lourie) of Santa Monica, Calif., has just been here for an eight day visit. She looked well and still seems to have plenty of "pep". My brother Herbert (Lourie), with his wife and daughter, gave us a one day visit recently on their way home from a long motor trip in the West. Margaret (his wife) and I had a most delightful trip this Summer to Jasper Park, Alaska and the Yukon. Our neighbors, Mrs C.N. Vandervort and Arthur Pealy, went with us. Martha, (his wife's sister - 11-125-34) is now back in Clearwater (Fla.), after spending 3 or 7 weeks this Summer in Montreal, QC, and Montgomery (Ala). Brother Lloyd (Lourie) is in Punta Gorda, Fla., but is planning a trip to Calif. to (11-125-331-2). (9/14/1950) see Grace (Lourie's sister). Bruce, (H-125-331) is making a fine record as Vice-President in Charge of Sales and Advertising for Deere & Co. Edgemoor, (H-125-333), the younger son, seems to be doing well with his new Apple Orchard near Gage's Mills, Wisconsin. Our best regards to you and Helen, (H-125-61). Cordially yours, RALPH. (Lourie-H-125-33). Maline-9/12/1950.

(Letter of 3/27/1952 - from Mrs Ralph E. Lourie, (Margaret Isabel Bruce) - See) (also letters from Margaret's sister, Miss Martha Anna Bruce, on Data Page) (H-125-34): "My Dear Helen and Paul: 3/27/1952. (Enclosed picture of Peace) Memorial Presbyterian Church Tower, Clearwater, Florida). At long last I take my pen in hand to write you. I do thank you, Paul, for all your letters and clippings you have sent us in recent years. Your Christmas greetings also. I did long to hear about Louise (Hamill-Mrs Paul L. Dysart, Sr-H-125-41) and your writing helped so much. We seem just to miss Smith (Hamill, II-H-125-43) when we were in Keokuk (Iowa) the 30th. I do wonder why Edith (Dysart Berdonneau-H-125-414) did not come to her Mother. Ralph, (her husband) is seemingly a well man but his legs are bad; can't golf or lawn bowl, so now he goes daily 21 miles to St Pete, (St Petersburg, Fla) to a Doctor. We do have a good Negro chauffeur and that is a joy. Martha (Bruce-her sister-H-125-34) is not any too well, but does most of our housekeeping here. She was mortally ill in Montgomery (Alabama) September and October (1951), but flew here to open this house. She goes to Montreal, N.C. in August (1952) and stops at Montgomery coming here. Our younger son, (Ralph, Jr-H-125-333) was here for Christmas. Ruth (H-125-331) and Anne here in January; Betty (H-125-332) for a visit in February and early March, and both visits helped us greatly, so friends said. Bruce (H-125-331), Ruth (his wife), and Ralph (his son-H-125-331-2) are in the East, looking over Prep Schools for Ralph. Do pray for Peace, please! This is our beloved Church down here (referring to picture of Church). Florida defrosted more winter guests than ever this year. Lloyd, (Lourie-Ralph's brother) was married for the 4th time. Love to you both, Margaret Lourie."

(Letter of 6/4/1952): "Dear Helen-Paul: 6/4/1952. I am amazed when I see the post marks on your letter to us. Sister (Martha-H-125-34) forwarded it to me. We left Clearwater April 15th (1952). I'll send Sister's part to her soon I hope. (PS - I sent all but enclosures). This house is opened, decorated and cleaned when we come, yet I find so much to look after, loving every thing we do. Of course I miss Ralph's help and this Spring Mother Nature has shown off, and given me such an abundant welcome, and 3 Grandchildren have spent 4 days here, bringing the dog along. The parents went with Bruce and Ruth (H-125-331) to near St Louis, to bring Bruce's lovely boats home from Winter quarters. Davenport couldn't keep this larger boat."

Thanks for all you sent us. I hope I can answer your questions in the past - some I do not know. Lloyd's, (Ralph Lourie's brother) wife is so much like Flora (Carpenter Lourie-Lloyd's 1st wife, who died), and I pray they may find companionship deep and lasting. Lloyd looks like a different man, has more assurance. Grace (Ralph's sister) naturally is uneasy and she is a wonderful woman - Grace I mean - and has developed wonderfully, but is not any too well. We love her children, and one grandchild and her house. I know nothing about the Minneapolis Cousins, and was glad to hear about Alice Sexton (H-125-12). We haven't motored North or South for 4 years, and never went through South Carolina. When "Big" (H-125-333) was at Penna's Marton School of Business, we took Betty (H-125-332) and went East and met "Big" at Richmond (Va), and went to Charleston (SC), and Savannah (Ga) for his vacation. A marvellous trip....

Young Ralph (H-125-331-2) graduated from St John's (Military Academy), Delafield, Wis, this week end (6/6/1952) and Bruce and Ruth (H-125-331) took Margaret Bruce Heir (H-125-332-1) with them for it. We had taken Margaret there two years ago. Ralph (H-125-331-2) goes to Hatch School, near Boston (Mass) this Fall (1952). He had registered for the draft. Margaret (H-125-332-1) graduated from Junior High (School) this year (6/1952), and is a lovely, lovely young lady, not 16 yet. Her younger sister, Nancy Elizabeth Heir (14), (H-125-332-2), may give her a run for beauty later - she had dimples, but only Francis, III, (H-125-332-3) has dark eyes and is all boy, 10 years old. Now I have told you about my second-generation Jewels. Bruce (H-125-331) is the youngest Vice-President of Deere & Co - no, I guess that's Director. (Compiler's Note: He is both V-P and Director). "Big" (H-125-333), the student, loves his two large (Apple) orchards in Gage's Mills, Wisconsin. Betty (H-125-332) is the finest young woman you ever heard of, but too lenient with her children. She is just like a girl with her girls, all in pants when not dressed up - and how I dislike pants. I hope Helen, (H-126-01) The Compiler's sister) is all well now. I filled out and wrote in on the leaflet I am to keep, so you will have to wait until Martha fills out the 2 pages and returns to you. Thanks for all, and love to you both. Margaret Laurie."

(at 2723 Eighth Avenue, Moline, Illinois.)

"5/11/1954 - My Dear Paul - I am sorry to write this for obvious reasons, but Margaret wants you to know that Ralph Lourie, (H-125-33), her husband, died April 7th, (1954), in Clearwater, (Fla), and I returned to Moline with the family, to remain a month.

- His passing was without pain and he was conscious until the last. Tributes of love and respect have come from far and near, and we are proud of his record as a Christian business man.

Higglow, (H-125-333), seems very happy, and the bride fits nicely into the Lourie family. We hope to run up there in Apple Blossom time, but time is uncertain. Love to both Helen and you, from Martha Bruce."

(Letter of 3/27/1952):—See also Letters from her Sister, Margaret Bruce, (Mrs) (Ralph E. Laurie), on Data Pages H-125-33): "335 Bay Esplanade, Clearwater, Florida, 3/27/1952. My Dear Cousins: Margaret, (her sister-H-125-33) asks me to add a line, but her letter seems to tell about all, except that we still have such pleasant memories of your home, always open to us as we came and went thru Chicago. It never occurred to me that I would survive Will, (her brother-H-125-32), and I pictured a life with him, such as you two have, but since I had to move, I could not have found a more pleasant spot than here with Margaret and Ralph, (H-125-33), and Scripture is true: "He placeth the solitary in families." Lloyd's, (Ralph Laurie's brother) new wife is Caroline Brinkman, whom you probably remember in Keokuk, Iowa. She is a widow. He has loved and left three, but we hope and pray for the best now. She has a home where Grace lives."

"Our Cousins, Robert Wallace and Wife, with his Sister, have visited us. They are brother and sister of the Reader's Digest Editor; such cultured, lovely people." (Compiler's Note: DeWitt Wallace and Milla Acheson Wallace are) (the Editors of the Reader's Digest. Those Wallace relatives mentioned are) (relatives on the Bruce side of the family, and are not related to Hamills.) "I still teach Bible a little, but am almost retired. So many Moline, (Illinois), people come here, so we are kept occupied. The odor of pitti sporum, a shrub, and orange blossoms scent the air as I write; Blossoms and Oranges beautify the trees in our yard on the Bay side. Much love to you both, Martha Bruce."

(Letter of 6/15/1952) (With corrected pages): "335 Bay Esplanade, Clearwater, Florida. June 15, 1952. Dear Paul: I feel very restless to have kept the records so long, but a friend asked me to motor with her to Key West, and though it was hot, it was a delightful trip. I had flown over that section when Sigelow (Laurie-H-125-333) and I went to Cuba, but now I have seen it from the ground up. Sorry to hear that Helen (The Compiler's Sister-H-125-61) had a burn. Now it hurts! Hope by now it is much improved. Happy letters come from the Lauries, (H-125-33), who are so glad to be in their (Moline) Illinois home. Clearwater is a lovely place and I often say since I had to move, I'm glad my lot was cast here. A dear friend was with me three weeks. I can give visitors the Laurie quarters, and they are comfortable, as my room and bath are in the other wing of the house. As I write, I look out at the bay, which is often showing birds and boats, and sometimes fish from my neighbor's docks."

You will observe that I have not filled out records completely, but cannot do so, as I keep few papers, and memory is not accurate, I'm sorry to confess. I loved that part of your letter when you named the special (prayer) petitions that you make. So do I pray along those lines. I teach a Bible Class once a month, then fill in when I am urged, but feel that I accomplish little to make the world better. Dr Maxwell, the dear Keokuk, (Iowa) MD of yester years, has a Nephew living here. He and his wife are very nice and I see them occasionally. He succeeded Tom (McCalla-H-125-62) in S. Hamill Co, (Keokuk, Iowa), as shipping clerk, but never met him, yet was often told that he resembled Hamill Horne, (H-125-51). I think you are very ambitious to undertake such a task in Genealogy. We have the Bruce-Wallace Book, written by Dr James Wallace, Father of DeWitt Wallace, (Editor of Reader's Digest). He was President of Macalaster College, St Paul, Minnesota, and his Anabasis, edited by him and President Harper of the Univ. of Chicago, was for many years used as a text book. I am due at Church, so must close this "stuff," With love to both, Your Cousin, Martha Bruce. June 15, 1952."

"DAVID B. HAMILL, of the firm of S. Hamill Co, wholesale grocers of Keokuk, Iowa, is, with his partners, conducting a thriving and constantly increasing trade. This firm is one of the oldest in the Gate City, and by its straightforward methods of doing business, has secured the esteem and confidence of the business portion of the community. Our subject was born in Pittsburgh, Penna, (??), in March 1845, being the eldest son of Smith & Nancy (McCandless) Hamill, of Keokuk. Our subject came West to Keokuk with his parents when a child 3 years of age, and he received a good education in the common schools. He then entered Monmouth College in Illinois, and then took a position in his father's store, where he continued until 1864, when, the (Civil) war being in progress, he enlisted in Co. C, 45th Iowa Volunteer Infantry, and upon the mustering of the Company, was made its First Lieutenant, holding his commission until he was mustered out. He then returned to Keokuk, re-entered his father's store, and was soon taken in as a partner, since which time he has been actively engaged in assisting to conduct their extensive and lucrative trade.

Mr Hamill was married, in 1870, to Miss Louise M. Sullivan, of Evansville, Ind, a lady of fine education and excellent family. Of this union there have been born two children, Louise D, and Emily H. Mr Hamill and his wife belong to the First Westminster Presbyterian Church, of which he is a Deacon and Secretary. He took a partial course of lectures at the Keokuk Medical College, but concluded to engage in mercantile pursuits, and is considered one of the successful business men of Keokuk."

Baptismal gifts to others (given presumably only to afflict their friend's Larynxes) of the Clan included Benefryde, Fredgunda, Cuthberga, Ewyth and Ethelswytha.

Gaston immediately married a wealthy French Widow, and became Manager of this 2nd Wife's Jewelry manufacturing business in Paris. Edith returned to her Mother's home in Evanston, Ill, for Christmas 1947. She lived with her Mother at Apt 7-E, 617 Grove St(Park Manor Apts), in Evanston, Ill,(Chicago suburb-1 block South of Fountain Square).

On 4/16/1948 she was on a visit to various Hamill Cousins in St Louis, Mo, such as Dr Benj. Hines Charles, 3rd, MD, (H-125-521), of 2 Fielding Road, Clayton, Mo, (St Louis suburb). He had visited her in Rennes, France, while he was a Doctor in the US Army. She regained her American citizenship thru the especial efforts of her Cousin's husband, Judge George Herbert Moore, LL.M., (Marie Hosmer Horne)(H-125-53), of 4392 Maryland Ave, St Louis, Mo. He is a noted and widely respected Federal Judge of St Louis. On 4/16/1948 she had been writing articles for various magazines, especially one on "Brittany" for Town & Country Magazine. Edith, about Feby. 1, 1949, accompanied her Cousin, Mrs Charles Edward Dilkes, (Harriet Hamill)(H-125-92), to Menlo Park, Calif, (San Francisco suburb). There she lived for a time, with this Cousin Harriet, at 215 Chester St, Menlo Park, Cal. Gaston Berdonneau is the Son of Mr. _____ Berdonneau, of Paris, France, who was in the _____ business, and his Wife, Catherine _____ Herve (Berdonneau), of Paris, France, and Chicago, Ill., the latter an American citizen, and educated at a Sacred Heart Convent in London, England. Gaston is the Grandson of Mr. _____ Berdonneau, who was in the _____ business, who lived in (Town-State) _____, France, and his Wife (Maiden Name) _____ (Berdonneau).

Gaston's Mother, Mrs. _____ Berdonneau, (Catherine Herve), and his only sister, Miss Fernande Berdonneau, came to Chicago in 1918, during World War I, to join Gaston here in Chicago, and have resided here since, and have become American citizens. Mrs. Berdonneau, Sr., lived (4/16/1948), with her daughter Fernande, and her son-in-law, at 21 Brittany Road, Highland Park Illinois (Chicago suburb). Miss Fernande Berdonneau married Mr. Ames W. Ross, then of Evanston, Ill., who is a Cousin of Mr. Kner T. Ames, and of the late Stock Broker, Mr. James C. Ames, of Chicago. Ames Ross and his Wife, Fernande, have 1 child, a very brilliant daughter, Jeanne Ross, who was 16 years old in 1948. Mr. & Mrs. Ames Ross lived for a time with Mr. Ross's elderly Father in the old Ross home in Evanston, Ill., but in 1947 and on 4/16/1948, they were living at 21 Brittany Road, Highland Park, Ill., (Chicago suburb). This daughter, Janine Ross, graduated in June 1948 from the Ogontz School, in _____, and had her Debut 7/5/1948, with a dance given afterward in the Onwentsia Club of Lake Forest, Ill., by her Uncle and Aunt, Mr. & Mrs. Walter Ross, also of Lake Forest, and in the Fall of 1948 Janine started to study at the Art Institute in Chicago.

Gaston Berdonneau was educated at the _____ School, in Birmingham, in Paris, France, and in the _____ School, in Birmingham, England. In World War I he became a noted War Hero. He was a Lieutenant in the 408th Infantry Regt. of France. At the famous Siege of Verdun in World War I, he was cited with the following medals: Medal Militaire, Croix de Guerre, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. He was promoted to the rank of Captain, and was sent to the US with the French Military Mission, to train US Troops, and was stationed at Camp Grant, (Rockford, Ill.), and at Ft. Sheridan Illinois (Chicago suburb). He became acquainted with the Dysarts while they were living near 49th & Lake Park Ave, in Chicago, and married Edith in the Kenwood Evangelical Church nearby. After the war he became connected with Marshall Field & Co. (Wholesale), Chicago.

Later (____/____/1922) he returned to France with Edith and became Paris Manager for Temple Tours, of Boston, Mass.. At that time they resided at 37 rue de Depart, Paris, France, and they spent the Summers at Bellevue, near Paris. They also lived in Neuilly, a Paris suburb, and on 4/20/1933, they were living at Maison LaFitte, France (Paris suburb). In _____, he became Head of the Tourist Department of the Italian State Railways, and occupied this position for 8 years, until the outbreak of World War II, and he and his family lived in Rome, Italy. Edith attended the Presbyterian Church while in Paris.

When World War II broke out, Gaston was caught in the South of France, and had to remain in "Vichy France" (the "Puppet State" set up by the Germans), and could not rejoin his wife in the North, or German-occupied France. On 10/30/1941, Gaston was living at 75 Cours Pierre Puget, Marseille, France. Edith, at the time, was living with her 2 daughters in Rennes, France. Their son, Robert Paul Berdonneau, had entered the French Army, and had been captured by the Germans in battle, and sent to a Concentration Camp, somewhere in Germany. Later, Gaston in the South of France, had been suspected by the Germans of assisting American Airmen to escape from France, and of espionage for the Allies, and had also been sent to a Concentration Camp in Germany.

Edith remained with her 2 daughters in Rennes, France. Rennes is near Rheims, and to the S-E inland from Lellarve, in Northern France. She had been unable to join Gaston by crossing the line of demarcation between German-

After the US Army drove the Germans out of Northern France, a large US Army Hospital was set up in ---, a town not far from Rennes, which Hospital was in charge of a Major who happened to be a friend of Edith's Cousin, Dr. Benj. Hines Charles, 3rd, MD, (H-125-521), of St Louis, Mo. Benjamin, while in the US Army Medical Corps, visited Edith also while on furloughs, and it became possible to send mail and food packages to Edith by sending them through the US Army mail to this friendly Major - who promptly relayed them to Edith. Other friends of the Hamilla-Dysarts also visited Edith while the US Army was in France.

On 5/18/1945, word came to the Mother, Mrs Dysart, (H-125-41), in Evanston, Ill, that Gaston had been released from his Concentration Camp in Germany, and was in Paris, and that Edith had just gone to Paris to meet him, and return with him to Rennes. Later, as the advancing US Army reared thru Germany, Robert's release was also affected, and he joined the family in Rennes. All this word came via the kindly US Army men who visited Edith, and who relayed the news, via US Army mails, to the Mother in Evanston, Ill.

Edith and Gaston were Divorced on ___/___/1947, in Paris, France. Gaston then married as his 2nd Wife, a French woman, Mae ---. Gaston became (1948) Manager of a Jewelry manufacturing business, owned by this 2nd Wife, in Paris, and he and his 2nd wife lived (4/16/1948) at No. --- rue --- in Paris, France.

On 3/9/1947, Edith had visited, in Berlin, Germany, her oldest daughter, Denise, and the latter's little daughter, Patricia, where Denise was serving as a Linguist-Translator for the French Army, as like her Mother, Denise speaks and writes 4 languages (English-French-Italian-German). Also there in Berlin, living with Denise in her 3-room flat, was Edith's youngest daughter, Louise, who was doing Infant Welfare work in Berlin. Edith's son Robert, in 1947-48, was living with Gaston in Paris, and was studying Medicine at the --- in Paris. Robert at that time was in poor health and was threatened with TB.

Edith came to America, to her Mother's home in Evanston, Ill, in time for Christmas 1947. On 4/16/1948, she was on a visit to the Hamill Cousins in St Louis. Various Cousins like Dr. Benj. Hines Charles, 3rd, MD, (H-125-521), aided her in regaining her American citizenship - and in this, her Cousin, Judge George Herbert Moore, LLN, (Marie Hosmer Horno) (H-125-53), who is a noted Federal Judge of St Louis, was especially helpful. Also on 4/16/1948, Edith was writing articles for various magazines, especially one on "Brittany" for "Town & Country Magazine." Until Feb'y 1, 1949 she lived with her Mother in Apt 7-E, 617 Grove St, (Park Manor Apts), Evanston, Ill, (Chicago suburb).

EDITH DYSART BACK IN AMERICA:

Edith Louise Dysart and Edmond Berdonneau were divorced (____/1947) in Paris, France. Edith returned to the US in time for Christmas 1947. She lived with her Mother at Apt 7-E, 617 Grove St, (Park Manor Apts), Evanston, Illinois, (Chicago suburb). On 4/16/1948 she was on a visit to various Hamill Cousins in St Louis, Mo, such as Dr. Benj. Hines Charles, 3rd, MD, (H-125-521), of 2 Fielding Road, Clayton, Mo, (St Louis suburb). He had visited her in Rennes, France, while he was in the US Army. She regained her American citizenship thru the special efforts of her Cousin, Judge George Herbert Moore, LL.M, (Marie Hosmer Horne) (H-125-53), of 4392 Maryland Ave, St Louis, Mo. He is a noted and widely respected Federal Judge of St Louis. On 4/16/1948 she had been writing articles for various magazines, especially one on "Brittany" for Town & Country Magazine. She had also been working on a book detailing her experiences in 2 World Wars.

Edith is a charming, loveable, very hospitable and kindly young woman. She is a slender blonde, pretty and with the lively Hamill sense of humor. She is an accomplished Linguist-Translator, speaking and writing English-French-Italian-German. During World War II, she did much translating for the Allies.

Edith, about Feby 1, 1949, accompanied her Cousin, Mrs Charles Edward Dilkes, (Harriet Hamill) (H-125-92), to Palo Alto, Calif, (San Francisco suburb). There she lived with this Cousin Harriet at 215 Chester St, in Palo Alto. Edith continued work on her book, worked for a Travel Bureau, and did some special work for Stanford University. She also did translating for the San Francisco Opera Co. On 11/25/1950, Edith had moved into San Francisco, and was living at 7 Casa Way - and address that proved incorrect, as mail was returned marked "No Such Address."

On Feby 5th, in April, and on 5/23/1952, Edith had again moved, and was living at 457 So. Mariposa Ave, Los Angeles, (5), California. There she was consulting with a Scenario Writer, who was helping her to adapt her book manuscript to make it suitable for Moving Pictures. This book is based on her experiences in World Wars I and II.

Later, they returned to Mr Horne's old home at Monmouth, Ill. After a short stay there, they took up their residence in Keokuk, in 1883, where they have lived ever since. His recent years have been bound up in the developing of the Company of which he was the head.

Mr Horne's death came suddenly. He did not realize that he was in declining health until about five weeks ago. A big, strong man, weighing over 200 pounds, he seemed to be in good health. However, the decline came rapidly after he was taken to the Hospital three weeks ago. A complication of diseases set in following two operations, and in the end the all powerful messenger of death claimed its own."

(Mrs Robert G. Horne (Martha Sarah Hamill-H-125-5) wrote on 3/1/1915): "...Hamill (Horne-H-125-5) living in Philadelphia, Pa) says there are Hamills living in Trenton, New Jersey, who are very nice people, and come into his office occasionally, and claim relationship. They say that one of the original Brothers remained there - when they came from Ireland - while the others went into Penna. Hamill (H-125-51) says that he found one Nathaniel Hamill was a Government Surveyor.- probably that was ours - and that was why he went into the woods - and was not eaten by big, bad bears - did they sure find his powder horn and gun? I have a copy of an old letter of "Aunt Sally's" (H-15) - but it is lacking in dates, although she mentions the fact that she was in her 81st year. She speaks of her Father being Nathaniel Hamill (H-1). The letter was written to some Kenia Hamills. I will send a copy of them to you if you want them. BIOGRAPHICAL OF JUDGE GEORGE H. MOORE:

Judge George H. Moore has won a very high reputation for absolute integrity, trustworthiness and honesty, during his years as a US District Federal Judge, in St Louis, Missouri. Following are some excerpts from Newspaper, and other comments concerning him:

(From Chicago Tribune-6/21/1951): "Court learns of 75 Ways to Cure a Wart. St Louis, June 20(1951) - Would you like to know how to stop a tornado, cure a wart, or offset the curse of an evil's host? Or, maybe you'd like to hear the words to "The Trick of the Old 97" or a Federal Judge rambling about the advisability of his becoming a disk jockey. The entertainment was part of the proceedings in the trial of a damage suit in which an Ozark valley preacher contends he was burlesqued in a hill billy ballad that has been placed on records.....(speaking of a woman witness) Federal Judge George Moore seemed most interested in her description of a "feather crown" which mysteriously appears on the pillows of sick persons. Mrs McCord says some folks believe it means death for the patient and others believe it means he will go to heaven."

(Speaking of Disk Jockeys, called as Witnesses) "The Judge said his clerk had advised him that some disk jockeys were paid as much as $30,000. a year. He said he had wondered whether it might be well for him to resign from the bench and become a record turner, but he added that he couldn't carry a tune, or remember a song 10 minutes after he heard it. "With that in mind, do you think I could become a disk jockey?" he said. Flustered by the question, Newsome paused, then replied: "Pardon the levity, sir, but I think you have risen more as a judge than you ever would as a disk jockey."

(From: Chicago Tribune-10/16/1951): "Judge Tells How He Forced Probe of Truman Pal. McGrath Slow to Act on Finnegan, He Says. St Louis-Oct 17, (1951)-AP-Federal District Judge George H. Moore told today how he forced a grand jury investigation into the internal revenue bureau's office here after Atty. Gen. McGrath was slow to act. As a result of the investigation, James P. Finnegan, former internal revenue collector, who is a personal friend of President Truman, was indicted on charges of accepting bribes and of other misconduct in office. The 70 year old jurist said today in an interview with the (St Louis) Post-Dispatch, that McGrath told him he would look into reports of irregularities in the handling of tax cases by the office.

Fails to Call. But McGrath failed to get in touch with him again altho he had been advised that the statute of limitations was approaching on several cases involved, Judge Moore said. Judge Moore said he had a telephone conversation with McGrath, and that he told the Attorney General: "We have a very serious situation here, an ugly situation that ought to be cleared up in the collector's office." Judge Moore said that earlier he had called in Drake Watson, US District Attorney, telling him he wanted a grand jury investigation of the collector's office. The jurist said Watson told him he didn't have the authority. "Then Watson wrote to Lamar Caudle (Assistant Attorney General in charge of the tax division)," Moore said. "He received a reply telling him he couldn't have a grand jury investigation. Caudle told him that the judge couldn't have the inquiry and Watson couldn't take part."

Asks for Assistance. Moore said Watson had told him about several telephone conversations he had with Caudle and his assistant, Meyer Rothwacks. It was after that, Judge Moore said, that he called McGrath and asked for his assistance in the inquiry. When no action came, Judge Moore related, he called in Watson and advised him to inform the justice department that he was summoning the grand jury. The Judge said he told Watson: "I've written my instructions - all except one paragraph. I will write that paragraph after I know if the justice department is going to help the grand jury."

Got the Go Signal. Watson came back in an hour or so and said: "I got the go signal." He said he was told: "If the Judge takes that attitude there's nothing to do but go ahead." "I don't know who told him, but it was probably Caudle or Rothwacks. Judge Moore did not explain what he intended to say in the paragraph of his instructions which he left unwritten."

(2/26/1952).

Finnegan is free under $5,000. bond. He was charged with 2 counts in the indictment with accepting two $250. checks from Karol Wall Gumbert Co., at a time when the firm had pending a tax delinquency case which by law "might be brought before him in his official capacity." Three other counts accused Finnegan of violating a law by accepting pay for services involving controversies in which the US was a party. One case involved the Amer. Lithofold Co., of St. Louis. Finnegan is accused of accepting $5,000. from the firm for intervening in its behalf with officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation regarding a government loan."

"....When Senator William lifted the lid on Missouri, he found a still bigger scandal. A retired Special Agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau's St. Louis office, encouraged by news of William's exposures, wrote an account of what he knew of tax-rigging in that office and sent it to District Judge George H. Moore last February. The evidence seemed so serious that Judge Moore telephoned Howard McGrath, US Attorney General and former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, suggesting that this looked like a job for the Department of Justice.

But the Bureau office in St. Louis was a place of extraordinary political significance. The late Robert S. Hannegan, close friend of Harry Truman, had been its Collector. From that office President Roosevelt made him Commissioner of Internal Revenue, then Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Later Truman made him Postmaster General. Hannegan's successor was his longtime associate, James P. Finnegan. He, also, was a close friend of Truman. The Attorney General promised that he would look into the St. Louis matter and call back. He never called. He did, however, send a representative of the Justice Department to St. Louis. This US Attorney helped the Grand Jury prepare a report which, "for lack of evidence," Finnegan and his office were cleared.

When stories were published that Judge Moore had talked with McGrath, the Attorney General said they were "damnable and contemptible lies." Later, he did manage to remember the conversation and apologized to the venerable Judge, one of the most respected men on the Federal bench....."

(From: Chicago Daily News-4/11/1950): "Tenants to Pay Rent Hike(?). St. Louis(AP)-A ruling in Federal Court here may mean a lot to people who think their rent is too high. Judge George H. Moore ruled that even if the rent control board grants an increase, the tenant doesn't have to pay it unless he wants to. He ruled such a raise permissive, not mandatory. The case involved a monthly increase from $30. to $35-50. It is being appealed."

Data Page on MARIE HOMER MOORE - JUDGE GEORGE H. MOORE:

(From: Chicago Tribune - 7/25/1952): "Jurors Probe Fraud Charge in Democrat Race. St. Louis, Mo., July 24 (1952) - (Special) - A Federal grand jury investigation of the Missouri Democratic senatorial campaign opened here today as a result of charges of fraud and illicit spending hurled by the two major contestants. These two are W. Stuart Symington, former air secretary and former head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and State Atty. Gen. J. B. (Duck) Taylor, whose candidacy has the blessing of President Truman and the Kansas City Pendergast machine. An exhaustive 25-page charge to the grand jury by Federal Judge George H. Moore contained an intimation that corporations, labor unions, and even national banks may be involved in the scandal. The Judge, however, named no names. Seek Senate Seat: The investigation does not involve State Sen. John A. Johnson, the third contender for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator in the Aug. 5 primary. The 3 Democrats are competing for the chance to oppose incumbent Republican Sen. James P. Allen, who is considered certain to win in the Republican primary. Judge Moore, an obdurate jurist who personally forced the grand jury investigation that led to the misconduct trial and conviction of former Revenue Collector James P. Finnegan, despite the apparent reluctance of the Justice Department to proceed against that crony of Mr. Truman, warned the new grand jury impaneled today not to consider his instructions routine or perfunctory. He directed the jurors to make the campaign scandal inquiry their first order of business.

Cites Unlawful Funds: He noted that it is "unlawful for any corporation or national bank, or any labor organization, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with" this election. He called despicable those "who seek to thwart the will of the voters, whether they be bribe givers or bribe takers, whether it be candidates who seek to buy their way into office or those who in violation of the law try to coerce or intimidate voters by threatening them with loss of their daily bread and meat." This appeared to be a direct reference to the charges first made July 6, when the two candidate's campaign managers each asked the Senate elections committee, headed by Sen. Gillette, (D-Iowa), to investigate the other's campaign activities. Steve Owen, Taylor's manager, accused Symington of trying to purchase the nomination by paying as much as $1,000 a ward to St. Louis politicians. He said Symington's campaign expenditures would not be less than $250,000 - 10 times the legal limit.

Both Deny Charges: Symington's campaign chief, James H. Meredith, countered with the charge that Taylor was using state employees and state funds to further his candidacy. Symington and Taylor denied the charges. No other details have been made public, but James E. Lynch, senate committee investigator dispatched here July 8 by Sen. Gillette, had this to say yesterday: "Both sides have furnished formal complaints. I do not consider these complaints as proof of the charges. I do not mean by that, however, that the charges are not provable." That highly placed persons may be involved was indicated by Judge Moore's jury instructions, in which the court noted that "too often only the lowly ballot box stuffer is prosecuted, and those in higher positions, those who give the orders and provide the illicit funds, those who corrupt and seduce, escape prosecution."

Backed by Coalition: Among the first witnesses called before the jury today were Meredith and Owen. Also called were Jacob M. Lashly, St. Louis attorney and chairman of the Symington for Senator Citizen's Committee of St. Louis county, and Sidney Maestre, treasurer of that committee. Symington campaigning on his record as a government official and business man (former President of Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co), is backed by an anti-Pendergast coalition in Kansas City, and by the Democratic boss of St. Louis, Sheriff Thomas F. Callanan. Callanan's brother, Lawrence, heads the politically powerful St. Louis local of the AFL Steamfitter's Union. Taylor, described by the president as "one of my best friends," is campaigning on a straight New Deal and Fair Deal program. (7/25/1952).

JUDGE MOORE WINS HIGH HONOR AWARD:

(From: Chicago Tribune-11/19/1952): "Honorable Judge for Role in Tax Scandal Probe. St Louis Award Goes to George H. Moore. St Louis, Nov 18 (1952) -
The St Louis Award for outstanding service was presented today to Federal Judge George H. Moore, who resisted pressure from Washington and forced the Grand Jury investigation of St Louis tax scandals that resulted in the conviction of James Finnegan, former Internal Collector and close friend of President Truman. The 1952 award and check for $1,000. was presented to the Jurist before 200 friends and associates in the office of Mayor Joseph H. Drost.

"Judge Moore announced he would turn the money over to the Missouri Historical Society, of which he is President. Federal officers are forbidden by law to accept gifts of money.

"Established 20 Years Ago." The award was established by an anonymous donor and was first made 20 years ago. It is presented annually to a resident of the metropolitan St-Louis area who in the previous year contributed outstanding service to the area's development or has performed such service as to bring honor to the community. Judge Moore, 74, a member of the Federal bench since 1935, attracted national attention last year by insisting upon a thoro inquiry by a Grand Jury which subsequently served a record breaking 18 months and returned 131 indictments, 31 dealing with tax matters. The Jurist recently told congressional investigators the Justice Department tried to prevent and later halt the Grand Jury investigation by ordering a report white-washing the St Louis tax collector's office.

"First Report Rejected." Judge Moore rejected the initial report of the Grand Jurors, which indicated they found no evidence of wrongdoing, and sent them back to delve deeper. Members of the Jury later testified Justice Department officials guided them into making their whitewash report. Under instructions from Judge Moore as to how to get facts, the Jurors went back into session and returned numerous indictments, including that of Finnegan, who was a Democratic party bigwig as well as St Louis tax collector. Finnegan, charged with accepting bribes and with other misconduct in office, was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $10,000. He is free under bond pending hearing on appeal. The Award was presented to the Jurist by Dr. Llewellyn Sells, former President of the St Louis Medical Society, and a member of the six man committee which selected Judge Moore as the area's outstanding citizen."

AN EDITORIAL ABOUT JUDGE GEORGE H. MOORE:

(From: Chicago Tribune-11/31/1952): "Honorable Exception: (An Editorial)

"Federal District Judge George H. Moore has been given the St Louis Civic Award for the year by a panel of his fellow townsmen for meritorious service to the community. He was cited for "the determined and effective manner in which he went beyond accepted standards of judicial responsibility" in forcing a Grand Jury investigation of tax fixing and corruption in the office of the New Deal collector of internal revenue in St Louis.

The Department of Justice in Washington had instructed officials of the United States Attorney's office in St Louis to write a white-wash report to be submitted by the Grand Jury at the completion of its inquiry. Judge Moore told the Jurors this wouldn't do, instructed them how to look for crookedness and sent them back to try again. The Grand Jury then returned 31 indictments and James Finnegan, a friend of Mr Truman, who had been Collector of Internal Revenue, was sentenced to the penitentiary.

The noteworthy fact about this is that Judge Moore is himself a Democrat.
He was appointed to the Federal Bench by Mr Roosevelt in 1935. We agree that when an honest Democrat is found amid all of the Truman corruption, he should get a medal. Judge Moore is the only member of his party so honored, and, if he is unique, that is not exactly accidental."

BIOGRAPHICAL OF JUDGE GEORGE H. MOORE:

(From: Reader's Digest-June 1953-Page 92) (Article on: "The Real Voice of the People"-Condensed from The Lion, by Don Wharton):

"...Many a grand jury brings into road blocks. The investigation of tax fixing and corruption in the Internal Revenue Bureau by a Federal grand jury in St Louis in 1951 was almost thwarted by the obstructive tactics of federal officials. Only the guidance of prodding of an aroused, honest, 73-year-old Federal Judge, George H. Moore, enabled this grand jury to keep on the scent. First there was a brush attempt to prevent the grand jury from investigating the subject. Next, slick work tricked the jurors into turning in a whitewash. And then there was withholding of evidence. Judge Moore kept pushing; a new and earnest US Attorney took over, and finally this one grand jury returned 131 indictments.

Any citizen can go directly to a grand jury with his evidence. The St Louis inquiry was started by a letter from a private citizen - a retired Special Agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau's intelligence unit....."

NANCY ELEANOR HAMILL (McCALLA).

Nancy Eleanor Hamill was the daughter of the Honorable Smith Hamill (H-125) and Nancy McClanahan MacCandless, of Mon Valley, Lawrence Co, Penna, and Keokuk, Iowa. Smith Hamill, in 1852, Founded the S. Hamill Co, Wholesale Grocers and Coffee Roasters, in Keokuk. He also led in Founding the Iowa State (Ibro) Insurance Co, and was a member of the Iowa Legislature in the formative period of the State, and aided in drafting the Organic Laws of the State. He was a distant Cousin of Dr. Robert C. Hamill, MD (H-262) of Chicago, who Founded the Presbyterian Hospital.

Smith Hamill's (H-125) Wife was the daughter of John MacCandless, Sr, and Mary Young, (See #75-MacCandless Section-also Y-A-213-Young Section-Hamill Genealogy), of Mon Valley, Pa, the Youngs being a notable pioneer family from Baltimore, Md, where Mary Young was born in 1790. In turn, her Father, Capt. William Young, Jr, (Y-A-21), born 1745 at Head-of-Elk (Elkton), Md, where the family had a Country Estate, was a Revolutionary Soldier, and after 1790, pioneered in helping to found Wilmington (Newcastle), Penna.

Eleanor's Father, Smith Hamill, always used as his Trade Mark, "The Palm," taken from the family Crest, and referring to his Grandfather Hamill Ancestor, who was in The Crusades, was tall and straight like a Palm, who sighted an Oasis and rescued other Crusaders from dying of thirst, and so won the Title and Crest of "The Palm." This old Firm, in 1947, is still going strong, still owned by Hamills, after 95 years of honorable dealing.

Eleanor was the first child of her family to be born in Keokuk, Iowa, in 1849, the older brother and sisters having been born back in Mon Valley, Penna. There in Penna, it is said her Father, Smith Hamill, swam across the icy, flooded waters of a river, in January weather, to wed his bride. Eleanor was named for Eleanor Ellender (Alander) Gibson, (See Page 7, Item #75-Davidson Section-Hamill Genealogy), who was the wife of General James Sproat, of the Mexican and Civil Wars. The Sproats were stationed at Fort Montrose, Iowa, 5 miles north of Keokuk, and were relatives and close friends of the Smith Hamill (H-125) family.

Eleanor, as a child of 15 years old, was sent to Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill, where she took special studies, with the children of the Faculty. This was in 1862, and she remained there for 1 year. The next year, at 14 years of age, she entered Hillsboro College, Hillsboro, Ohio, where she had a "finishing school" education, completing her course in 2 years, and graduating with the usual Diploma. She had at first planned to go to a more prominent Eastern College with her closest Keokuk girl friend, Lucy Worthington, but it was thought to be too far away, and the family compromised on Hillsboro, where they had a "Keokuk Room" especially for Keokuk students. Lucy Worthington later married the famous New York financier, Henry Clews, and the friendship of Eleanor and Lucy remained thru life. At Hillsboro were also 5 other friends of Eleanor's, who were Demarais Franklin (Mrs. J.C. Paradise), Fanny Moody (Mrs. Law. Carter), and Anna Applebee.

Eleanor married Rev. Albert McCalla in Keokuk, Iowa, 5/16/1871. Albert had been a student at Monmouth College, entering as a Sophomore 9/10/1865, making up the Junior year, thus finishing the entire 4-year course in only 2 years, and graduating 4th in a class of 35, on 6/26/1867. He had met Eleanor thru some of the Chicago Hamills, who were also Cousins of Albert's thru the Davidson intermarriage. Theophilus W. Hamill (H-262-5-Hamill Genealogy) was educated at Monmouth, and he and Albert were Cousins and very close friends. Theophilus, with his brother, Amos A. (H-262-5), both of Chicago, often visited the Smith Hamill (H-125) family of Keokuk, Iowa, and took Albert along also for a visit - and so he met Eleanor. Albert in his Autobiography, (See Data Pages following), speaks of visiting Keokuk on many occasions, and also speaks of visiting, in April 1867, with David Ham-

111(H-125-4), who was Eleanor's older brother, and with Aaron Hamill, (H-C-11-Other Hamills Section-Family C-Hamill Genealogy), and Anna Hamill (H-C-1) of the St. Louis "Hamill-Hamilla." Anna Sarah Hamill (H-125-5) also was educated at Monmouth, and after her marriage, lived for some years in Monmouth. She was an older sister of Eleanor's.

Eleanor was a beautiful, charming, kindly, jolly and greatly beloved young woman - the pet of the family, and admired and highly regarded by the Hamill Family's extremely wide circle of friends. As a young wife, she was very helpful to her husband in the Mission Field. She was a splendid homemaker, and exceedingly loving mother, very popular wherever she went, and extremely helpful to so many poor and struggling students, working hard for an education. So many of these young students, to whom she showed encouragement, hospitality and helpful advice, have turned out so well in later life - many in the Missionary and Medical Missionary Field.

Eleanor during her life, was a devoted Christian, and was very active in the Presbyterian Church, and in the Missionary Society. At the time of her death, she was a member of the 2nd Presby. Church of Chicago, having transferred from the historic old 1st Presby. Church at the time the latter moved to a more distant part of Chicago. She was also a Life Member of the Missionary Board of the Northwest, (called "Room 48" for short) of the Presbyterian Church. With this Board, Albert's sister, Miss Mary Ella McCalla, (H-361-4) was connected most of her life.

Eleanor was a member of the Chicago Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, (Application #70-437), and was a Life Member of the Illinois Society, U.S. Daughters of 1812, (Illinois #33-National #2-132(3?)).

Eleanor, at the time of her death, was living in the old McCalla home at 2316 Calumet Avenue, Chicago, with her daughter Helen Wynne McCalla (H-125-61) and her son Paul Hamill McCalla (H-125-65). Up to the time of her death, like all the Hamills, she was full of jolly conversation, little jokes and kindnesses. She went, whenever possible to Church and to the Missionary Society and Ladies Aid Meetings. She also liked to attend the DAR and Daughters of 1812 meetings with her daughter Helen, and while petite and short of stature, was witty and affable, very jolly and friendly - and was much beloved and respected by all who knew her.

The Keokuk Hamills have always had an unbreakable rule of being buried in Oakland Cemetery, Keokuk, Iowa, so she is buried there in Lot 42, Block 24. No matter how they may be scattered, these Hamills are always brought home to Keokuk for a final resting place. But her husband, Rev. Albert McCalla, is buried in Chicago, in Lot J-615-C, Graceland Cemetery, where so many of the Chicago Hamills, the McCallas, and the Davissons sleep.

MARRIAGE NOTICE:

(From: Keokuk, Iowa, "Weekly Gate City" 5/24/1871): "The Marriage of Rev. Albert McCalla to Miss Nellie Hamill. has already been announced, through the columns of this paper, Rev. Albert McCalla of Emporia, Kansas, and Miss Nellie Hamill, of this city, were married on Tuesday evening last. We were unable to give in yesterday morning's paper the notice which the circumstances of the case call for, so we were obliged to postpone our comments until this morning.

The wedding transpired at the residence of the bride's father, Mr Smith Hamill, who is among our oldest, wealthiest and most influential citizens, as well as one of the leading wholesale merchants of our city. The ceremony, which was an impressive one, was performed by Rev. Dr. Brown, of the UP Church, assisted by Rev. W.C. Craig, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The bridesmaids were Miss May Thomas, of St Louis, and Miss Mattie Hamill, and the groomsmen, Mr Ernest Hamill, of Chicago, and Mr Sam Hamill, of St Louis. Mr T.W. Hamill, of Chicago, was also among the guests from abroad. The company in attendance at the wedding consisted of the immediate friends of the bride. The party was a brilliant, festive and happy one, the host and hostess dispensing their hospitality with a liberal hand. Rev. Mr McCalla, the fortunate and successful suitor, has just entered upon his professional career as a Minister of the Gospel. Graduating at the Union Theological Seminary of New York, in 1870, he accepted a call from Emporia, Kansas. He is a talented and thoroughly educated young man, and gives promise of large achievements in his profession.

The bride, Miss Nellie Hamill, was one of Keokuk's fairest and most charming young ladies. Hosts of friends here in our city recognize her many estimable qualities, and will unite in hearty invocations of happiness to the two new disciples of Hymen. As the female portion of our readers are always deeply interested in knowing, in connection with any wedding, how the bride was dressed, we will say parenthetically right here, that upon this occasion she wore a very elegant white gros-grain silk, trimmed with point lace. This paragraph is intended for the private ear of the ladies. Shortly after the ceremony the guests gathered around one of the most sumptuous and skillfully prepared repasts of which it has ever been our good fortune to partake. The table presented a handsome and attractive appearance, and was supplied with all the tempting delicacies of the art culinary.

The presents to the bride were quite numerous and many of them were costly and elaborate. Among the most conspicuous ones, we noticed a silver berry bowl from Mr John I. Pin and Miss Maymie Rankin, a silver butter dish from Miss Thomas, a silver oyster dish from Mr Sam Hamill, a silver pickle stand from Mr and Mrs Ed Carter, two sets silver knives from T.W. and E.A. Hamill, silver celery stand from Miss Demaris Franklin, silver fruit dish from Mr and Mrs D.B. Hamill, silver castor from her father, two sets silver spoons from her mother, and silver cake stand from Mr D.J. Ayres. There were many others, but we of course can't give the list entire. While presents were bestowed lavishly on the bride, the groom was not forgotten. A card appeared upon the table bearing this inscription:

R. C. HAMILL, MD,
To REV. A. McCALLA,
One Hundred Dollars

For his Church in Emporia.

The present is a valuable one, and one which Mr McCalla and his church will no doubt duly appreciate as they are now engaged in building a new edifice. Mr McCalla and his bride left yesterday morning for Chicago, whither he goes as a delegate to the General Assembly."

Rev. Albert was born in 1846 in Bloomington, Indiana, where his Grandfather Samuel McCalla (H-36), and his father, Thomas ("Honest Tom") McCalla (H-361), had moved from "Hazelwood" Plantation, Chester, SC, in 1836. Bloomington had become quite a settlement of the McCallas, the Hemphills, the Davissons and the Hamills. Many Hemphills, emigrating from Chester, SC, had gone there to join their McCalla Kinfolk, and some of them had founded the "Hemphill-Woodburn" branch of very noted and erudite Educators. Then some of the Davissons had come on from Xenia, Ohio, and Marianne Davison had married Thomas McCalla (H-361), and her sister Eliza Jane Davison had married Dr. Robert C. Hamill, D (H-262) in Xenia, but they had later come to Bloomington to settle for a time. The brother of these two sisters, Dr. Alfred W. Davison, D, (Dav 114) had come on to Bloomington, had gone to Chicago in 1837, had liked it there, had prospered in his real estate ventures - and had urged Kinfolk in Bloomington to come to Chicago and prosper. There is proof, however, that our McCallas and Davissons were in Chicago as early as 1836, and Davissons as early as 1832.

CHICAGO & THE KINFOLK: Thomas McCalla (H-361) sold his partnership in McCalla Bros. General Store in Bloomington to his brother, John McCalla (H-362), hired a coach and a 6-horse team, and in May 1852, the family of Thomas McCalla, (with his son Albert), and the family of Dr. Robert C. Hamill, D, (H-262), moved together to Chicago, staying on arrival at Dr. Davison's (Dav 114) at old number 77 Clark St, where Dr. Davison was later to found Rush Medical College. Dr. Hamill was also later to found the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago - widely noted for its extremely high standards of medical practice. Thomas McCalla (H-361) was to become a leading banker of Chicago, President of the Bank of Commerce, (Davison, McCalla & Co), and a large owner of Real Estate. This "Honest Tom" was greatly respected, and became one of the moving spirits of the early days of Chicago. The Hemphills ventured to Chicago, did not like it, considered it an uncouth village completely surrounded by mud, and returned to Bloomington, and some went to Texas. The usual Hemphill sagacity and horse-sense seems to have failed them in this instance. But Hemphills of this later (1947) generation have come to Chicago - and have prospered exceedingly.

Years later, Prof. Jas. A. Woodburn, PhD, LL.D (Hemp. A-322-5-Hemphill Section-McCalla Genealogy), in his book, "Woodburn History" - says that a Hemphill was planning to go to Chicago in 1856 with a McCalla, to invest in land. "What would have been the result if he could have invested....and hung on!" he exclaims. (See Data Page Hemp. A-322-Hemphill Section-McCalla Genealogy). The Compiler also wishes that Hemphill good judgment and shrewdness could have been present in Chicago in 1857 to help hang onto the McCalla holdings when Thomas ("Honest Tom") McCalla (H-361) met an accidental death. His real estate holdings, in a later generation, were estimated at $22,500,000. (See Page H-361-McCalla Genealogy). So it is thus seen that the settling at Bloomington, Ind, and the moving on to Chicago - was a family affair among the McCallas-Davissons-Hamills-Hemphills.

SCHOOL DAYS: Albert McCalla thus came to Chicago in 1852 as a boy 6 years old. As a child, while living at 99 Washington St (site of the present (1947) Title & Trust Bldg-next door to the Methodist Temple), he had attended the famous Jones School, where many noted Chicagoans had received their education. It was in this house that his father, Thomas, died in 1857. Later the family moved to various other homes, and Albert attended the old Chicago High School, where he was awarded the coveted "Foster Medal" for scholarship. He worked after school and on Saturdays at Schenck's Concentrated Feed Co, and later at Muller, Finch & Fuller's. Toward the close (SEE NEXT PAGE). (5/12/1947).

of the Civil War, he had been preparing for military service, and was a member of Ellsworth's famous Quaves - but the war was over before his class was ready to be called.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE: Albert entered Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, on 9/10/1865, going direct to the Sophomore class, making up the Junior year, and so completing the whole 4-year course in 2 years, graduating 4th in a class of 35, on 6/26/1867, with a BA Degree. Later, in 1885, Albert was Granted the PhD Degree (Honorary) by Monmouth. While at Monmouth he became (12/1865) one of the Founders of Alpha Alpha Chapter of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He was #4 on the Charter, and Rev. James Franklin Moffatt, a close friend, was also a founder. This Rev. Moffatt was presumably a distant Kinsman of the "Hammill-Moffatt" branch - and afterward became a famous Presby. Minister of Cumberland, Maryland, and noted in Presby. Assemblys and Synods. Albert was also later to become one of the Founders of the Chapter of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity in the old Chicago University (Chicago, Ill), in its old former location at 34th & Cottage Grove Ave. He always remained deeply interested in this splendid Fraternity in later years. (See Article! "Down College Avenue" in Letters Section-McCalla Genealogy).

Likewise at Monmouth were some of the Chicago Hamills, among them Theophilus W. Hamill (H-262-3), and for a short time, Ernest A. Hamill (H-262-5). Aaron Hamill (H-C-11-Family C-Other Hamills Section-Hamill Genealogy), of the St Louis "Hackney-Hamills" was also a student there. Martha Sarah Hamill, (H-125-5) of Keokuk, Iowa, older sister of Nancy Eleanor Hamill (McCalla), was also a student there, and after her marriage to Dr. Home, she lived there for many years. Later, many of the "Hammill-Moffatt" branch were to go from Bloomington, Ind, to Monmouth College as Professors - but even in Albert's day, he was surrounded by Cousins and Kinsmen at Monmouth.

NORTHWESTERN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY: Albert studied for the Missionary Ministry at Northwestern Theol. Seminary, Fullerton & W. Halsted Sts, Chicago. This was later called McCormick Seminary, and is now known as Presbyterian Seminary. He entered 9/10/1867, and also engaged in Mission work for the 1st Presby. Church, and at RR Mission.

LICENSED TO PREACH: Albert was Ordained and Licensed to Preach the Gospel by the Presbytery of Chicago on 4/14/1869, and later in the summer went to Libertyville, Ill (Chicago suburb-9 miles West of Lake Forest) to preach. He preached a sermon: "Lessons in the Life of Christ" - and conducted a Revival at which 25 or 30 persons were converted. The Libertyville Presby. Church was organized - out of which has grown the present large and splendid Church there. Rev. Albert was very fond of Libertyville, and often in later life, returned there to preach and visit with those whom he had converted there, and with other numerous friends.

UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY: On 10/1/1869, Rev. Albert went to New York to take Post Graduate studies at Union Theol. Seminary, graduating 5/9/1870 with the MA Degree - preaching nearly every Sunday in NY or vicinity during the year that he was there.

EMPORIA, KANSAS: Rev. Albert in 1870 went to the Mission Field of Kansas, preaching in many frontier Kansas towns, and later became a Missionary Minister at Emporia, Kansas. There his tiny Mission Church "had a Buffalo Park on one side, and Indians on the other." He preached also at Wichita, Kansas, and at Eldon, Iowa.

MARRIAGE: On 5/16/1871, Rev. Albert married Nancy Eleanor Hamill (H-125-6) at Keokuk, Iowa. (See Page H-125-6-Hamill Genealogy). The next year, in Emporia, Kan, the first child, Edwin Elmer McCalla (H-125-61) was born. An old picture of Eleanor shows her holding Edwin in her arms, a beautiful, petite, smiling and very kindly young mother. Bronchitis and Laryngitis - which were to trouble him so much during his lifetime - caused Rev. Albert to resign in the Fall of 1872, and he spent the balance of that winter in the South for his Throat. The family settled in Chicago for a time at 162, (SEE NEXT PAGE). (5/12/1947)

35th St, and here the oldest son, William Alexander McCalla was born in 1874. Most of that year at Manitou, Colorado, where he built a home, improved his health, and he preached in various parts of Colorado, when physically able. This Manitou, Colo, home was seldom used, and finally sold, as his ministerial duties took him elsewhere.

PARSON'S COLLEGE: His lungs were weak, and he suffered greatly from Bronchitis and Laryngitis, so after many recuperative periods in Colorado and California, he took up College Professorships as less arduous to his health. On 9/8/1875, Rev. Albert, in somewhat improved health, was assigned to aid in the founding of a new Christian College of the Presby. Church in Fairfield, Iowa, known as Parson's College. There he taught Mathematics, Natural Sciences and Physics to the first class in 1875, continuing there for 11 years - thus aiding in founding this College. There in Fairfield were born Smith Hamill McCalla, (who died in infancy), Rev. Albert McCalla, and Paul Hamill McCalla.

LAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY: Rev. Albert in 1886 became Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy at Lake Forest University, Lake Forest, Ill (Chicago suburb). This institution had been founded originally as Lind University, by a distant Kinsman, Mr. Sylvester Lind, (See Lind & Lind Section - McCalla Genealogy), who was a prominent business man of Chicago in the early days, and was a Nephew or Grand-Nephew of the famous pioneer Preacher, Rev. Nathan Lind. Mr. Lind was still living when the family lived in Lake Forest, and he was very fond of little Helen, spoke often of the Kinship, and there was much visiting back and forth. Rev. Albert taught there in Lake Forest for 2 years, but the harsh climate near the Lake again forced him west to Colorado and on to California, leaving the family in the Lake Forest home. When able, he preached in California at Pasadena, Porterville, etc, remaining there for 2 years.

MERCED, CALIFORNIA: In 1890, Rev. Albert moved his family to Merced, Cal, a dry climate favorable to his throat, and there he became Principal of Merced Academy, remaining for 2 years. He preached, when his health permitted, at Merced, Fresno, Sacramento, etc. Thomas, the oldest son, was left with Smith Hamill (H-125) in Keokuk, Iowa, where he finished school, and started his business career with the S. Hamill Co. Rev. Albert and the family returned to Chicago in 1892, just before the Columbian Exposition of 1892-93 - and again made his headquarters in Chicago thereafter.

BUSINESS: Upon his return to Chicago, in somewhat better health, his attention was claimed by business interests in which he had an investment, and those with which his sons were connected. Among these were: Calumet Car Co, East Chicago, Ind (Chicago suburb) (A Car Builders), The McCalla-Ross Co, Chicago (Preserves-Fruit Products-Soda Fin. Supplies). He also became Vice-President of his son Paul's Calumet Advertising Company, Chicago (Magazine-Paper-Newspaper Advertising).

EARLY CHICAGO HOMES: After the family of Thomas McCalla (M-361), including Albert, moved from the old home at 99 Washington St, they lived for a time on Wabash Ave, just North of Congress St, and next door to the 1st Presby. Church. Later they lived at 1302 Wabash Ave, where they were at the time (10/8/1871) of the Chicago Fire, but they were far enough South to escape the flames, and their home was not harmed. Next door, at 1300 Wabash Ave, lived their Cousin, Dr. Robert C. Hamill, MD (H-262). Here at 1302 Wabash Ave, Albert's Mother's Mother, Abigail Todd (nee Andrew Davidson) (Todd 156) died. Still later they resided at 162 East 25th St, near Michigan Ave, on the N-E corner. This was again next door to Dr. Robert C. Hamill, MD, who owned 160 E. 25th St, and who moved with them. It was here in this 25th St home that Albert's own Mother died - Mrs. Thomas McCalla.

In 1909, Rev. Albert and his sister, Miss Mary Ella McCalla (M-361-4) purchased the home at 2316 Calumet Ave, Chicago, and the family occupied this home until Negro encroachments caused them to move out in 1944 - a total of (SEE NEXT PAGE). (5/12/1947).

35 years. Here in this Sunset Avenue home, Rev. Albert McCalla, and Mrs. Albert McCalla (Nancy Eleanor Hamill) died. This was in the old "Gold Coast" district of a generation ago - and very close to Lake Michigan.

MICROSCOPY: Rev. Albert had always been a brilliant Mathematician, and had loved the science of figures. He had also been interested in Astronomy - and many noted Astronomers had become his friends. But his true hobby, in his spare-time hours, was microscopy. He purchased several very fine Microscopes, and his natural inventive genius enabled him to invent and perfect many improvements and processes connected with microscopical work - which won him the attention and friendship of many Scientists.

It is not clear which Microscopical Society he joined first, but while in Fairfield, he founded and was President of the Fairfield, Iowa, Microscopical Club in 1881-2. Later, doubtless because of his deep interest in microscopy as a hobby, because of his Scientific attainments, and because of his inventions and improvements, and the wide Scientific friendships so created, he was chosen (8/17/1882) as President of the American Microscopical Society, and served in 1882-83. He had also been a member of the Illinois Society for some time past, and became President of the Illinois Microscopical Society of Chicago. He served also as Secretary of that body of Scientists, some members of which body won fame for their work in overcoming Tropical Fever, and the germs and mosquitos which cause them.

Due to his standing as a Scientist, and by virtue of his Scientific attainments, and as President of the American Microscopical Society, he was accorded the high honor of being chosen as a Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society, (R.M.S.), of London, England - and remained a member thru life.

Rev. Albert invented a Polarizer for microscopical research, and also developed an Oil Emulsion for microscopical use. Many Scientists wrote him frequently about his developments, inventions, improvements, and about his studies and treatises for the improvement of microscopical research. He wrote many articles, pamphlets and monographs on microscopical subjects, such as Diatoms, etc. Several of these pamphlets were published by the Amer. Microscopical Society. He did a great deal of research on Diatoms, and on Fungus Growths, etc, and discovered and classified many Diatoms, germs and growths - and made up a renowned set of slides on Diatoms.

Rev. Albert was years ahead of his time, and had he lived in these days, he probably would have had much to do with the development of such healing agents developed from mould, as Penicillin, Streptomycin, etc.

Rev. Albert owned many fine Microscopes, one of which, a fine old English model, is now on display at the Illinois Microscopical Society, in the Chicago Academy of Sciences Bldg, (Matthew Laflin Memorial), in Lincoln Park, at N. Clark & Armitage Ave, Chicago. He had quite a collection of Slides and a Library on microscopical subjects, and these were given to the Society to add to their collection.

CHURCH: Rev. Albert and his wife were members of the historic old 1st Presbyterian Church of Chicago. This Church was the first to be started in Chicago, and was founded in the carpenter shop of Fort Dearborn, which stood in the original site of the city. Rev. Albert's funeral was conducted by Rev. Dr. Covert of the 1st Presby. Church and by Rev. Dr. Wishart of the 2nd Presby. Church.

SONS OF THE REVOLUTION: In 1909 Rev. Albert became a member of the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, in Chicago, (Application #5-392) by virtue of descent from Thomas McCalla, Sr. (1725-1800), of Philadelphia, Pa, and Chester, SC. This Thomas married Sarah Anne daughter of Rigue, Pa, and was a "Favorite Cousin" of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne. Thomas served 3 enlistments in the Revolutionary War, and was in the battles of Long Island, White Plains, Brandywine, and was captured at Fishing Creek, SC. His wife, Sarah, was a noted Revolutionary Heroine, and her story is told in Volume (See next page). (5/12/1947).

Rev. Albert also belonged to several other organizations, such as The Owls Club, made up of Scientists, Astronomers, Microscopists, Research Engineers, etc. He also took an active interest in the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

ORGANIZATIONS: Rev. Albert was a member of the following organizations:

First Presbyterian Church, Chicago, Illinois.

Chicago Presbytery, Chicago, Illinois.

Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, Chicago, Ill.

Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, Monmouth, Ill. (Alpha Alpha Chapter)

The Owls Club, (Scientific), Chicago, Illinois.

Past-President, Illinois Microscopical Society, Chicago, Ill.

Past-President, American Microscopical Society, New York, NY.

Past-President, Fairfield Microscopical Club, Fairfield, Iowa.

Fellow, Royal Microscopical Society, London, England, (FRHS).

American Association for the Advancement of Science, Washington, DC.

DEATH: Rev. Albert died in Chicago on June 6th, 1918, of a heart attack, during World War I. He is buried in a new lot at Graceland Cemetery (J-615-C), in which cemetery rest so many of the McCallas, the Hamills, and the Davissons. Now, his son, Colonel - aa Albert McCalla, sleeps beside him in this lot. However, his wife, Nancy Eleanor Hamill McCalla, rests in Oakland Cemetery, (Lot 42-Block 24) in Keokuk, Iowa, due to an unbreakable rule in the Smith Hamill (H-125) family that all children shall be brought back to Keokuk for burial.

Rev. Albert's good works, and his Scientific attainments, live after him. The Libertyville Presby. Church, which he aided in founding, is now a large, thriving Church. Likewise, many small missions, which he aided in founding, have grown into large, successful Churches. And the two noted Microscopical Societies, each of which he once headed, have grown in Scientific standing. His Microscopes, Pamphlets and Slides are held as interesting and inspirational records of the days in which he lived - and Science marches on in its labor of saving lives. For as the Bible says:

All things shall be overcome. And the last thing to be overcome - is Death. "

"It is not given to all men to be equally successful in the learned profession and also in the marts of business, but the late Albert McCalla, of Chicago attained to distinction as a Clergyman and Educator, and then entering upon a commercial life, proved himself capable of attaining to honors in it as well. Born at Bloomington, Indiana, Dec. 1, 1846, Albert McCalla came of an old and honored line of Ancestors in South Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee, which later entitled him to and gained for him membership in the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, through Thomas McCalla and Sarah Wayne (Cardiner) McCalla, his great grandparents. Albert McCalla was the only son of Thomas and Marianne Todd (Davisson) McCalla. Thomas McCalla was born at "Hazelwood," Chester, So. Carolina, August 24th, 1813, eldest son of Samuel and Janet (Leaphill) McCalla, who were married August 5th, 1812. Thomas McCalla was one of the first Bankers of Chicago, being the Founder of the Bank of Commerce. The American founders of the family came to the American Colonies from Scotland, some thru Ireland, at an early day, and from them have come the various members of this name throughout the country.

In 1852, Albert McCalla, with his only sister, Mary Ella McCalla, was brought to Chicago by his parents, who, after staying with his Uncle, Dr. Robert C. Hamill, for a while, located on the N.E. corner of Kinzie and N. Dearborn Sts., remaining there until November, 1863, then removal was made to Michigan St, between Clark and LaSalle, going thence to 99 East Washington St, which house was burned August 5th, 1857. In May of that year this house was raised to the grade and repaired, Thomas McCalla being one of the first and most vehement advocates of raising the street grades of Chicago. One of the first "skyscrapers" in Chicago, 4 stories high, at the corner of Clark and Lake Streets, was built by Thomas McCalla and brother (in law). There was no building more than 2 stories at that time. Subsequently it was raised 1 story, the work being done in accordance with plans conceived by George H. Pullman. Nine hundred men were required, and the cost was $10,000. In raising this building 9000 jack screws were used.

In March 1857, Albert McCalla had the misfortune to lose his father, who died from the effects of a surgical operation after being thrown from his horse against a bridge, and he and his mother and sister returned to Indiana, and during the winter of 1857-8, he attended Cole's Academy. Coming back to Chicago in the Spring of 1858, the McCalla family lived for a time at 235 Wabash Ave, and then in 1859, rented a house at 313 Wabash Ave, four doors North of Congress St, next door to the (1st) Presbyterian Church, of which he became a member while yet a child, where they remained until May 1st, 1865, when removal was made to 76 Twelfth St, and they lived there for one year, during which time Albert McCalla attended the Jones School, where he was awarded the Foster Medal, and the Chicago High School, from which he was graduated in 1864. He was then Correspondence Clerk and Buying Agent for the Schenck Concentrated Co, and later went with Fuller, Finch and Fuller, leaving this concern in 1867 to enter Kenmouth College in the Sophomore class. He made up the work of the Junior class, and was graduated in 1868, fourth in a class of 55. The subsequent Summer he spent at Courtland, N.I., and after a visit to New York City and Philadelphia, Al McCalla returned to Chicago and resumed his studies. The Summer of 1867 he spent in Bloomington, Ind. In the Fall of that year the family moved to their new home at what is now 1302 So. Wabash Ave, and he entered the North-west Theological College, now McCarrick Seminary, to prepare for the Ministry. It is a reminiscence in the family that the location so far out on Wabash Ave was chosen because of the quiet that pervaded that section. Mr. McCalla continued to live at home and walked to the Seminary and back each day, a distance of 10 miles, and he also engaged in the Mission work of the Presby. Church. In 1869 he was licensed to preach the Gospel, and was sent to Libertyville, Ill, for the Summer, and the Fall of that year did post-graduate work at the Union Theological Seminary of New York. He was then assigned to the pastorate of the Church in Emporia, Kansas, in 1870, and remained there until 1873. In the meantime his health failed, and for a few months he travelled, but Sept. 8th, 1875, began his work as a professor of Physical Science at Parson's College, (Fairfield, Iowa) with which he was connected until 1886, when he accepted the chair of Mathematics and Astronomy at Lake Forest University and retained it until 1889. Once more he was forced to relax his labors on account of ill health, and spent the winter of 1889 at 1890 in California, and then accepted the offer of the Principalship of Herdied Academy, where he remained until 1893. Returning to Chicago once more, Mr. McCalla became interested with his sons in the McCalla-Wilson Co, mfrs of fruit preserves and fruit syrups, which was founded in 1894, of which he was President from 1902. He was also President of the McCalla-Reichert Co, scientific instruments, and of the Calumet Car Co, rebuilders of old cars. He was a Fellow and Trustee of the American Microscopical Society, Fellow of the Royal Societies of London, England, Fellow and Secretary and President of the State Microscopical Society of Illinois; member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, and was a member of, and one of the Founders of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity in the old Chicago University.

Albert McCalla was married May 16th, 1871, to Miss Eleanor Nancy Hamill, daughter of Hon. Smith and Nancy (McCandless) Hamill, of Keokuk, Iowa, early settlers of Iowa, and they became the parents of the following children: Helen Wayne (McCalla), who is unmarried; Thomas Clarendon (McCalla), who married Emily Antoinette Broe at New Orleans, La, June 8th, 1909, and they have a son, Thomas Clarendon (McCalla), Jr, born 4/10/1910; Smith Hamill (McCalla) who died in infancy; Lieut-Col Lee A. (McCalla) who married Grace Isabel Stevens, at Chicago, Ill; June 16th, 1909, and they have a son David (McCalla), born December 2, 1911; and Paul Hamill (McCalla) who is unmarried.

The long and useful life of Albert McCalla was terminated by death June 6th, 1918, when he was laying plans for further efforts in behalf of his fellows. He carried into his business life the same high principles of action which characterized him in the Ministry and educational field, and all were benefited who came into contact with him. The candidates of the Republican party had in him a strong supporter. His fraternal connections were with the Owls."

AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL STATEMENT OF ALBERT McCALLA, (Written by ALBERT McCALLA):

"I, Albert McCalla, was born at Bloomington, Monroe County, Indiana, on Tuesday, Dec. 1st, 1846, was baptized by the Rev. Wm. Turner in the Assoc. Reformed Presbyterian Church at Bloomington, May 1847. On Tuesday, 5/11/1852, we left Bloomington, together with Dr. R. C. Hamill family (my Uncle) in a six-horse state coach chartered for the occasion, with Col. Snodgrass driver, and stopping over Sunday at Bloomington, Illinois, we arrived at Chicago at 3 PM, Monday May 18th, 1852, and stopped at Uncle Alfred Davisson's, 77 Clark Street, for several days. Our last dinner on the road was at Washington Heights, (now Blue Island).

We moved into a house on the North-east corner of Linzie and North Dearborn Sts, on 6/1/1852, and stayed until May 1st, 1853; we then moved to North Michigan St, between Clark and LaSalle Sts, and remained six(6) months. November 1st, 1853, we moved to 99 East Washington St, which Father bought, where we lived until the house was burned down 8/5/1857. On Wednesday, 3/16/1857, Father died at 8 PM, from the effects of a surgical operation performed by Dr. Brainerd on Monday morning, 5/16/1857. In May the house was raised to grade and repaired. In June I went to Bloomington(ind), to spend the summer. On 6/23/1857, Mother, Ella and I, after the fire, went to Aemia, Ohio, and then to Bloomington, Indiana, where all spent the winter of 1857-8, I being at Cole's Academy there. On 3/22/1858, we returned to Chicago and remained until the next Spring at Dr. R. C. Hamill's, at 255 Wabash Avenue. On 5/1/1859, we rented 315 Wabash Ave, four doors North of Congress St, where we stayed until 5/1/1865, when we moved to 76 Twelfth Street, and stayed one year. I was a student at Jones School, Willard Woodward, Principal, from April 1858, to December 1859, when I was admitted to the High School, from which I graduated in June 1864. I was employed as Correspondence Clerk and Buying Agent at Echenck's Concentrated Feed Co, from 1864 to 1865, and then in August 1865, at Fuller, Finch and Fuller's, whence I went, on 9/10/1865, to college at Monmouth, Ill, entering the Sophomore class. I made the Junior year and graduated 4th in a class of 35. We left 76 Twelfth St, on 5/1/1866, and Mother and Ella went to Uncle Hamill's to board at 629 Wabash Ave (now 1300 So. Wabash). On 7/9/1866, Mother, Ella and I went to Courtland, NY, and spent the summer, also at New York and Philadelphia, returning to Chicago on 8/29/1866. Mother and Ella went to Mr Aldison Ballard's, 96 Monroe St, to board on 9/4/1866, and I went to College the same evening, coming home for Christmas 1866. (During) Spring vacation in April 1867, David Hamill, Aaron Hamill and I visited Mrs Annie Hamill, at St Louis, at 1318 Washington Avenue. Mother and Ella left Mr Ballard's the same time and went to Uncle Hamill's at 629 Wabash Avenue.

 of 35, Mother and Ella being present. After a short stay in Chicago, we three went to Bloomington, Indiana, and spent the Summer. We returned in time, 9/3/1867, to superintend the completion of our new house at 631 (now 1302) So. Marsh Ave., and on 9/10/1867, I entered Northwestern Theological Seminary, (later called McCormick, and now called Presbyterian), to prepare for the ministry. We moved into 631 on November 1, 1867, and I lived at home and went 5 miles each day to the Seminary and 5 miles back again; and engaged in the Mission work in the First Presbyterian Church and the Mission. Spent the Summer of 1868 chiefly at home, visited Keokuk, Iowa, and in Christmas, 1868, as in September 1867. Continued at N-W Seminary during 1868-9, and was licensed to preach the Gospel by the Presbytery of Chicago (NS) on April 14th, 1869, and went to Libertyville, Ill., to preach for the Summer. Was blessed with a gracious revival, 25 or 30 converted, and a Presbyterian Church organized there. On 10/1/1869, I went to New York and Union Theological Seminary, spent a delightful year, seeing, learning much, preaching nearly every Sunday in City and vicinity, graduated May 9th, 1870.

Returned to Chicago, via Philadelphia, calling at Dr. Z. H. Humphrey's, and at Washington, DC, and via B & O Ry. Went to Kansas, preached for classmate Reed at Manhattan, (Kan), visited Salina, Emporia, Humboldt, and was on my way to Baxter Springs, - was providentially detained, and brought back to Emporia, and received an invitation to become a Supply, with a view to a call. Returned to Chicago 7/31/1870, as our house there was sold, and packed up the things and saw Mother settled, and then back to Kansas, and began preaching at Emporia; was called as Pastor, accepted and was installed at first meeting of the Presbytery of Emporia on 10/16/1870, one of the four new Presbyteries into which the State was divided by the Reconstruction Synod. Back to Chicago in December 1870, and moved Mother and Ella and our things out, 12/16/1870, having bought Dr. Newman's house at 73 State St., and to housekeeping. Went to Keokuk, Iowa, in May 1871, and 5/16/1871, was married to Eleanor H. Hamill. Started next morning to Chicago, where I was a Delegate to the General Assembly, which met the 18th of May in the First Presbyterian Church. Returned via St. Louis, where we spent 4 days at Mayor Thomas's, then to Emporia. In May, 1872, went to Keokuk, Iowa, Chicago and Colorado, camping out there through July with Dr. Craig's party of 16. In October resigned pastorate in Emporia, and returned to Chicago, bought house at 131 35th St., (corner Vernon Avenue), and Mother, wife and baby (Helen), and Ella moved in on 12/24/1872 - very cold.

Mother and I spent February to April in the South for my throat. February 1874, I went again to Colorado, and in 1875 took third trip to Colorado to finish building house in Manitou, whither I had intended moving, when the crash of 1873 cramped our means. 9/8/1875, began work as Professor of Mathematics at Parson's College, Fairfield, Iowa, began housekeeping there 10/20/1875, Mother and Ella joining us there. In 1876, my chair was changed to Mathematics and Natural Sciences; in 1878 to Mathematics and Physics; in 1879 to Physics and Natural Sciences; in 1882 to Physical Sciences, in 1886 became Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy at Lake Forest University, Lake Forest, Illinois. In the Summer of 1888 went west again to Colorado, and on to California; remaining there until 1890. August 1890 moved my family out to Merced, California, where I took charge of Merced Academy, leaving my eldest son, Thomas, with Grandfather (Smith) Hamill, of Keokuk, Iowa. Albert McCalla.

"Rev. Albert McCalla, DD, MA, PhD, FRMS, is descended from Thomas McCalla, Sr, who was of Scotch descent, born in North Ireland, and who with his brother, David McCalla, Jr, came to America in 1763. Thomas lived in Philadelphia, and married Sarah Wyne Gardiner, of Piqua, Penna, in 1775. Sarah, in her Mother's side, was the "Favorite Cousin" of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne, and she became a famous heroine of the Revolutionary War, as set forth in Mrs Ellet's "Women of the American Revolution." This Thomas served in the Revolutionary War, and later went to Chester, South Carolina, where his brother, David, Jr, had established an Estate known as "Hazelwood" - which is still in the family after 173 years.

Rev. Albert's Grandfather was Samuel McCalla, who came from Chester, SC, to Bloomington, Ind, and was one of the early settlers there. His son, John, married Elizabeth Wylie, whose father was the founder of, and first President of, Indiana University, at Bloomington, Ind. His eldest son, Thomas McCalla, brother of John McCalla, came to Chicago in 1852, where he became a pioneer banker, and a large Real Estate operator of that day, building the first 4-story, and the first 5-story building in Chicago. He also gave the first contract to young George A. Pullman, (who had come to him (with a letter of introduction from Albion, NY), to raise his block-long row of buildings on Lake St, when the city voted to raise the street level up out of the mud. He was to have had a half-interest in the Pullman Car Co, having set aside $25,000. for this purpose. But this was prevented by his sudden death in an accident with a horse. He also built, and gave to the Congregation, a United Presbyterian Church of Chicago, and brought the Minister from Edinburgh, and paid his salary - because that Congregation was poor.

Rev. Albert was born in Bloomington, Ind, 12/1/1846, coming to Chicago with his parents when he was a boy of 6 years. The family lived at old number 99 Washington St, next door to the present Methodist Temple, and where the present Chicago Title & Trust Co. building stands. There the Father died. Rev. Albert attended the famous Jones public school, at Harrison & Plymouth Court, Chicago, where so many noted Chicagoans received their education. He also attended the old Chicago High School, where he received the "Foster Medal" for scholarship, a much-coveted medal of that day. He also studied one winter at Cole's Academy, in Bloomington, Indiana.

Rev. Albert graduated from Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill, on 6/26/1867, with the MA Degree, and there he was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He entered Northwestern Theological Seminary, later called McCormick and now known as Presbyterian Seminary, at Pullerton & N. Halsted Streets, Chicago, and continued there until 1869. He was licensed to preach as a Missionary Minister, by the Presbytery of Chicago, on April 14th, 1869. He then went to Libertyville, Illinois, to do Mission Preaching for the Summer. He conducted a Revival, and some 25 or 30 souls were saved, and the present Libertyville Presbyterian Church was organized. That Fall he went East to take Post-graduate studies at Union Theological Seminary, in New York, from which he graduated on 6/30/1870, with the PhD Degree. He became a Missionary Minister in Northern Illinois, Iowa, and particularly in Kansas, where his tiny Mission Church at Emporia, Kansas, had "a Buffalo Farm on one side, and Indians on the other." He also served in Colorado, particularly near Canon, Colo, where he had a Summer home. (SEE NEXT PAGE).

Meanwhile, Rev. Albert had married Honey Eleanor Hamill in May 1871, at her home in Keokuk, Iowa, where her father had founded the S. Hamill Co, Wholesale Grocers and Coffee Roasters, and had also led in founding the Iowa State Insurance Co, and had also been a member of the Iowa Legislature in the formative period of the State.

Bronchitis, Laryngitis, and poor health caused him to make many trips to Colorado and especially California, for recuperation, where he preached, whenever able. He had always been much interested in Scientific subjects as a hobby, particularly in Microscopy. He became a member of, and later President of, the Illinois Microscopical Society. He likewise became a member of, and later in 1882-3 became President of, The American Microscopical Society. He helped to organize and was President of the Fairfield (Iowa) Microscopical Club in 1881-2. He wrote and published many articles, pamphlets, and monographs on Microscopical subjects, such as Diatoms, etc. He did a great deal of Research on Diatoms, and on Fungus Growths, etc. He invented a Polarizer for Microscopical Research, and also developed an Oil Emulsion for Microscopical use. Many Scientists wrote him frequently about his inventions, developments, improvements, and about his studies for the improvement of Microscopical Research. He also discovered and classified so many Diatoms, Germs and Growths. He was also a remarkable Mathematician, and was deeply interested in Astronomy, and had many Astronomers as his friends.

Rev. Albert owned several fine Microscopes, one of which, a fine old English model, is now on display at the Illinois Microscopical Society, in the Chicago Academy of Sciences Bldg, in Lincoln Park, at N. Clark & Armitage Ave, Chicago. He had quite a collection of slides also. He was years ahead of his time, and had he lived in these days, he probably would have had much to do with the development of such healing agents developed from Mould, as Penicillin, Streptomycin, etc.

By virtue of his Scientific attainments, Rev. Albert was invited to become a Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society, of London, England (F.R.M.S.). He also belonged to several other organizations, such as the Owls Club, made up of Scientists, Astronomers, Microscopists, Research Engineers, etc. He was also a member of the Sons of the Revolution, Illinois Chapter, and of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, etc.

Rev. Albert had 5 children, as follows:

Miss Helen-Wayne McCalla, of Chicago.

Mr Thomas Clarendon McCalla, Sr, of Hammond, Indiana, who married Emily Antoinette Bros.

Smith Hamill McCalla, who died in Infancy.

Colonel Lee Albert McCalla, (deceased) who married Grace Isabel Stevens, and was on the US General-Staff, under Genl. Pershing, in World War I.

Paul Hamill McCalla, an Advertising man, of Chicago.

Rev. Albert died in Chicago on June 6th, 1918, during World War I. But his good works and his scientific attainments live after him. The Libertyville Presbyterian Church, which he founded, is now a large, thriving, Church. Likewise, many small Missions, which he founded, have grown into large, successful Churches. And the two Microscopical Societies, each of which he headed at times, have grown in Scientific standing. His microscopes, pamphlets and slides, are held as interesting and inspirational records of the days in which he lived - and Science marches on in its labor of saving lives. For as the Bible says:

"All things shall be overcome. And the last thing to be overcome - is Death."

Helen Wayne MacCalla was Secretary for Illinois in 1933, for the Wakefield National Memorial Association, of the D.A.R., under Mrs Saml. Williams Earle. This Association rebuilt Wakefield, Virginia, the Birthplace of George Washington, as a National Shrine. (SEE OTHER SIDE). (5/11/1956).

Helen was a member of the historic 1st Presbyterian Church of Chicago for many years, until it moved far out on the South side. Then she transferred to the 2nd Presby. Church, in whose Missionary work she was much interested, and she was often called upon to lead the Meeting of its Missionary Society. She is also much interested in the Woman's Auxiliary of the 2nd Presbyterian Church, and has been its Secretary since 9/27/1931. The Ladies in the Auxiliary sew for the Presbyterian Hospital, which was Founded (1833-34) by Helen's Grand-Uncle, Dr Robert C. Hamill, MD, (H-262). Due to a consolidation with the Episcopal Hospital, this hereafter (5/11/1956) is to be known as the Presbyterian-St Luke's Hospital.

On 6/15/1945, Helen suffered a very badly broken ankle, and has been forced to use a crutch, if not in the house, at least outside on the street.

Helen lived with her brother, Paul Hamill McCalla, (The Compiler), in the old family home (for 35 years) at 2516 Calumet Ave, Chicago. Due to Negro encroachments into the neighborhood, she and her brother moved (1/30/1944) to an apartment at 2320 Cottage Grove Ave, (Apt 3), Chicago (16), Ill. Because of still further Negro invasions, she and her brother moved (11/23/1955) to 3802 W. Chicago Ave, Chicago (51), Illinois - where they live (5/11/1956).

Morton Woods Told to Plan Life's Work. Thomas C. MacCalla, Jr., head of the Planning and Development Division of the Kellogg Co., of Battle Creek, Mich was the principal speaker at Hammond's Morton Junior High School graduating exercises held in the school auditorium Tuesday. MacCalla advised the '52 graduates to continue their schooling, but to begin the planning of their life work now. "Too many people drift along until they have to plan backwards," he said. (52 graduates are listed, including Eileen Antoinette ("Toni") MacCalla, (M-561-321-1), and Donna Roknik).

"Thomas MacCalla Named Head of City Planners. Thomas C. MacCalla, Jr., of 37 Gordon Boulevard, head of the Experimental and Development Engineering Department of the Eaton Mfg. Co., Valve Division, was elected Chairman of the Battle Creek city Planning Commission at the meeting of the planners Tuesday evening. Mr MacCalla succeeds Charles Merz, who announced last evening that he is submitting his resignation from the Planning Commission to the City Commission. Mr Merz served 2 years as Chairman of the planning body, during which the work on the city's master plan was completed.....In taking over the Chairmanship, Mr MacCalla expressed his appreciation to Mr Merz "for excellent piloting" of the planners during the studies and formulation of the master plan.....

Council is Elected: The planners elected Mr Conklin to the Vice-Chairmanship formerly held by Mr MacCalla, and they reelected Mrs Meta Wooden as assistant Secretary. Sam J. Stellrecht, city planning Engineer, is the full-time Secretary for the Planners. The new Chairman, Mr MacCalla, has been on the Planning Commission for more than 4 years. At 42, he is the youngest Chairman the Planning Commission has had during its 10 years of existence, and he is the first Engineer to head the Commission. Mr MacCalla holds degrees in both Mechanical and Electrical Engineering from Purdue University. A native of Hammond, Ind, he came to Battle Creek in 1940 to work for the Kellogg Co. as Chief Draftsman. Early in the 2nd World War, he joined the Navy as a Radio and Communications Officer, and served 5 years. He returned to the Kellogg Co. following the War and served for a time as Maintenance Engineer. Two years ago he joined the Eaton Mfg. Co., when the Experimental and Development Department was established.

His Father, the late Thomas C. MacCalla, Sr., was resident Superintendent for the Indiana State Board of Health in Northwestern Indiana for a number of years. Mr MacCalla is married and is the Father of 4 children. He is a member of the Battle Creek Zoning Board of Appeals, and recently was elected Vice-Chairman of this Board."

(From: A Battle Creek, Michigan, Newspaper-April , 1953):

"Tom MacCalla, new Chairman of the City Planning Commission, should be commended for his devotion to Civic activities. Tom also is a member of the city Zoning Board of Appeals and he was advised of a meeting of the Board when he departed Sunday on a business trip to New York City. So Tom had his Hotel clerk call him at 5.30 AM yesterday so he could catch the 7 AM plane back to Battle Creek. As it was, Tom was only 3 minutes late for the session.

search and Development Engineering Department; Jack C. Sprague, Asst, Metallurgist, and Don Williams, Process Engineer. The objective of the meeting opening Monday in New York City, is the immediate expansion of American aeronautic production by developing ways of breaking thru current bottle-necks. The meeting is the Society's aeronautic production forum, which has been combined with the SAE national aeronautic meeting and engineering display. Believing that one chief factor for delay is lack of know-how, SAE has scheduled 10 informal gatherings for exchange of production information for the entire day Monday in the Hotels McAlpin and Governor Clinton....."

(From: Battle Creek, Mich, "Record"-October 22, 1953):

"The Man of the Week. Interesting things keep happening in the life of Thomas MacCalla and, even tho he would be the last person in the world to admit it, he can take a good share of the credit for that fact. What's more, it is our belief that they are going to keep on happening to him and that the community is going to be one of the chief beneficiaries of these interesting happenings. For example, Tom appeared before the City Commission a few years ago in the role of the typical "indignant citizen" and, as a direct result of the impression he made then and on subsequent appearances, he is today Chairman of Battle Creek's Planning Commission.

When Mr MacCalla was a Mechanical Engineering student at Purdue University, he also attended all faculty meetings because he was teaching a course on Electrical Engineering to his own Mechanical Engineering classmates. (Incidentally he was an honor student and, in his 'spare time', was night Engineer for the University's Radio Station). A little later, when Power Custer, Personnel Director of the Kellogg Co, visited Purdue and talked with Tom (then a full-time Instructor) about prospective candidates for employment he ended up by persuading him to return to Kelloggs, where he had previously been employed. The variety of his talents and interests help account for the fact that life never has ~~been~~ a dull moment for Mr MacCalla.

He has been a licensed Radio Operator since 1927 - he was 16 when first licensed. He is fond of sailboating and one of his pleasurable memories of his first period with the Kellogg Co. is that of having been invited by W.K. Kellogg to sail the "Elizabeth" at Gull Lake - both for his own pleasure and to entertain guests at the Kellogg estate. Not the least interesting aspect of Tom's life - and the one for which a very substantial share of the credit goes to someone else - is his family. Even this has its unusual aspect, for Mr and Mrs MacCalla (she is the former Miss Alice Connor of Chicago) became the parents of their 5th child four months ago, and expect to have their first Grandchild next month. (The MacCalla children are Mrs Joseph (Eileen Antoinette) Grindler, 21, of Chicago; Penelope 12; Thomas, III; Michael David 5; and Mary Alice, 4 months). They reside at 84 Orchard Place.

Space forbids a detailed resume of Tom's vocational career, but it is as varied and interesting as the rest of his life. He was born in Chicago and educated in Hammond, Ind. He was an apprentice in a sign shop, a Radio service man, and an Engineering employee of Shell Oil Co, after taking an Electrical Engineering course in Purdue in 1931-33. Meanwhile he became an Ensign and Radioman in the Naval Reserves, serving briefly in the Navy during World War II until he was discharged early in the War due to complications resulting from pneumonia.

Following that, he had his first hitch at the Kellogg Co, as a Project Engineer, leaving to enter a milling business in the East, which failed to develop as hoped. As already mentioned, he was back at Purdue as student and Instructor until he returned to Kelloggs, where he became Chief Draftsman and Maintenance Engineer of the Battle Creek plant. He left there to head the now Experimental and Development plant at Eaton's, where he is still employed.

Tom and his wife have always been interested in Community affairs. They have been active in PTA work, and he is former Skipper of the local Sea Scout troop. He is a member of Masonic Lodge # 419, and Lakeview Kiwanis Club. It was while he was a resident of the newly-developed Orchard Park area that Tom appeared before the City Commission in quest of better Bus service, more street lights, and other improvements. As a result of both public and private contacts with the Commission, and particularly former Mayor William Bailey (who was impressed by the combination of interest and keenness in matters of Community concern which Tom displayed), he was named to the City Planning Commission. He was on that Commission at the time the new Zoning ordinance was adopted and continued on the reconstituted Planning Commission. Last April (1953) he was elected Chairman when Charles Merz retired voluntarily.

In this position, Tom has revealed one of his outstanding traits - a passion for facts. Doubtless that is a part of his Engineering training and methods, altho we suspect it is fundamentally a part of Tom MacCalla. In any event, it is a quality which will continue to prove of benefit to the community - especially since Tom has recently been named by the City Commission as a member of the Board of Review, by virtue of which he is also a member of the Calhoun County Board of Supervisors. Tom is undertaking this new assignment with the typical expectation of finding it an interesting experience. Our guess is that he won't be disappointed. To avoid creating any pre-judgments in either Tom's mind or that of his associates on the Board of Supervisors, we'll let it go at that."

(From: A Battle Creek, Mich, Newspaper-January __, 1956):

"Petitions Seek Reelection of MacCalla to Commission. Nominating petitions to qualify Commissioner Thomas C. MacCalla, Jr., of 84 Orchard Place, as a candidate for reelection to a 2nd term on the City Commission, were placed in circulation here today. Mr MacCalla is Sales Engineer for the Aircraft Division of the Eaton Mfg. Co. here. He first sought public office 2 years ago when he was elected to his first term on the City Commission. A native of Hammond, Ind, he came to Battle Creek in 1940 to work for the Kellogg Co., following his graduation from Purdue University with Degrees in both Mechanical and Electrical Engineering. As City Commissioner, he served as Public Works Commissioner during his first year on the Commission, and since last April, he has been Building and Grounds Commissioner.

Mr MacCalla served in the Navy during World War II, and he returned here after his military service, rejoining the Kellogg Co. About 5 years ago, he joined the Eaton. Mfg. Co. here. Before becoming a member of the City Commission, Mr MacCalla served as Chairman of the City Planning Commission. He also has served on the City Board of Review, and as city representative on the County Board of Supervisors. He is married and is the father of five children, and last month he and his Wife observed their 25th Wedding Anniversary. Mr MacCalla is the first of the 2 Commissioners whose terms expire this Spring to announce his candidacy. The term of City Commissioner Frank L. Murray also expires this Spring....."

"Character Fits Toni MacCalla Best. Toni MacCalla, that happy-go-lucky red-head, is one of Central's real individualists. She started School here in her Junior year, transferred from Hammond, Indiana, where she was born on October 13, 1931. Toni is probably best known for her roles in "Best Foot Forward", and in the recent "Fly Away Home." She was in the P.T.S.C. show last Fall as well. Besides her dramatic activities, she finds time to attend meetings of the Book, Latin and Pen Pals Clubs, the horse-back riding group, and the commencement program committee. They keep her busy.

Toni has remarked that she likes all music from "bebop" to Classical, but her favorite is "Mood Indigo." She is one of those knitting fiends, and her other hobbies include reading, acting, joking and eating Tomato sandwiches. Toni's latest dramatic success came with her performance of "Fly Away Home." She held the coveted role of Nan Masters, a glamorous career woman, with a family of four. Toni will long be remembered as one of Central's talented actresses."

"Not the fundamentals - punctuation, spelling, grammar - you learn that all right. But how to put words together to tell a story better." She said this training ought to get beyond the confines of elementary English composition, and teach professional writing that helps to get ideas across....."

Saturday morning to become the bride of Joseph Edward Grindler of Chicago. Sentiment also was attached to the lace handkerchief she carried, for it has been a part of the wedding ensemble of brides in six generations of her family.

The ceremony, conducted by the Rev. Fr. Gerald A. Owens, was held at 10.30 o'clock. The former Miss MacCalla is the daughter of Mr and Mrs T.C. MacCalla, Jr, of 37 Gordon Blvd, and the Bridegroom is the son of Mr and Mrs George Grindler of Chicago. Mr MacCalla escorted his daughter to the Altar for the double ring service. Attending the couple were Miss Loretta Hallett as Maid of Honor and Donald Grindler of Chicago, brother of the Groom, as Best Man. The Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Roknick of Hammond, Ind, and Miss Patricia Grindler of Chicago, sister of the Groom, and Penelope MacCalla, sister of the Bride, as Junior Bridesmaid. Seating the guests were William Needham and Albert Broderson, both of Chicago, and Thomas C. MacCalla, III, brother of the Bride. Young Thomas was a Junior Usher.

The Bride's gown of shadowed organdy was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, elongated waistline and long skirt, and was worn over a full underslip. Her lace Juliet cap, which was trimmed with the orange blossoms, held a short veil. She carried a white orchid with streamers on a prayerbook and wore a string of pearls, gift of the Bridegroom. Miss Hallett and the Bridesmaids were dressed alike in shadowed organdy gowns made like that of the Bride except that they were sleeveless and featured wing collars. Their flowered Juliet caps and gauntlet mitts matched their gowns and they carried Colonial bouquets of roses. Miss Hallett was in yellow, Miss Roknick in green, Miss Grindler in pink and young Penelope in lavender. Mrs George Dodd sang two numbers accompanied at the organ by Raimond Keldermans. Palms and Queen Anne baskets of white gladioli decorated the Church and Candelabra and a bouquet of white gladioli stood on the Altar. A reception and buffet luncheon followed in the parlors of the First Congregational Church. Assisting were Miss Angeline Roknick of Hammond, Miss Barbara Anderson, Miss Davette Britton and members of the Parish circle of the Church. Decorations were all in silver and white. Later, friends and relatives were invited to an open house at the home of the Bride's parents.

When the newlyweds left on a wedding trip through Wisconsin, Mrs Grindler wore a beige silk shantung suit with beige and white accessories. Her flowers were white orchids. They will reside at 7143 Yale Avenue in Chicago after August 11(1952). The Bride is a 1949 graduate of Battle Creek High School. She attended Western Michigan College, and has been employed by the Traffic Department of the Kellogg Co. Mr Grindler, who is a student at the University of Chicago, is employed by the Chicago Park District police force. A rehearsal supper was given Friday at the home of the Bride's Uncle and Aunt, Mr and Mrs Carl Buehler, 19 Cliff (Street)." (Picture of the Bride).

Colonel Lee Albert McCalla was Baptized as Albert Lee McCalla, but preferred to be known as Lee A. McCalla. He was born 2/6/1878 at 11 PM, in the family home at 515 North "N" Street, in Fairfield, Iowa, with Dr Richard J. Mohr, MD, as attending Physician. He also lived as a boy in Lake Forest, Ill., (Chicago suburb), in Merced, California, and in Chicago, Ill. His Father took all his children hunting, fishing and camping at a very early age, and while in Merced, with Yosemite Park close by, he was taught to shoot - and to hit what he aimed at. This probably accounts for the unusual number of marksmanship medals he won in later life. While in Merced, he knew the County Sheriff, who lived nearby and who was fond of Lee - and he gave Lee an interesting old "fanning" Revolver which had belonged to "3-Fingered Jack" (Jauquin Murietta), whom the Sheriff had captured in the high country behind Yosemite. He also gave Lee another desperado's Revolver, which he had likewise captured. Lee, before his death, gave these 2 interesting old Revolvers to The Adventurer's Club of Chicago - of which Lee and his 2 brothers were members.

Lee was educated at Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Ill., (Chicago suburb), which was Founded by a Kinsman, Mr Sylvester Lind, (Lind "X" - See Lind Section - McCalla Genealogy). Lee was a member of the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, and was a member of The Adventurer's Club of Chicago. Most of his life he was a Salesman, and for years had his own Sales Agency in Detroit, Michigan - selling mostly Heat Treating and other Heavy Machinery. On 7/27/1938 his address was North End Postal Station, and he lived at 6016 John R. Street, Detroit, Mich.

Lee, in 1914 and 1917, conceived the idea of putting down in Genealogical form - using the Decimal Numbering System, which he invented as applying to Genealogy - the numerous loose bits of McCalla-Hemphill family history, which his family had accumulated. In March, 1917, he visited Chester and Abbeville, South Carolina, and gathered much additional data. In Chester he was greatly aided by his Kinswoman, Mrs Riley Mood Strange, (Mary McKenzie Wylie) (M-221-34 & Hemp.B-221-34), and also by others of the Kinfolk, who gave him much information. Mrs Wm. Pinckney Greene, Sr, (Mary Isabella Hemphill) (Hemp.A-562-3), of Abbeville, SC, also gave him much data on Hemphills. - From that start has grown the present large McCalla Genealogy - which was later greatly expanded by Lee's younger brother, Paul H. McCalla, (The Compiler) (M-125-65 & Hemp.A-511-35). A Companion Book, The Hamill Genealogy, (our Mother's people), was Originated and Compiled wholly by Paul, however, using the same Decimal Numbering System originated by Lee.

Lee, as a young man, was in the 1st Illinois Infantry, (now the 131st Ill. Infantry), and while serving in the Spanish-American War in 1898, he transferred to Troop A of the 1st Ill. Cavalry, (now the 122nd Field Artillery). Later, he was chosen as Aid-de-Camp on the Staff of Governor Charles S. Deneen, under Brigadier-General Edward C. Young. During World War 1, he was a Major in the 342nd Field Artillery, 89th Division, and trained under General Leonard Wood, at Fort Riley, Kansas. For brief periods, he was Special Instructor at Ft Sheridan, Ill., etc. In France, after battle service, wounds and shell shock, he was Commissioned Lieut-Colonel, and later as full Colonel on the General Staff, (D-4, Personnel), at Chaumont, France, under General Pershing, for the duration of World War 1. After the War, in civil life, he was a Colonel in the Reserve Corps. It is interesting to note that while General Wood was in disfavor politically with the Administration, and was shunted aside, his troops were considered so good that Lee and his outfit were ordered into the front lines directly from the ship, and fought, without rest periods, so intensely that for 30 days, Lee did not even have an opportunity to take off his clothing.

Lee, after being wounded by splinters from a high-explosive shell, and shell shock, and being knocked from a high observation post, so that in falling he also broke several bones - was first sent to a General Hospital and then to a Hospital on the Riviera. There in the Hospital he again took the

Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of various factors on the growth of a specific plant species.

The study was conducted in a controlled environment over a period of six months.

The first part of the study involved the selection of the plant species and the establishment of the experimental design. The second part involved the collection and analysis of data.

The results of the study show that there is a significant correlation between the factors studied and the growth of the plant species.

The study also found that the growth of the plant species is influenced by a number of other factors, including soil quality and light intensity.

The findings of this study have important implications for the understanding of plant growth and development.

The study was conducted in a controlled environment, which allowed for the isolation of the factors being studied.

The results of the study are presented in the following sections.

examination for the General Staff, and passed with a very high mark - something like 98.2%. Years before, Lee had been chosen for the General Staff, in the event of war. But due to the political reason of training under General Wood, who was in disfavor with the Administration, and due to Lee's favoring of General Billy Mitchell and his advocacy of the Airplane in warfare, Lee was also shunted aside and was not called to the General Staff. Now however, after again passing the General Staff examination with such a very high mark, there was no chance of again shunting him aside for political reasons - and he was then appointed as a Colonel and ordered to General Staff duty at Chaumont, France.

Lee, before the entry of the US into World War 1, volunteered his help in special volunteer Espionage work against German Agents, with his brother, Paul H. McCalla, (H-125-65 & Hemp.A-511-35), and his brother, Capt. Thomas C. McCalla, (H-125-62 & Hemp.A-511-32), who were also volunteers. He greatly aided Paul in collecting evidence against Carl Tascher, William Otto, and other dangerous Agents of the German Ausziger Amt, (Foreign Office), who were shipped back to Germany.

Lee met, usually in New York or Washington, Admiral Bowman H. McCalla, USN, (See "Other McCallas Section" - Family B-Page B-751-McCalla Genealogy), who as a Commander, with Admiral Dewey, at the Battle of Manila, was a hero of the Spanish-American War. He and Lee had many pleasant visits and talks, and Lee also met Admiral McCalla's son-in-law, Captain Arthur MacArthur, 3rd, USN, (Mary Hendry McCalla) ("Other McCallas Section" - Family B-Page B-751-1). The latter was an older brother of General Douglas MacArthur, USA, and Lee also met the latter at these family gatherings. It is known that Douglas MacArthur secretly favored General Billy Mitchell for his views on the necessity of developing Air Power in the Army. When Mitchell was crucified for his advanced - but correct - ideas, MacArthur secretly aided him in his trial, and in other ways. Lee also believed in Mitchell, and in Airplanes in warfare - and was on that side of the fence, a position that was not popular at that time. So there was a very friendly meeting of opinion between Lee and the MacArthur and the Admiral - and other advocates of Billy Mitchell and his plans for Air Power in warfare.

Lee was given by Admiral McCalla, the short Naval Sword which he had carried at the Battle of Manila. This sword Lee gave to his Nephew, Thomas C. McCalla, Junior, (H-125-621 & Hemp.A-511-321), as the latter was in the Naval Reserve, and also interested in Radio.

Lee was also given the Civil War Sword carried by Capt. Henry Laurens McCalla, (M-366), who was with an Indiana Regiment at the Battle of Shiloh, in the Civil War. Lee also had his own Cavalry Sword, which he wore in the 1st Illinois Cavalry, during the Spanish-American War. This sword, with his Cavalry Uniform, was given to the Chicago Historical Society-Chicago, after Lee's death.

Lee lost the hearing in one ear as the result of shell shock in World War 1. Later in life he contracted Sleeping Sickness, (Encephalitis Lethargica), which was not properly diagnosed or treated by the Doctors of Veteran's Hospitals, and after a few years, left as its "residual", Creeping Paralysis, or Parkinson's Disease. Many, many trips to Doctors, General Hospitals and Veteran's Hospitals failed to effect a cure, and while at the Veteran's Hospital at Camp Custer, (Battle Creek), Michigan, the nerve wastage reached the heart nerves, and he died. He spoke so often of the kindness of our McCallas-Hemphills in the South, and on his deathbed, left messages of kindest love for them.

Lee, at the time he left for World War 1, was a member of the historic 1st Presbyterian Church of Chicago, and his name was on the Honor Roll of its Soldiers, and his baby boy was on the Cradle Roll. So the funeral services at Graceland Chapel, 2/13/1940, were conducted by Rev. Harold L. Bowman, DD, of that Church. An unusually beautiful Flag service was given by John B. House, as the flag his Country had given him for twice serving it, was taken from the casket and presented to his family. And "Taps" were blown on the bugle in farewell. Lee had expressed a positive preference to be buried in the family lot, instead of at Arlington, Va. So he rests beside his Father, Rev. Albert McCallia, DD, MA, PhD, FRMS, in Lot J-615-C, Graceland Cemetery, Chicago. Four generations of the family sleep in Graceland in various lots.

On the day of the funeral, a meeting of the Daughters of 1812 gave a special tribute to the "brothers of the members" - to former Governor Charles S. Deneen, (who had recently died), and who was the brother of Mrs Dickson, and to Colonel Lee A. McCallia, who was the brother of Miss Helen Wayne McCallia, (H-125-61 & Hemp.A-511-31).

Grace Isabel Stevens is of English-Scotch-Canadian birth, but she and her sisters were all married to Americans. One sister is Mrs Ted Mackay, and whose daughter is Florence Mackay, (Mrs _____). Grace was Divorced from Lee in Chicago on 10/14/1926. Grace has been for several years a Private Secretary for a Jewish Lawyer in Chicago. In Canada, before coming to Chicago, she lived in Delta, Ontario, and in Parry Sound, Ontario, Canada. Grace lived (4/6/1947) % Mrs McCrystal, 337 Central Avenue, (Phone Highland Park 5338), and on 7/25/1950 she lived at 304 Central Ave, and in June 1954 she lived at 421 Central Ave, (Phone Highland Park 2-5338), Highland Park, Illinois, (Chicago suburb).

He was born in Fairfield, Iowa, February 6, 1878, and was a son of Rev. Albert McCalla, and Eleanor Nancy Hamill. He was educated at Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Illinois.

He served in the Illinois National Guard, First Illinois Infantry (now the 131st Illinois Infantry); and during the Spanish-American War transferred to the First Illinois Cavalry (now the 122nd Field Artillery) at which period he was a First Sergeant. Later he was Aide-de-Camp on the staff of the Governor of Illinois, under General Young.

During the World War he was a Major in the 342nd Field Artillery, 89th Division, and trained under General Leonard Wood, at Fort Riley, Kansas. In France after shell shock and wounds he was transferred to the General Staff at Chaumont, France, under General Pershing. At the time of his death he was in the Reserve Corps as Colonel.

On May 13, 1909, he was elected a member of the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution, in right of the Revolutionary War services of Thomas McCalla, born Sept. 15, 1756, in Colliemackie, County Antrim, Ireland, came to Pennsylvania before the war, and died in Chester, South Carolina, Oct. 15, 1811. In July, 1776, he enlisted in the Third Battalion of Rifemen, Pennsylvania Militia, serving in the battles of Long Island and White Plains. On Feb. 27, 1777, he enlisted in the Sixth Company, Eleventh Regiment, Pennsylvania Continental Line, Colonel Thomas Hartlev, and was in the battles of Brandywine and Eel River. In 1778 he went to South Carolina, and in June, 1779, he enlisted in Capt. John Steele's Company, Col. John McClure's Regiment, of Sumter's Army; was captured Aug. 18, 1780, at Fishing Creek, S. C.; and was exchanged early in 1781.

He was also a descendant of James M. Todd (1749-1815), Nathaniel Hamill, Sr. (1730-1799), and William Young, Jr. (1743-1820), who served with the Pennsylvania troops in the Revolutionary War.

He was also a descendant of John Hamill, Sr. (1779-1850), and John MacCandless (1783-1859), who served in the Pennsylvania Militia in the War of 1812.

Paul David Hamill McCalla, although baptized with 4 names, prefers and has always used the short form of "Paul D. McCalla." The "David" was in honor of his Mother's elder brother, Major David Brown Hamill (H-125-4), of Keokuk, Iowa, a greatly beloved and kindly man, and a splendid Uncle - but for purposes of brevity, the shorter name has always been used.

Paul was born at the corner of 7th St North, and 4th St West, in Fairfield, Iowa - where his Father was then aiding in starting the small Christian College of the Presbyterian Church, known as "Parson's College," where he taught the 1st class. Paul was baptized at Keokuk, Iowa, on Sunday, 9/14/1884, by Rev. T.M. Cleland, DD, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, at the home of his Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hamill, (H-125).

Paul, at the age of 2 years, in 1886, was brought with the family, to Lake Forest, Illinois (Chicago suburb), where his Father taught in Lake Forest Academy, an offshoot of Lake Forest College, which had been Founded by a distant relative, Mr. Sylvester Lind, (Lind & McCalla Genealogy), and which was originally called Lind University. Owing to ill health, his Father was forced to seek a milder climate, and the family moved to Merced, California, in 1890, and upon improvement in the Father's health, the family returned, first for a time to Keokuk, Iowa, and later to Chicago.

HIGH SCHOOL: Paul attended Chicago's schools, and the noted South Division High School, where he was one of the Founders of what has since become one of the largest High School and Preparatory School Fraternities, Sigma Gamma Pi - with chapters in practically every famous Preparatory School in America. The Co-Founders were Paul Moser, Lawyer and President of the Moser Business College, and Raymond M. Calkins, Jr., (deceased), son of the former President of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St Paul Ry, and who was later in charge of the Land Dept. of the Ry, under his Father. For several years Paul served as President of the Supreme Council - the Judiciary body of this large Fraternity, assisted by Mr. Ainslie Y. Sawyer, Vice-President of the Ryerson Steel & Iron Co, Mr. Arthur VanZandt Jennings, (deceased), who was Chicago District Sales Manager for the Marion (Ind) Paper Box Co, Mr. Morris M. Chaney, later Pres. Chaney Construction Co, of Cleveland, and other members. This body decided matters of policy, disputes, etc, and was the final governing authority of this large and growing Fraternity.

Paul was Business Manager and Asst-Editor of the School Paper ("Red & Black"), and was Political Boss of this large High School, choosing all class-officers, and managing student affairs. Also, Paul acted as Advertising Manager for The McCalla-Ross Co, (Preserves-Fruit Products), after school hours and on Saturdays. In soliciting advertising for the School Paper, and in serving The McCalla-Ross-Co, he thought it a good idea to start his own advertising business - so he called it the "Calumet Advertising" (SEE OTHER SIDE).

ing Agency" - and picked up a few dollars writing advs. for various concerns. - This was in 1902.

ARIZONA: As a result of all this overwork, Paul was forced to go to Arizona in 1904, upon leaving High School. In Phoenix, Arizona, he first lived on a new ranch owned by family friends, The Giles family of Chicago, and later on a new ranch owned by the Elliott Evans family of Philadelphia. There, on these ranches on the edge of the desert, he learned to shoot the abundant supply of rattlesnakes found thereabout. Later that winter, he was invited to work for the Wells-Fargo Express Co., under Captain Thomas Connell - a widely known and respected figure of those Arizona days - and under Mr Mark Thompson, who is now So-Cal. Supt. of the Ry Express Agency, at Los Angeles, Cal. (For further details see, on following Data Page, ("Paul H. McCalla's Experiences with Wells-Fargo Express Co."))

NEW ORLEANS: While in Arizona, Paul occasionally wrote advertising for various merchants - just to keep his hand in practice - and he returned to Chicago in October 1906. Paul thereupon resumed his position as Advertising Manager of The McCalla-Ross Co - but that winter was sent to New Orleans, La, by his employers, to manage their new factory there, where he remained about 2½ years. While there, he was raised to the Master Mason Degree, A.F. & A.M, in historic old St John's Lodge, in Algiers, Louisiana, (New Orleans suburb), which lodge is visited by so many Masons because of its quaint historic-interest; and which was then 150 years old, having been Founded-by early Ship Captains and Seamen. While there, he made many trips to Cuba, to buy Pineapples, and made a trip through many of the rougher parts of Central America, down to Bocas del Toro, Panama, and including also Limon and San Jose, Costa Rica. This latter trip was to investigate the possibility of shipping tropical fruits to the New Orleans factory. Also, while in New Orleans, Paul made several selling trips for the company thru the South - as far west as Texas and Oklahoma, and East to Georgia, Florida, etc. While in New Orleans, he did much fishing and prowling around in Bayous, Lakes and Rivers, on the motor cruiser of a friend, shooting alligators and water moccasins.

ADVERTISING: Upon his return to Chicago, Paul became Sales Promotion Manager for The Cable Co, and The Cable Piano Co, and also Asst-Adv. Mgr, under Mr Roy J. Cook, Secretary, under Mr Shaw, their then President, and under Mr G.W. Eddy, Treasurer. They were then the largest Piano manufacturers in the world, owning The Mason & Hamlin Co, of Boston, owning 60% interest in Knabe Piano Co, and heavy interests in Schiller and other piano companies - and having many branch retail stores scattered from Atlanta, Ga, and Jacksonville, Fla, to Minneapolis, Minn. After a year and a half with The Cable Co, he resigned to enter the advertising business as an independent Agent - and took The Cable Co account with him as his first principal account. (For further details see, on following Data Page, "Paul H. McCalla and the Calumet Advertising Company").

BOYHOOD: Paul lived in his boyhood in the near South Side neighborhood of Chicago - in those days called the "Gold Coast." It was in reality a settlement of New Englanders - for so many of the residents there came originally from Boston or nearby. The Baldwin family, of whom Scott Baldwin was a very close friend, and a distant relative on his Mother's Young family, came from there. (See Page Young-Y-B-III-Family B-Young Section -) (Hamill Genealogy). The Hoop family, who were also close friends and who came from Congers, at Springfield, Mass, were also distant relatives, having intermarried in the long ago with the Young and Elders of Paul's Mother. (See Introduction to Family A-Young Section-Hamill Genealogy). In the neighborhood also were the Whiteheads, who came from Pittsfield, Mass. Then there was the Marshall field family, who also came from Pittsfield, the Pullman family of sleeping car fame, who came from Albion, NY - and incidentally, Mr Pullman came first with a letter of introduction to Thomas (" Honest Tom") McCalla (1-301), the Grandfather of Paul. These New Englanders were the builders of Chicago, the Merchant Princes, the great Manufacturers, who made Chicago the wonder city of the world, and who (See Next Page).

caused it to have its motto: "I Will!" So most of Paul's neighborhood friends were New Englanders.

BOSTON: Paul's advertising work often took him to Boston, and on such trips he became acquainted with many of the older families of Boston, such as the Trains, Winslows, Welds, Soules, and others. For a time he was engaged to Miss Elizabeth Train, of the Franklin M. Train family of Brookline, Mass. But his father's sudden death and the debts and involvements that had to be paid off, used up Paul's $15,000. working capital, and took an immense amount of time to sell off old worn-out real estate for a pittance in advance of the Negro invasion of the South Side of Chicago. Meanwhile, Elizabeth Train married a NY Doctor. Many of the happiest days of Paul's life were spent in frequent trips to Boston, where his Calumet Ave neighbors had come from, and where he was engaged to Miss Train - and among those splendid kindly Boston people. The Trains were very intimate friends of the Baldwin family of Chicago. Elizabeth Train is a woman of great charm - and unusually talented in fine-line art work, having made many notable and expensive Book Plates for many of the leading families of the East.

SPY CHASING: Before the start of, and during World War I, Paul noted the activities of certain persons in Chicago, and believing them to be German Spies, started checking on their activities. This led on and on until he was able to present a complete case which broke up the activities of the Tyscher-Otto Gang of Chicago - who were all shipped back to Germany with Ambassador von Bernstorff. Paul did this Volunteer Intelligence work as a patriotic duty, and without any connection whatever with any US Govt. Dept, and entirely on his own time and at his own expense. (For further details see, on following Data Pages, "Paul A. McCalla's Intelligence work in World War I").

GENEALOGY: Paul's elder brother, Colonel Lee A. McCalla (H-125-34), about 1916-17, had started to gather together, in loose-leaf form, the various memos and genealogical notes gathered by the McCalla family. He devised the Decimal Numbering System, and Originated The McCalla Genealogy. In March, 1917, he visited Chester, South Carolina, and there was given such additional data about McCalla history. He was greatly aided by Mrs. Silva Hood Strange (Mary Elizabeth Pyllie) (H-221-34) of Chester, SC, who supplied much information, and who later was to become an enthusiastic deliverer for facts, proof, old MSS, Deeds, etc, relating to early McCallas-McPhalls - and who found the old authentic records that are such an important part of the McCalla book. For a time the Genealogy lay partly dormant, but in 1924, Paul took up the Torch where Lee had dropped it. Paul greatly extended and amplified The McCalla Genealogy with its Memphis Section, and in 1931, it consisted of 4 typewritten books. Additions have been made almost constantly down to 1947 - and each of the 4 Sets consists of 2 volumes, about 3 1/2" thick. Paul in 1924 also Originated The Hamill Genealogy, with its Young Section and other Sections, which was completed in 1931. This has now been Revised in 1947, and consists of 4 typewritten books, each some 2 1/4".

LIBRARY: In January, 1941, Paul and his sister, Miss Helen Mayne McCalla (H-125-61), who had lived in the old family home at 2316 Calumet Ave for 35 years (since 1909), moved into an apartment at 2320 Cottage Grove Ave (Apt 3), Chicago (16), Illinois. The terrific Negro invasion of the South Side of Chicago, like a cancer, had reached that part of the former "Gold Coast" at last, and many properties in that block had been purchased by Jews - who promptly crowded in Negroes at fantastic rents.

At the time of moving, Paul and Helen gave many family relics to various Museums, (See Data Page H-125-77), notably to the Chicago Historical Society. Paul had a number of books on Oriental subjects, due to his research at the time of writing his "Oriental Rugs in the Home." Tiffany of NY, had given Paul two of their fine books on rugs, and had aided him in many ways in the preparation of his own book. Paul gave their "Tiffany Studios Collection of Antique Chinese Rugs" (1908) to The Newberry Library, Chicago, with a number of other books. The Library Studies Collection of Notable Oriental Rugs" (1907) was given to the Oriental Institute Library (Univ. of Chicago), with several other rug books. To the Myerson Library of the Art Institute went "Types of Oriental Rugs" (by Edward Sullivan, U. of Chicago), "Rare Oriental Rugs" (Novell), "Master Weavings from Heart's Delight Land", and a photo of "Old North Church" (Boston), etc.

A number of books relating to Genealogy were given to Newberry Library, such as "The Bishops of Winchester & London, Eng." (1907-by Stephens & Capes) - relating to At-Rev. Stephen Gardiner, Bishop of Winchester, England - of our Gardiner line in the McCalla Genealogy. Also the "Evangelical Repository" (1846-1851). To the Chicago Historical Society went "The Baltimore Book - Flag House Guide to Historic Landmarks about Baltimore" - which book contains Genealogical and other data on our Youngs who made the famous Flag, and on Francis Scott Key, who wrote the beloved "Star Spangled Banner" about it. These Youngs and Scotts are of the Young Section of The McCalla Genealogy. To the Society also went old lithographs, Stereoscopic Views, and Photos of early Chicago, as well as a photo of the famous "Vinegar Bible". To the Library of the Presbyterian Hospital went several books of general interest, such as "Ancient Mariner", "Poems You Ought to Know", "Recessional", etc.

CLUBS-SOCIETIES: Paul was a member of Olympia Lodge #864 of Master Masons, Chicago, having been "raised" in the historic St John's Lodge of Algiers, La (New Orleans suburb), and made up of Ship Captains and Seamen, whose Lodge is visited by so many Masons from other states. He was a member of The Adventurer's Club, of Chicago. He is a life member (7/22/1926) of the Illinois Society, Sons of the Revolution (#3-292), on original Application of his Father, Rev. Albert McCalla, Jr., with a new and amended Application covering Nathaniel McCalla, Sr., Captain William Young, Jr., and James M. Todd, 4th. This Application is again being Revised and enlarged for the Society in 1947.

Paul H. McCalla owns and is President of, The Calumet Advertising Co., of Chicago. He lived with his Parents and his sister, Miss Helen McCalla (H-125-61) for 35 years, in the old family home at 2316 Calumet Ave, until January 1944. He and his sister now (4/15/1947) live at 2320 Cottage Grove Ave (Apt 3) - (Phone CALumet 2075) - Chicago (16), Illinois.

Data Page on PAUL HAMILL McALLA:PAUL H. McALLA'S EXPERIENCES With WELLS FARGO & CO, EXPRESS.

Paul H. McCalla went to Phoenix, Arizona, for his health in 1904, upon leaving High School. At first he stayed on a ranch owned by the Wm.A.Giles family of Chicago, who were family friends, and later on a ranch owned by the Elliott Evans family of Philadelphia. On those ranches on the edge of the desert, he learned to shoot - from the hip - the abundant supply of Rattlesnakes found thereabouts. Later that winter, he was invited to work for Wells Fargo & Co, Express, under Capt. Thomas Connell - a widely known and respected figure of those Arizona days - and under Mr Mark Thompson, who was later (1933) Southern California Superintendent of the Railway Express Agency, in Los Angeles, Cal.

Paul was soon promoted to be an Express Messenger, and became an excellent shot with a Revolver by practicing hourly, daily and monthly shooting from the door of the moving Express car at Jackrabbits running near the train. He would break the ground under their feet just as they landed from a lope, thus giving them a "Hot Foot" - not harming the Jack, but most excellent practice. He was promoted to be a special "Money Messenger", delivering large $400,000. to $750,000. cash Payrolls to the big Copper and Gold Mines in various parts of Arizona. He never had a dime stolen from him, but 3 Messengers, one after the other, were shot to death in holdups in Peach Springs Canyon, near Kingman on the Santa Fe, while he was there, not to mention the big Stein's Pass holdup, in which 2 were killed, (a Messenger and a Deputy Sheriff), on the Southern Pacific at the Arizona-New Mexico border.

Paul took a 6 week's vacation trip of 600 miles by Horse-and-wagon from Phoenix to the Grand Canyon, with 4 other young men. This was a hard trip up the Black Canyon Trail, via Flagstaff and the San Francisco Mountains, to Bright Angel and return - with side visits to Cliff Dwellings, etc.

Paul was later given the additional promotion to be Assistant to the Superintendent, ("Route Agent"), Mr W.H.Colby, of the Arizona-New Mexico Division of Wells Fargo & Co, Express. This meant that in the event of a broken bridge, washout, wreck, etc, he would have charge of moving valuables, money shipments, etc, back or around the obstruction - and re-routing the traffic. This promotion came after he had taken valuables, etc, in a small 'Fargo safe across a very shaky, mile-long trestle, over the rampaging Gila River, South of Phoenix - on a handcar.

Paul's nickname among 'Fargo people, trainmen, etc, in Arizona was "Hell-on-Wheels", because of his quick shooting from the hip, without aiming. This name came because of an incident on a Santa Fe train between Phoenix and Ash Fork. A Mexican had climbed aboard the Express car steps, and in covering him with a Gun, and taking him back to the Smoking car, a small uproar started among the drunken "hard rock" Miners in the Smoker at seeing the Mexican covered with a Gun, and being told not to get on an Express car again. Several Miners became obstreperous, and the Conductor entered from the rear door just then. A tough Miner in a rear seat started to reach for his gun as he growled: "I'm goin' to take you apart to see what makes you tick!" Paul turned to him and barked: "You're going to W-H-A-T ? . . . Now that will be A-L-L from you!" - covering him instantly with his Gun. The Conductor jumped forward, grabbed the Miner by the arm and yelled: "Don't monkey with that kid! He's Hell on Wheels!" And so came the nickname.

Paul was also sometimes referred to as "that young Wildcat!" due to another incident. Paul's train passed another at the small mountain passing-track of Hillside, Arizona, and the Messenger on the other train gave Paul a distress signal. Paul ran over to the other train and Messenger Miles Crego said that his stomach ulcers were bothering him so much that he was sick - and that there were rumors that his train would be held up, as he was conveying a $600,000. Payroll, which Paul should have taken care of, except that he did not get back from a Payroll delivery in Eastern Arizona in time to get that money shipment. Paul offered to take Crego's train, or to "clean" (SEE OTHER SIDE). (7/11/1956).

the train - meaning to disarm every suspicious person. Paul then locked all the train doors, and with the Brakeman following to carry the guns, disarmed every tough-looking specimen who had a gun, causing the gun to be handed to him "bott" (or handle) foremost, and telling tough Passengers that "there will be NO holdup of this train". About 35 tough specimens were disarmed, and the Brakeman made 3 trips (2 1/2 armfulls) forward to the Express car to deposit the guns - while Paul was disarming the next spoiling-for-trouble Passenger. The Passengers got their guns back - minus the cartridges - at their own station later - and there was no holdup.

Paul, while in Arizona, occasionally wrote advertisements for some Merchant - just to keep his hand in practice - and he resigned and returned to Chicago on September 23th, 1906.

Data: (1924-4/15/1947-9/25/1954-7/11/1956) Paul Hamill McCalla, (The Compiler) (H-125-65), for 35 years living in the old family home at 2516 Calumet Ave-Chicago. In 1934-6 living at 3802 W.Chicago Ave, Chicago(51), Ill.

PAUL'S TWO GUNS NOW in a MUSEUM:

(On 8/11/1954, Paul H. McCalla sold his two Guns to the large Valley National Bank, of Phoenix, Arizona. These were his 30-30 Winchester) (Carbine - and his large 38 Colt Revolver, which he called "Old Moral Suasion," because tough Gents took one look at it, and then calmed down. Both Guns were carried by Paul during all his experiences as Money Messenger (1904-5-6) for Wells Fargo & Co, Express, in Arizona) (The Valley National Bank has placed them in their History Room or Museum in their large headquarters Bank in Phoenix, Arizona, where they will be on permanent display and in appreciative care. There they will be authentic and interesting symbols of the protection that 'Fargo stood for - reminders of the stirring and colorful saga of the West that was Wells Fargo. Paul was a part of that colorful history for 3 years.)

(For the Bank's records, Paul wrote 17 pages of recollections called "Fargo Man - Memories of Wells Fargo Days in Arizona." At their additional request, he also wrote 10 more pages called: "Further Adventures of 'Old Moral Suasion'." This latter story tells of his overland trip to the Grand Canyon - of his rounding-up of the German Spy Ring in Chicago, prior to World War I - of shooting Alligators and Snakes in the Louisiana Swamps - of trips to Central America, Etc, where he also used the Guns.)

(Mr Walter Reed Bimson, Chairman of the Board of the Valley Nat. Bank, who is quite an accurate shot himself, and Mr M. G. Roade, Director of Advertising and Publicity, are both much interested in having the two Guns on display in their History Room.)

(To start the display, the Guns were shown in the front window of the Phoenix Bank for 2 weeks. A spot-check count showed 20,000 persons viewed the Guns. They were also shown in 3 other branch Banks in other Arizona cities. The Guns were a source of interest and conversation among the viewers. Many persons commented to the Bank on the wonderful historical value of the Guns.)

PAUL H. McALLA'S INTELLIGENCE WORK in WORLD WAR 1:

Paul H. McCalla, before the start of, and during World War 1, did much Volunteer Intelligence work as a Patriotic duty. He was never in any manner connected with any Department of the US Government, nor on the US Payroll, and all work done was on his own time, and wholly at his own expense. Also, this was before the formation of any voluntary Patriotic Intelligence organizations, and of course, long before the formation of our present splendid and highly effective F.B.I. Paul was assisted by several friends and relatives - and because of the damnable facts he turned up, secured the cooperation of the French and British Military Intelligence units in this country at the time of that War. Later, he also secured the cooperation of the US Army and Navy Intelligence, and the US Secret Service - altho Washington at first sent back haddening letters that "the US is not at war with the Imperial German Government."

Paul ferreted out complete information on the powerful and dangerous Tascher-Otto Gang of German Spies, who were operating under the German Foreign Office, (Ausziger Amt). This gang of Spies were noted especially for: (1) Buying up and controlling all supplies of T.N.T. - to keep it from the Allies. (2) Supplying corrupt Russian Purchasing Agents with phony blue prints of supposed Russian Shells, so that the shells would fit German guns, but not Russian guns. (3) Working to bring about the Russian collapse of World War 1, and foisting Communism on Russia and the world. (4) Establishing instant means of communicating thru to Holland - to German Spies who forwarded the messages into Germany.

William A. OTTO an elderly, stodgy man, had been deliberately planted here in Chicago some 2 years before World War 1 with all expenses paid, ready for the War to come. His office was in the old Counselman Bldg, (called the "Royal Insurance Bldg"), at the N-W corner of LaSalle & Jackson, opposite the Board of Trade, and where the Federal Reserve Bank now stands. This Otto had established a fictitious Hide-Leather-Wool business, and Paul discovered his method of handling all messages for this Spy Ring. He had established instantaneous methods of communicating to German Agents in Holland, and also to German Agents in England itself, through the use of the Northern Trust Co's private Foreign Exchange Cable. This wire went to their N.Y. Bank Correspondent, and then to London, with another private connecting cable to Holland - and was in the sole hands of the Banks every day during banking hours.

Otto ostensibly would be making a deposit at the Receiving Teller's cage in the Bank - a seemingly harmless proceeding. He would have a code message also in his bank book, and in handing this thru the window, would ask the Teller to pass the message thru his cage to the Foreign Exchange Operator, whose desk and telegraph key were immediately behind the Teller's cage. The Teller, and also the Operator, possibly suspecting nothing, had for a long time been putting these messages thru to N.Y., to England and Holland. The Operator would ask the N.Y. Bank Operator to plug him in on the Holland cable - and the message would be ticked thru absolutely unwatched and uncensored - and not even the N.Y. or London Operators would hear it. These messages concerned the mythical business supposedly conducted by the Tascher-Otto group. Thus, when a harmless-looking message such as: "Offer 2550 prime #1 hides at $15.40" was decoded, it meant something much more sinister.

The authorities were unable to discover how this group communicated so thoroughly, quickly and easily with Germany. Especially as Otto was smart enough to throw the authorities off the track by sending actual messages, not in code, over regular commercial wires. The authorities tried to decode these latter messages, but of course, there was nothing wrong with them. They were used merely to divert attention from the real messages, which were going over the Bank's private, unwatched cable to Europe.

The most vicious head of this group, and of all mid-West Espionage, was Carl Tascher, who was sent here shortly before the War started - after Otto had all the groundwork laid - and who was head Spy in Chicago for the German Ausziger Amt, (Foreign Office). He became ostensibly an Insurance salesman for the New England Life Insurance Co, and had established an ostensible office with them, and had cards printed bearing their name. For a time he also had a large office under another name, at the S-W corner of LaSalle & Washington Sts, where he conducted his nefarious business supposedly for the Russian Government, in supplying phony blue prints and specifications for Russian shells - which of course, were actually for German guns. This Tascher was of medium height, a hard, brilliant, missing type of chap, who was very successful. Thru corruption of Russian Purchasing Agents in the US, these phony blue prints were given to American manufacturers, who made and shipped the shells. Thru a similar Spy ring in corrupt Russia, the shells were treacherously piled near the front in certain spots, were captured by the Germans - and used in German guns.

Meanwhile, German Spies in N.Y. had held Trotsky and Lenin on the East Side of New York, had carefully trained them, held them in readiness - and then smuggled them abroad and into Russia. The lack of correct shells for Russian guns aided in the collapse of the Russian Army. And Trotsky and Lenin, with their Communistic work, which was backed, master-minded, financed and directed by German Spies and the Ausziger Amt, (Foreign Office), carried forward the Bolshevistic or Communistic Revolution, which utterly destroyed the Russian nation - and gave Communism as a present horrible menace to the world. This man Tascher directed the mid-West end of all this Hell-raising. Thus Paul was actually one of the very first Americans to fight against Bolshevism or Communism.

Tascher was also in charge of buying up all the Tri-Netro-Toluene, (TNT), which was obtainable primarily in the mid-West, or elsewhere in the US or in Canada. It was bought supposedly by Agents for the Allies, but was actually bought and held by the German Government, to prevent its use by the Allies.

In this Voluntary Intelligence work, Paul gradually obtained the full cooperation of the French and British Intelligence Units in the US. Paul, as a member of The Adventurer's Club of Chicago, came into contact with many English Army men, who arranged for their Intelligence Department to make representations at Washington. Capt. Gaston Berdonneau, of the French Army, and Hero of Verdun, was here training US Soldiers, and was given a card to the Club - and later he married Paul's Cousin, Edith Louise Dysart, (H-125-414). Thru him, Paul secured also the aid of the French Intelligence Unit. The US - at that time - was not at war with Germany, so Washington hesitated to act. But the French and English did act. Also, the US Army and Navy Intelligence, and later the US Secret Service, did give much help.

After Paul's evidence was all in, and presented to the various Intelligence services, and these Spies were supposed to be rounded up and shipped back to Germany - Tascher and Otto, and also a lesser Spy named Broome, and the others were supposed to be under constant surveillance by US Intelligence men, Paul had two nasty little boomerangs from these Spies. The first instance was that the US men, on Washington's orders, wished Paul to go unarmed, and supposedly innocent of any knowlege against them, to the Tascher-Otto office in the Counselman Building, and ask them some innocent questions - long since forgotten. This looked like sure trouble.

But at The Adventurer's Club, Major Burt W. Phillips, of the US Army said: "Paul, you go - and I'll be right outside the door - and all I ask is just one shot at that  Tascher!" So it was arranged that Paul should go alone and unarmed, but that Burt and Col. Lee A. McCalla, (H-125-64) - both dead shots - should be just outside the door. Various Army and Navy Intelligence men should be in the building, in the elevators and on stairways, and a group of 15 or 20 patriotic Volunteers from the Chicago Police Dept. were stationed at the doors of the building, and on various floors. They were also the crack shots of the Police Dept. So Paul went, asked his questions, but Tascher suspected something - and never made a sudden move. Paul still remembers that afterwards, as he left the building, how those grinning Cops shook his hand, pounded him on the back, and congratulated him for coming thru safely. He had the backing of many patriotic dead-shots.

The other incident has caused Paul to wonder many times as to the whereabouts of the Secret Service men who were supposed to be "tailing" Tascher just before he was arrested - to keep him from escaping. Paul met Tascher on the Dearborn St. steps of what is now the old Postoffice. The Federal men had said that Tascher could no longer communicate, yet he was tearing open a Special Delivery letter - which presumably he had just taken from one of the Lock Boxes these Spies kept at the Postoffice.

When he saw Paul he gave a start, and snarled a bit of bitter hate at Paul saying: "You Americans of old families can't be bought, and you can't be bribed, and you can't be bluffed!" Then realizing that he was about to be shipped back to Germany, he snarled: "If I ever come back to this country again, I'll cut your  Blinky-blanked heart out!" This Tascher, and Otto, and Broome, and the others from Chicago were shipped back with Ambassador von Bernstorff to Germany - a total of 125 Spies. Paul is sure that Tascher did not mean it that way - but later Paul regarded these snarls as real compliments - and he is glad that Tascher found him not subject to bribes.

Also, Paul did some work in tracing the connection of these Chicago Spies with the New York Spies who were attaching time-bombs to the propellers of American ships, especially those carrying supplies to the Allies. This was an ingenious trick, and the time-bomb would explode 24 to 48 hours after the boat left port, and another vessel would be "sunk without trace." That N.Y. crowd did have connections with the Tascher-Otto Gang. However, Paul's two brothers, Captain Thomas, (H-125-62) and Colonel Lee, (H-125-64), did more tracing on the New York end.

General von Hockensen's son-in-law was stationed in Chicago, where he had charge of preparing articles on Germany's impregnability, and issuing propaganda and other forms of such poison gas. He was located in the building at 20 East Jackson Blvd, and Paul spent the entire night, aided by his patriotic Fraternity Brother, Arthur VanZandt Jennings, in searching this office for all the evidence that could be gathered. This Spy was also shipped back to Germany with Tascher, Otto, Broome, von Bernstorff and the others.

In various phases of this long, arduous, painstaking work, with all its "tailing", Paul was assisted by many others, among whom were: Captain Thomas C. McCalla (Deceased), (H-125-62), and Colonel Lee A. McCalla (Deceased), (H-125-64), who were brothers. Captain Gaston Berdonneau, then of the French Army and a Hero of Verdun, and a member of the French Military Mission - who also married Paul's Cousin, Edith Louise Dysart, (H-125-414), and who later lived in Paris. He helped secure the aid of the French Military Intelligence. Major Burt W. Phillips, of the US Army, (Deceased), who later retired and lived in Long Beach, California, until his death.

Arthur VanZandt Jennings, (Deceased), who gave much help, and who was a patriotic Fraternity Brother of Paul's, and was Chicago District Sales Manager for the Marion (Indiana) Paper Box Co. Dr George Cooke-Adams, MD, (Deceased), member of The Adventurer's Club and prominent in British-American Societies, and who helped secure the aid of the British Military Intelligence. His Widow in 1954 was President of the British Old People's Home in Riverside, Illinois, (Chicago suburb).

Dr Hal Nelson Orr, DLS, (Deceased), of The Adventurer's Club, who served later in World War I, and afterward settled in Paris, but died in Chicago. Also other members of The Adventurer's Club, who aided in securing the help of the British, French and American Intelligence Units. Mr Ainslie Y. Sawyer, Vice-President of the Ryerson Steel & Iron Co, (a Division of Inland Steel Co) of Chicago - in 1954-56 retired and living in Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colorado. Mr George A. ("Bud") Seaverns, 2nd, an Insurance man with Marsh & McManran Co, and who lives in Lake Forest, Illinois, (Chicago suburb).

Data: (1924-4/15/1947-9/25/1954-7/11/1956) Paul Hamill McCalla (The Compiler), (H-125-65), for 55 years living in the old family home at 2316 Calumet Ave. In 1954-56 living at 3802 W. Chicago Ave, Chicago, (51), Illinois.

OTHER NOTES on GERMAN SPIES:

Carl Tascher, the Chief Spy, also spelled his name as "Clarence E. Tascher" and one of his cards for the New England Life Insurance Co. spelled it this latter way. One of his cards, which I still have, reads: "Clarence E. Tascher, 301-4 Chicago Street, (which is the S.W. corner of Washington & LaSalle Sts), and here the telephone number of: "Telephone Franklin 810, The New England". On this card he had written for me, in thin-line, feminine hand: "Compliments of" just above his printed name. He then lived at "The Monticello," 4365 Oakwald Ave, (Telephone Oakland 8877).

It will be noted that several of these Spies, (except Otto), Anglicized their names, so as to sound less Germanic here in America.

William A. Otto had his office at 807 "Royal Insurance Bldg"; (this was the (Counselman Bldg, N-W corner LaSalle & Jackson, where the Federal Reserve (Bank now stands). Otto's office telephone was Wabash 1447, and his home telephone was Kenwood 5134.

William R. Frasher, another of these Spies, lived at 923 Sheridan Road, and his home telephone was Wellington 9657. He had an ostensible office with The Bigelow Co, 321 St John's Court, and his telephone was Monroe 1659.

F. W. Short, still another of these Spies, had an ostensible office at 515 Lumber Exchange, and the telephone was Randolph 3496. He lived at 11354 Church St, on the far South Side, and his phone was Beverly 1904.

Broome, was a Spy who made his headquarters in Otto's office. He liked to play around with the Ladies - strictly sub-rosa, so as not to attract attention.

PAUL H. McALLA and THE CALUMET ADVERTISING COMPANY:

Paul H. McCall, in 1911, resigned as Sales Promotion Manager, and Asst-Adv. Mgr. of The Cable Co., (and its Retail Chain Store Division, The Cable Piano Co.), to become an independent Advertising man, owning and operating The Calumet Advertising Agency. He had started with The Cable Co. in 1909, and they were a 60 million dollar organization, (in later years referred to as) ("The General Motors Co. of the Piano business"), owning The Mason & Hamlin Co., (Pianos), of Boston, as one of its several Divisions. Paul had started Advertising work in 1902, while he was in High School. He had worked after school and on Saturdays, as Adv. Mgr. of a small Manufacturer, and had also earned a few dollars writing Advertising for various Merchants while soliciting Advertising for the High School Paper, of which he was Business Manager. He had also written a few Advs. for Merchants in Phoenix, Ariz, while there (1904-1906) for his health. In 1911, when leaving The Cable Co, he had opened an office at 1160 Old Colony Bldg., (405 So. Dearborn St. & 37 W. Van Buren St, corner of Van Buren & Dearborn Sts) (Phone Harrison 4247), in which location he remained for many years. Later, in 1913, he incorporated this Agency as The Calumet Advertising Company, an Illinois Corporation, and was President and principal owner.

Paul, upon resigning from The Cable Co, took their account with him as his first principal account. For The Cable Co, his Advertising had resulted in excellent sales of Pianos - which attracted the friendly attention of the Executives and Officers. Also, he had originated the selling plans and Advertising for their "101 Best Songs," and solely thru Mail Order Advertising, had caused it to become the greatest selling Song Book in the world, without Salesmen or Dealers. For years he held sales to the million-a-year mark, with a total of 10 million copies sold by mail - a world record. Others of their books were also sold, such as "Beginner's Songs," "Favorite Songs" (Catholic), "Everyday Songs," and their very noted "101 Famous Poems."

Paul, soon after starting independently, and with the helpful aid of various kind and friendly officials of The Cable Co, secured the Advertising account of The Vulcanite Roofing Co, of Chicago, (who then owned 9 factories). Vulcanite then was the largest exclusive mfr. of Prepared Roofing and Asphalt Shingles, and Mr Robert Glendenning was President, Mr John Logan was Vice-President, and Mr Thompson was Comptroller. Later, at one time or another, Paul handled the Advertising of nearly all the Roofing mfrs. of the Chicago district, including the Amalgamated Rfg. Co, (Mr Thomas Milligan, Prest), The Lehon Co, (makers of the famous "Mulehide" Roofing) (Mr Edward Leonard, Prest. (and Mr Tom Lehon, V-P), and he also handled a campaign for the Logan-Long Co, (of which Mr John Logan, Sr, who had resigned from Vulcanite, was President). Also, for a time, Paul handled the Western Farm Paper Advertising for Bird & Son, of East Walpole, Mass, (Boston suburb), makers of the famous "Naponset" Roofing, under their Mr Philip R. Allen, Prest, and Mr Hurd, a Director.

Paul, with the aid of Mr Robert Glendenning of Vulcanite, was able to secure the Advertising of the Prepared Roofing Assn, made up of nearly all the Prepared Roofing mfrs, and backed by certain oil companies who sold Asphalt residue to the Roofing mfrs. Mr Lowell F. Lindley, then representing the Gulf Oil Co. for the Mellon interests of Pittsburgh, and later President of The Raven Mining Co, Chicago & Roosevelt, Utah, (miners of hard Asphalt), was Secretary of the Association. Important members included such firms as The Barrett Co, (Mr Ralph Esau, General Western Sales Mfr), and all of the larger makers of Roofing. Paul introduced Asphalt Shingles to the American public, and the reader can look on any sloping roof and see how well that job was done. The Trade Mark and Slogan he originated, imprinted on an Asphalt Shingle Roof, over a map of the US - "Destined to Roof the Nation's Homes" - has certainly come true.

Paul, during the Depression of 1929-1930, wrote a very large and very successful Sales Promotion Campaign for The Lehon Co, makers of "Mule Hide" Roofing, of Chicago - which Company was owned by Stockyards interests, and of which Mr Edward Leonard was President, and Mr Tom Lehon was Vice-President. This Campaign was run at the very hardest possible time during a serious Depression. However, it secured 650 new dealers, and to them alone, (not counting sales to their regular Dealers), sold during the first year, 1465 carloads of Roofing and Asphalt Shingles. Lehon was one of the very few Companies that went back to a 3-shift basis in its big plant - during that Depression.

Paul also originated the first teaching of Dancing by Mail for the Peake School of Dancing, Chicago. For Mr Peake, he wrote the courses, with Mr Peake's assistance on the technical points, and wrote and placed all Advertising - and originated the use of outline footprints and black footprints to indicate left or right foot, etc. This system of Dance Instruction by Mail was afterwards pirated by Mr Arthur Murray, of N.Y, who secured much information from Mr Peake in an incautious moment. For Mr Peake, Paul secured by mail and solely thru Advertising, sales of way over 60,000 courses at $3. each - in addition to a large number of supplementary courses.

Paul, for many years, handled all the Advertising of the Kuh, Nathan & Fischer Co, large makers of Men's Clothing in Chicago, under Mr Maurice L. Ash, Secretary and Sales Director. In addition to all Magazine-Newspaper-Trade Paper Advertising, he also prepared two Style Books each year, two large books of Advertising for Dealers, wrote all Sales Promotion matter - and purchased $35,000. worth of Style Art Work, in addition to regular Art Work, each year.

Paul, for Nahigian Bros, Inc, Oriental Rug Importers of Chicago, thru Mr Sarkis H. Nahigian, President, wrote a Rug Book and a campaign of Human Interest Advertising for the Newspapers, both of which had much to do with the enormous growth of this concern, who became the largest Rug Importers in the US, having out-distanced Marshall Field & Co, of Chicago, Tiffany, of New York, and all others, long since. The book, "Oriental Rugs in the Home," was written and published in 1913, and became a standard authority on Rugs, and found a welcome place in the Libraries of the wealthiest Connoisseurs in the Midwest. Originally sold for $1. and later for $2, it has in these latter years become an out-of-print Collector's Item, and such copies as can be found available are worth $25. each to Collectors. It is in many Libraries, and for some time was used in the University of Chicago, (English Dept), as a textbook on English. The book contains many notable 4-color plates on Rugs, one of which contains over 60 shades and tones of Red alone. Paul originated, designed and wrote the entire book, and supervised the making of the color plates. He did almost a year's research for the data about Rugs, being aided by many Armenian Rug experts.

Paul also handled the Advertising for "Corol", a rust preventive made in Chicago - and used extensively in World War I to protect guns, airplane engines, etc. This Company was secretly backed at that time, on a test basis, by the DuPont interests, thru their Mr Coleman DuPont. Paul also ran several secret test campaigns for the A.W. Shaw Co, Chicago, publishers of "System Magazine," and publishers of many business books. This was thru their Mr Virgil D. Angerman, (in 1958, publisher of "Science & Mechanics" Magazine), who is a sales-letter and circulation-promotion genius. The Shaw concern was a leader in advanced methods of business management, and Paul considered it quite an honor to be invited to work with them, and they in turn, were interested in Paul's tremendous sales of Song Books for The Cable Co - thru Advertising and Mail Order methods.

Paul also handled a campaign for the Soil Improvement Committee, to teach Farmers to fertilize Corn crops better. This was backed by the National Fertilizer Assn, and Chicago Board of Trade interests - and was managed by Samuel R. Guard, of "Prairie Farmer."

Paul also aided in starting a Boy's bi-monthly magazine called "The Country Boy" - which assisted the famous 4-H Farm Boy Club work. This was owned by Paul jointly with Mr Virgil D. Angerman, of "System Magazine," (which (concern afterward started "System on the Farm" Magazine), by Mr Samuel L. Guard, then operating the Soil Improvement Bureau, and Associate Editor of "Prairie Farmer," and who later bought the Elbert Hubbard Press, at Aurora, NY, and by a 4th Gentleman, who was Editor of The Breeder's Gazette. Paul supervised the sale of Advertising space, Mr Angerman supervised the circulation, which reached 60,000 per issue, and the other two helped on the Editorial content. It carried a large volume of Advertising and had a great reader interest, but as paper prices were continually rising, and as it demanded too much time from each member of the "firm," it was sold to "The Farm Journal," of Philadelphia, who incorporated it as a section of their great publication.

Paul, largely as a result of his work with A.W. Shaw Co, aided in writing a successful series of Collection Letters for business firms. He operated under the name of "The National Business Institute," which he owned, and sold these letters by mail at $3. per set. These were called the "7 Master Collection Letters" - but for good measure, the set contained double that, or 14 Letters. The Sales were very gratifying - all by the usual Mail Order methods - and thousands of sets were sold to the very largest and best-known Corporations in the US. A prominent LaSalle St. Banker said: "Your list of buyers looks like a Preferred List from Dun's & Bradstreet's."
